Nixon Reaffirms He Will Not Step Down

President May Meet Watergate Panelists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon, under questioning by 75 Republican congressmen, reaffirmed today that he would not resign or submit voluntarily to impeachment.

As part of his new strategy to meet criticism "head-on" of his handling of Watergate, some congressmen said Nixon offered to meet with Chairman Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., and Vice Chairman Howard H. Baker, R-Tenn., of the Senate Watergate committee.

Ervin quickly rejected any such limited session. The committee asked Nixon yesterday for a meeting with the full committee and Ervin told reporters, "I'm not going to the White House without the entire committee."

The reported Nixon offer to meet with Ervin and Baker only was disputed by another of the participants in this morning's session. Rep. Louis Frey, Jr., R-Fla., said Nixon offered only to "supply them with the information that they want," with the method undetermined.

Some of the congressmen who attended the one-hour, 45-minute breakfast meeting with the President — his second in a series of White House question-and-answer sessions for every GOP member of Congress — the full seven-member panel. Some members, and others, have said Nixon should appear on Capitol Hill. Some of the congressmen at today's question-and-answer session said said Nixon promised further public actions to allay questions about Watergate.

There was no immediate word on who might have raised the resignation question at today's meeting, but Rep. Robert W. McClory, R-Ill., and Rep. Tom Railsback, R-Ill., both said the President vowed not to quit, saying to do so or to submit to impeachment would not be in the best interests of the nation or future presidents.

The Senate committee had asked Nixon for a meeting with the President told them an appearance there would be difficult but expressed willingness to meet with Ervin and Baker.

Another participant, Rep. LaMar Baker, R-Tenn., said, "I'm sure in my mind that he is willing to meet with Sens. Ervin and Baker and I did not get the impression that he would be unwilling to meet with the full committee under informal conditions."

Senator Baker, when asked about the reported Nixon offer, said he would give it "careful

Dismissal Fears In Corte Madera

Concern among Corte Madera employees over possible dismissals after three new councilmen are elected in December has been reported and candidates who participated in the recall have seen at least one attempt to lessen employees' fears fail.

A party sponsored by candidate Philip O. Sasso in late October was termed a "complete bust" by Sasso after only three of the 65 town employees invited showed up. Other candidates attending, all participants in the recall movement, were Jana Haehl, Joel Shawn, Larry P. Weingarth and George T. White.

"I heard, from sources which I will not divulge because I may possibly jeopardize someone, of serious fear among town employees," said Sasso.. "I decided it might be a good idea if the members of the recall or anyone that participated in the recall who was running for election might get together with any town employees that would care to attend a party at my house."

Weingarth confirmed employees' fears.

Apparently some concern remains among town employees even though the town manager, police information officer, assistant fire chief and zoning administrator either denied knowledge of any fear or said it has only been rumored that changes would be made.

"I think there is concern as to who the new council is going to be, what direction they will take and if there will be any changes that will affect town staff," Town Clerk Betty S. Behel said today.

Councilman Robert J. Flahive said there had been concern among employees but that much concern had been lessened by town employees getting to know all the candidates.

He said he sensed the concern last month and asked acting Town Mgr. Frank Bigley to meet with department heads about it.

Bigley said he told the department heads that Flahive had talked with candidates and that no candidate intends making changes. Flahive said he was acting on his own feelings and not at the request of candidates in asking Bigley to make the assurance.

Mrs. Haehl said the party was held rather than simply making a public statement denying the rumor because making such statements "lends some sort of credence" to the rumor.

"As far as I'm concerned none of the town staff has anything to fear from me unless they are not doing their job. And I'll determine that when I'm elected and not before," Sasso said.

He said candidates active in the recall were the only ones invited to attend the party.

Queen Weeps At Anne's Wedding

LONDON (UPI) — Princess Anne married a commoner captain in such splendor and joy today that her mother Queen Elizabath wept in public for the first time in 20 years on the throne.

The tall, slight princess and the tall, dark and handsome tank commander moved faultlessly through the Westminster Abbey pomp and circumstance and captured the hearts of onlookers and the tears of the queen in their happiness.

Anne smiled from the moment she spotted Capt. Mark Philips waiting at the end of the long blue carpet up the aisle alongside the Archbishop of Canterbury. The captain looked, smiled, grinned and — obedient as all the queen's men to the British way of things — bowed his head and bit his lip to preserve decorum.

But as they said their vows, the Queen broke. She had paled at the funeral of the Duke of Windsor, her beloved uncle. She had paled at the funeral of Sir Winston Churchill. A descendant of Richard the Lion-Hearted does not weep. But this monarch is a mother and the tears came.

The only daughter was going away from the palace and the queen blinked and touched her cheeks and did what any mother might.

A glittering congregation of 1,500, including 23 members of foreign royalty, smiled at the scene at tte altar, for it is rare that members of royal houses — or a tank commander for that matter — make open displays of affection.

But the 23-year-old princess and her 25-year-old husband, who but once kissed in public before they were engaged, had eyes only for each other throughout the ceremony conducted by Dr. Michael Ramsay, the Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of England, and other high church figures.

The tall, blonde Princess never looked prettier nor dark-haired Mark more handsome. The bride, who broke tradition to have her gown made by a house better known for ready-made clothes, wore a "princess line" dress of specially woven white silk with a high neck and Elizabethan sleeves edged with pearls and mirror jewels.

Her transparent shoulder train of silk net was embroidered with floral sprays of silk and silver thread embellished with pearls and mirror jewels. It was held in place by a magnificent tiara — something borrowed — from the collection of the Queen Mother.

Mark wore a scarlet and gold tunic with blue velvet collar and cuffs, tight blue trousers with a white stripe down each leg, boots, spurs and a sword.

After the simple 1662 service from the Book of Common Prayer, in which Anne promised to "obey" to the indignation of women's libbers, the couple walked arm in arm between the rows of guests to the door of the abbey, chatting and smiling all the way.

No one could remember a royal bride acting this joyous way at her wedding

A day that blazed a mile of pageantry from Buckingham Palace to the abbey brought tens of thousands of Britons into the sunny but chilly streets and took this nation's mind briefly off its energy and economic crisis — a state of emergency was declared Tuesday — opened with one of the most stirring sights left in the military world.

The Queen's bodyguard, swords drawn, breastplates and helmets gleaming, clattered their matched chargers into Buckingham Palace and trotted out again, escorting the Queen, Prince Charles, the heir to the throne — celebrating his 25th birthday today — and Prine Andrew.

Four carriages of British royalty followed her and then came Princess Anne, radiant and clutching her father's arm, in the romantically named Glass Coach.

The Queen arrived at the abbey to a fanfare specially composed by the master of the queen's music, Sir Arthur Bliss and played by army trumpeters.

Peace Agreement Exchanges Begin

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israel and Egypt agreed today at a meeting in the Egyptian desert to begin carrying out terms of the four-day-old cease-fire accord tomorrow. The first steps included an Israeli turnover of checkpoints on the Cairo-Suez road to be followed immediately by an exchange of prisoners of war.

Israeli officials hailed the agreement reached at Kilometer 101 on the Cairo-Suez Road as the first major breakthrough towards making the Middle East cease-fire work.

It followed an uncompromisingly stubborn statement yesterday by Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir who said "Israel will not budge from the Cairo-Suez highway. Not one gram of food and water will go through to Suez or to the 3rd Army if Israel does not get the prisoners back."

There also was a warning in the semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram that unless Israel lives up to the agreement "then there is no escaping a new conflagration to establish rights by fighting on the battlefield."

UPI Correspondent Richard C. Gross, reporting from the meeting site 62 miles from Cairo, said Finnish Maj. Gen. Ensio Siilasuvo, commander of the UN Emergency Force, announced that implementation of the pact will begin Thursday.

The prisoner exchange will begin at 8 a.m. (1 a.m. EST) with the wounded of both sides to be flown in International Red Cross planes between Tel Aviv and Cairo, Siilasuvo said.

Following that, supplies will be moved to the Egyptian 3rd Army, whose 20,000 men are encircled on the east bank of the Suez Canal, by way of Cairo. Supplies also will be sent to civilians and troops in Suez City, also encircled by Israeli troops.

Maj. Gen. Aharon Yariv, the chief Israeli negotiator, worked out the agreement in a three-hour meeting with Egyptian Lt. Gen. Mohammed Gemassy in the same tent on the cease-fire line where they signed the six-point truce agreement Sunday.

Siilasuvo said the agreement covered points three, four, five and six of the truce formula worked out by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Civic Center Gas Cut Threatened, Called Off

The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. today put county officials in a spin when first it informed them gas service to the Marin Civic Center would be stopped tomorrow and then canceled the order.

Donald Johnson, district manager for the company, said the order was cancelled at about 11 a.m. today — two hours after county officials were told their service would be interrupted tomorrow.

Johnson said he did not know why the cut in service was contemplated, since he was not involved in staff discussions, but said it probably was due to company projections of gas needs elsewhere tomorrow. He said cool weather has increased domestic demands.

According to County Administrator John F. Barrows, the cutoff, which would have lasted at least a day, would have forced the county to switch to diesel fuel. Civic Center boilers are equipped for conversion to such fuel, he said.

However, Barrows continued, the county has only 5,000 gallons of diesel fuel and may have difficulty getting more. The 5,000-gallon supply would last about 48 hours, he said.

The Civic Center, like Marin General Hospital and San Quentin Prison, is supplied gas on an interruptable basis, meaning the county pays cheaper rates during the year but is subject to temporary cutoffs at the discretion of the gas company.

Hub Youth Picks Out Assailants

After a 17-year-old San Anselmo youth coolly identified them as the men who fled an ice cream parlor and then shot him twice, two San Rafael men were bound over yesterday on two felony charges.

Raymond McFarland, 31, and James William Frisby, 24, were ordered to appear Monday in Marin Superior Court on charges of armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon.

During a preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge David R. Baty, high school student H. Eric Newlin told how he saw Frisby "acting suspiciously" in front of Swensen's Ice Cream at the Bon Aire Shopping Center Oct. 27.

Later, McFarland ran to a waiting car and the two sped down Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Newlin testified. He said he followed and got the license plate of their car, then stopped at the Hutchinson Quarry, east of Highway 101.

The other car pulled up, McFarland stepped from it, crouched and fired two shots through the windshield, one hitting him in the right chest, the other grazing his temple, Newlin said.

Newlin was able to drive back to the shopping center, where passersby summoned an ambulance and police.

Woman Faces Count On Recall Material

A Corte Madera woman was to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court today on charges she unlawfully distributed campaign material during the town's recall election.

Regina Brown of 14 Privateer Drive is charged with distributing a flyer which opposed the recall and was signed only by "Concerned Corte Maderans."

Peter C. Meyer, county elections officer, said the election code prohibits anyone from distributing campaign material which does not identify the distributor and the printer.

The misdemeanor charge could carry a six-month jail term and $500 fine.

Edward Torrico, deputy district attorney, said Mrs. Brown was seen distributing the material. "I don't think its extremely serious but it is a violation of the election code," he said.

Mrs. Brown's attorney, Richard H. Breiner of San Rafael, claimed other unsigned material had been distributed in recent elections and he called Mrs. Brown's case a "selective political prosecution" by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

Breiner claimed the election code is overly broad and violates Mrs. Brown's first amendment right to argue against ballot measures.

He said a San Diego court recently dismissed a similar case and ruled unconstitutional the statute requiring material to be signed.

The flyer Mrs. Brown is accused of distributing asks if Corte Maderans want their town to become a "center for high-density subsidized low and moderate income housing."

It strongly opposes the recall movement and asks residents not to let recall advocates "Berkeleyize Corte Madera."

US, China Agree To More Contact

TOKYO (UPI) — The United States and China today agreed to expand their liaison offices in Washington and Peking, exchange experts and artists and speed up trade in an acceleration of the momentum toward eventual establishment of diplomatic relations.

But their joint communique, issued here following the four-day visit of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to China, indicated the question of Taiwan remained the major stumbling block to establishing embassies in Washington and Peking.

Chinese leaders "reiterated that the normalization of relations between China and the United States can be realized only on the basis of confirming the principle of one China," the document said.

High ranking American officials said, however, that the Chinese statement represented a subtle advance which could lead to a possible breakthrough in the push to establish formal diplomatic relations.

They said it requires the United States to recognize the principle of "one China," a principle the two nations will explore for its delicate nuances. In talks between Kissinger and Premier Chou En-lai, officials said the slight shift in the Chinese approach "made no specific demands for any specific action."

Officials said the communique is a "surface statement" which they "expect and hope will permit a definite evolution toward normalization of relations."

There was speculation the United States and China may be able to finesse the question of Taiwan, home of the Nationalist Chinese government.

The number of US troops on Taiwan is progressively being reduced. Spokesmen said today 3,000 of the 9,000 men there now would be withdrawn by the end of the year.

"The two sides agreed that in present circumstances it is of particular importance to maintain frequent contact at authoritative levels in order to exchange views and, while not negotiating on behalf of third parties, to engage in concrete consultations of mutual concern," the communique said.

Both sides "noted with satisfaction" that their liaison offices, headed by Ambassadors David Bruce and Huang Chen, "are functioning smoothly." Both sides agreed "that the scope of the functions of the liaison offices should continue to be expanded."

The two countries also agreed to enlarge the number of new exchanges for the coming year among performing artists, journalists and scientists.

The communique said the two countries would "take measures to create conditions for further expansion of relations in the economic field.

"The two sides stated that they would continue their efforts to promote the normalization of relations between China and the United States on the basis of the Shanghai communique," according to the statement.

Officials said that all international problems were reviewed, including Vietnam where there has been a new flareup.

In an obvious reference to China's fears of a Soviet threat, the communique reiterated that no state "should seek hegemony in the Asia Pacific region or any other part of the world and that each is opposed to efforts by any other country or group of countries to establish such a hegemony."

American officials said that the question of air service between China and the United States was not discussed during Kissinger's visit.

Major Snag On Union, Ford Pact

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers yesterday said that 28,000 skilled workers at the Ford Motor Co. have rejected a tentative contract agreement by a nearly 4-to-1 margin. Some 157,000 production workers approved it, although the margin was not as large as in past ratification votes.

The union was expected to push back its Monday strike deadline for a new contract with General Motors following the Ford rejection.

It was the first time in UAW history that workers rejected an agreement worked out with one of the "Big Three" auto companies. There was still some dispute over whether the entire contract had been rejected.

The dispute erupted into violence late yesterday when a Ford worker was shot at a union hall in suburban Dearborn following a heated argument over the controversial settlement.

The wounded worker, William Harrell, 27, Ferndale, Mich., was listed in satisfactory condition at a hospital with a superficial wound in the buttock.

Detroit police arrested a UAW local official, David L. Mundy, near his home on a fugitive warrant. Mundy, chairman of a local unit at Ford's Michigan casting center in Flat Rock, was not charged and was released to the custody of his attorney.

Pricing System On Gold Is Abandoned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For the first time in five years, the United States today is free to sell gold from its government stockpile on the open market.

The opportunity follows a decision by the United States and six European nations to abandon the two-tier pricing system for gold.

Since March, 1968, the two-tier system has held the value of government gold to a relatively steady "official" price, now $42.22 an ounce, while allowing the free market price of gold to swing freely with supply and demand. Open market gold is now trading near $100 an ounce.

The decision to abandon the system was taken secretly this week at a meeting of central bankers in Basle, Switzerland, and announced here last night by Federal Reserve Board chairman Arthur F. Burns.

The two-tier system "no longer has any relevance to the actual world," Burns said. "We consider oursevles free to sell gold ..."

However, in obedience to an International Monetary Fund guideline, gold purchases by the United States are out as long as the free market price is above the $42.22 official price.

Governments hold about $45 billion in gold, about half the world supply. The threat that some of this might be dropped on the highly volatile free market could act to send prices plummeting.

On the other hand, economist Pierre A. Rinfret, an adviser to President Nixon, said the U.S. and European governments "now recognize that the true price of gold is $100 an ounce.

"By a stroke of the pen, the United States has increased the value of its gold reserves from $10 billion to $25 billion," Rinfret said.

Burns said any decision to sell gold would be made at a later date.

He stressed the action in no way changed the legal prohibition against gold ownership by American citizens except under government license for artistic or professional purposes.

First Maternity Leave Granted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Yvonne Braithwaite Burke has become the first member of Congress to be granted a maternity leave.

House speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., granted the 40-year-old California Democrat the leave which began Nov. 1.

Rep. Burke is at her Los Angeles home awaiting the birth of her first child. She plans to return to Congress when the second session convenes in January.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Wallace Challeng er

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — State Sen. Eugene McLain, a Huntsville attorney and developer, declared his candidacy today for governor of Alabama, locking him into a battle that could topple Gov. George C. Wallace from his traditional base of political power.

Reportedly packing a $1 million war chest, McLain lashed out at Wallace as a governor who has spent the last 10 years more interested in political campaigns than governing.

McLain said it "appears" Wallace, who has not declared his candidacy for reelection, wants to use the governorship of Alabama again in 1976 to launch himself into a presidential campaign.

BELFAST (UPI) — Irish Republican Army gunmen accidentally killed one Roman Catholic early today and wounded another in an assassination attempt that went wrong, the British Army said.

The killing raised the fatality toll in four years of strife among Northern Ireland's minority Catholics, majority Protestants and security forces to 902.

John Lundy, a 61-year-old Catholic, died in a hail of bullets when IRA gunmen in a passing car opened fire on a British observation post

Percy Feelers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., has launched a direct mail campaign to raise $90,000 to begin a possible drive for the 1976 GOP presidential nomination.

A letter soliciting contributions from $15 to $100 has been sent by Milton S. Eisenhower to 9,700 past Percy supporters, 90 per cent of them in Illinois.

Eisenhower, 74, is a brother of the late President Eisenhower and president emeritus of John Hopkins University.

Percy has not announced as a candidate but has set up an "exploratory committee" to help him determine if he should run.

Hits Innovation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For the second time in recent years, America's Roman Catholic bishops have refused to join their colleagues around the world in seeking permission to allow communicants to receive Holy Communion in the hand instead of on the tongue.

In a secret ballot made public yesterday, America's more than 200 active Catholic bishops rejected a move to put the liturgical innovation before the Vatican for approval. The vote was 121 opposed to the move, 113 in favor.

The bishops approved a resolution calling for a broad political solution to the Mideast conflict, which they said contains the "potential of wider war, even nuclear war."

Probe Question

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department will decide within the next month whether to seek a federal grand jury investigation of the slaying of four Kent State University students during a 1970 antiwar demonstration.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Stanley Pottinger said yesterday if he goes to a grand jury, "primary focus will be to get to the truth" of the noontime shooting by the Ohio National Guard during a demonstration against the U.S. "incursion" into Cambodia.

Tanker Hit

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist forces fired six rockets at a U.S. tanker carrying fuel to Saigon only hours after the government announced an austerity program to combat an expected fuel shortage, the Saigon command said today.

Spokesmen said the Communists hit the tanker, part of the worldwide Esso fleet, yesterday with a salvo of six Chinese-made B40 rocket grenades.

22 Acres Of Hillside Land Offered To Novato

The Novato City Council last night got word of an unexpected offer of 22 acres of hillside land, adjacent to the O'Hair property being acquired for park land.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown reported that the owner of the land, Dr. Jerome Fuchs of Huntington Park, Los Angeles County, has offered to donate the land, west of the O'Hair site at Novato Boulevard and Sutro Avenue if the city would obtain an appraisal of his parcel.

The entire parcel contains 30 acres and it was proposed that 22 be donated with the remaining eight acres along Novato Boulevard available to the city for purchase.

The council authorized an appraisal, estimated to cost $500, after City Atty. Clark M. Palmer reviews the proposal.

The council also introduced an ordinance to prezone the O'Hair property as agricultural with 10-acre lots and several small adjacent parcels for one-acre lots, but postponed prezoning of the Fuchs land.

After about a year of debate about the Woodlands Co. property, 66 acres along the north side of Olive Avenue, east of the city limits, the council introduced an ordinance to prezone the land for planned residential single-family development.

Neighboring residents petitioned last year for one-acre zoning on the land and last night George A. Amaroli of 11 Rebecca Way urged the council to set the density at 73 homes.

Councilmen didn't set a housing density, but under the proposed prezoning, the density could range from 35 to 125 homes.

The ordinance also calls for prezoning the Sisters of St. Joseph property, 34 acres at 460 Olive Avenue, for planned residential single-family and the Nunes property, 157 acres south of Olive Avenue and adjacent to the city limits for limited agricultural with 60-acre lots.

Councilman David Price Jones, a member of the law firm representing Woodlands, left the chambers during the discussion and vote.

The Novato City Council also:

INDUSTRIAL PARK — Returned to the planning commission a master plan by Ronald Antonioli for an eight-acre industrial park along Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, adjacent to the Los Robles Mobile Home Park. Attorney Albert Bianchi, representing Antonioli, said one of the objections to the plan, the threat of an access road through an adjacent wildlife sanctuary, had been eliminated. Antonioli had appealed commission denial, but since the plan has been changed since then, it was sent back to the commission for another review.

MISSION ESTATES — Introduced an ordinance to adopt the master plan for mission Terrace Estates, a 30-unit subdivision, on 10.5 acres along Eucalyptus Road, south of Center Road, planned by Kaehler-Timmer Development Co.

SECRETARY — After a closed session to consider hiring the planning commission secretary as a part-time city employee, voted to continue the job under contract and raised the salary from $3.50 to $4 an hour.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned until 8 p.m. next Tuesday at Novato Community House.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

12:22 p.m., Novato — Car fire in 1968 Ford Station Wagon at 745 Wilson Avenue caused by backfire through carburetor; fire extinguished by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. employees; $300 damage to engine in car belonging to Mary Weber of 25 Kristy Court.

1:10 p.m., Mill Valley — Truck fire caused by flooded carburetor in truck on Miller Avenue by Tamalpais High School football field; $150 damage to engine of truck belonging to Christensen Frozen Foods of Santa Clara.

3:56 p.m., Corte Madera — Six gas meters blew up at the Medical Dental Building at 81 Casa Buena Drive; some fire in broken mains; gas shut off.

San Rafael Woman Dies At Hospital

Fidarma Ann Stuart, 51, of San Rafael, died yesterday in the emergency room at Marin General Hospital, where she was rushed after being found at her home with a plastic bag, which had been attached to a gas line, over her head.

Coroner's Investigator Keith C. Craig said Mrs. Stuart was found collapsed on the kitchen floor of her home at 116 Villa Avenue after a concerned friend called police. Police said she apparently had cut a gas pipe to the kitchen stove, attached a rubber hose to it and fixed the hose to a plastic bag which was tied around her neck.

She was still alive when police found her about 1:45 p.m. but died of asphyxiation at about 2:25 p.m., Craig said.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Another Key Energy Bill Sent To Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate passed today and sent to the White House a bill requiring President Nixon to allocate crude oil and petroleum products so that the neediest users will get what they need during the energy crisis.

It was the second major energy bill that Congress has sent to Nixon in two days. Authorization for the Alaska pipeline won final congressional approval yesterday.

The bill requires the President to prepare and publish priorities for the allocation and distribution of fuels which are or may be in short supply and then implement the program to protect the public welfare, maintain public services and essential agricultural operations and provide equitable distribution.

The bill, approved by the House yesterday, covers crude oil, residual fuel oil and other refined petroleum products. Previous bills gave Nixon discretionary authority to impose mandatory allocations but he used it only for propane gas and middle distillate fuels.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., called the enactment of the bill "the highest urgency" and added "there seems no way to avoid a degree of personal hardship, which, a few months ago, seemed almost unthinkable."

Rep. Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass., pressed John A. Love, Nixon's top energy adviser, for numbers of the federal team that will handle the emergency.

"How are you going to enforce a requirement that autos be tuned? How are you going to enforce slower speeds? How are you going to enforce that without a super-Gestapo? I'm just wondering how to do it," Macdonald said.

Prison Land Assured For Treatment Plant

The Ross Valley Sanitary District should have "no trouble" obtaining San Quentin Prison land for its proposed subregional sewage treatment plant, a state prison official said today.

Raymond K. Procunier, director of the Department of Corrections, said officials decided this morning the prison can spare the property needed for the facility.

"The district will need about 10 or 12 acres and we have some property available near San Quentin's west gate," he said. The land in question is a rocky hill on the Bay just east of the gate.

The tentative decision to turn over the prison land to the sanitary district came this morning following a meeting of Procunier and representatives of the City of Larkspur, the sanitary district and the Golden Gate Bridge District, and Assemblyman John Foran, D-San Francisco, who pledged support for the plan.

The final decision on the property transfer will have to be made by the Department of Corrections board and General Services Administration, but Procunier said he anticipates no problem in getting the approval.

"San Quentin needs major improvements to its sewage plant and a treatment facility is needed to serve the area," he said. "We think it would make sense to have a coordinated plant which would include San Quentin."

Procunier said he did not know whether the General Services Administration will sell the land to the district or work out some kind of trade arrangement.

The Department of Corrections is asking Ross Valley officials to prepare a detailed plan of the land they will need and its exact boundaries. Once that is submitted, Procunier said it should take "only a day or two" to obtain the approvals needed.

The Ross Valley Sanitary District had proposed to build the sewage plant, to handle sewage from throughout Central and Southern Marin, near its present plant opposite the bridge district's proposed ferry terminal.

That drew objections from several agencies, including the City of Larkspur, which would like to see development in the area around the terminal.

Subdivision Approved In Cotati

Plans for a four-lot subdivision on Cypress Avenue were approved last night by the Cotati Planning Commission.

Ben Oretsky received approval to subdivide his land at 8564-8570 Cypress Avenue. He was also granted a variance to reduce street width from 16 to 12 feet.

Both the variance and subdivision plan will be considered at the city council meeting Nov. 20 at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

The Cotati Planning Commission also:

CHURCH — Approved plans for an Assembly of God Church to be built at 810 East Cotati Avenue.

APARTMENTS — Approved plans by Wilber Klebe for 15-apartment units at 21 Williams Street.

SCHOOL — Granted a one-year permit renewal to Myschool Child Care Center, 768 East Cotati Avenue.

USED CARS — Granted a permit for a used car sales lot at 8020 Old Redwood Highway as requested by Carl Schollmann.

Food Firm Hit With Lawsuit

Imagine Emily Milano's surprise when she bit into a Stouffer's French crumb cake Aug. 9 and found not a soft, delectable middle but a metal fragment.

The 30-year-old pharmacist from Mill Valley filed a $100,000 damage suit yesterday, accusing Stouffer's and Safeway Stores of negligence.

San Rafael attorney A. Michael Casey said the fragment broke a tooth and cut Miss Milano's gums. He said the V-shaped piece of metal apparently was a part of the Stouffer assembly line.

The Marin Superior Court suit also asks damages for medical bills which have not yet been determined.

Miss Milano may have to have her tooth capped and some root canal work done, Casey said.

Bircher Claims Big Conspiracy

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — Charles R. Armour, western regional governor of the John Birch Society, says a national and worldwide conspiracy is underway to bring the world under a totalitarian government.

Armour said in a talk here Americans are being taught to fear global warfare with the Russians and as a result are being "conditioned to accept peace only on Communist terms."

He said he believes the Communist military threat, primarily from Russia, has been created by the U.S. government through financial and technological aid to the Soviet Union.

Murder Sentence For Hell's Angel

MARTINEZ (UPI) — Hell's Angel Paul F. Mumm, the son of a theology professor, has been sentenced to a year in prison on a charge of being an accessory to murder.

Superior Judge Samuel W. Hall yesterday sentenced Mumm, 27, to go to the Contra Costa County jail after he had pleaded guilty.

Mumm was also placed on probatio for a year during which he was ordered not to associate with members of the motorcycle gang.

The defendant was charged in the deaths of two cyclists whose bodies were found in a grave near Ukiah. They had been killed in a Hell's Angel clubhouse in El Sobrante.

Mumm's father teaches at the Pacific Lutheran Seminary in Berkeley.

Wilbur Mills Back In Capitol Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Ways and Means chairman Wilbur Mills returned to work at his office following an operation on his back and said he feels "pretty fine."

Mills underwent surgery Aug. 31 to correct a ruptured disc in his back. He returned to his office yesterday.

NIXON

thought." He added, "Beyond that I just don't know."

Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., said the President pledged to make public his tapes and other White House material bearing on Watergate provided Judge John J. Sirica gives the okay.

Quie said Nixon told the congressmen he would provide the material to Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski and then "as soon as he gets a release on the tapes and the information, he will also make this available to the public and everybody else but he has to wait for Judge Sirica to tell him what to do."

Besides this, participants said Nixon told them he planned more news conferences on live television to answer questions about Watergate and also planned to renew "three-on-one" television interviews he had with network commentators early in his White House tenure.

One congressman, who asked not to be identified, quoted Nixon as saying that while he was not going to resign, if he did the country "would be in very capable hands in (Rep. Gerald R.) Ford," if he is confirmed as vice president.

The congressman said Nixon told the lawmakers that his leaving office "would be bad for future administrations, because he is not guilty, and that for him to resign because the polls show he is unpopular would be inconsistent with our system."

McClory, a member of the House Judiciary Committee conducting an inquiry into impeachment, said Nixon "plans to resist impeachment, although he feels he wants to do whatever is best for the country. But he thinks it would be bad for the country to yield on any one of those moves" — impeachment or resignation.

Frey said Nixon conceded that "no man is indispensible, but if any man gives in to charges that are false, it will affect the entire system. He was adamant that the charges are not true and he is going to answer them in the near future."

Woman Reports Attack Try

A 42-year-old Novato woman reported last night that an unidentified man attempted to rape her and then stole her purse as she was walking home.

Novato police said the woman, who had just gotten off a commuter bus, was grabbed from behind by a man in a parking lot at the northeast corner of Grant Avenue and Fifth Street at 7:21 p.m.

She said the man put a knife at her throat, ordered her to disrobe, forced her into shubbery and then said, "I;m sorry I don't want to do this." He then fled with her purse containing $50.

She described the man as 23 to 25 years old, five feet eight inches, 140 pounds, with dark clothing and full beard.

Kin Of Bomber Crewmen Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Japanese businessman Mitsuaki Omata has come to the United States looking for the relatives of 11 Americans killed in a bomber crash at his father's farm in 1945.

His father buried the men on the farm and built a Buddhist shrine over their grave.

Now Omata wants to give a memorial ceramic plate, inscribed with his father's name, to the fliers' relatives — if he can find them.

Wakefield Case Taken Under Study

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The California Supreme Court has heard arguments and taken under advisement a Santa Barbara school integration lawsuit which may test the constitutionality of the Wakefield Amendment.

The amendment, approved by the voters last year as Proposition 21, prohibits assignment to particular schools because of race, creed or color.

Both the San Rafael and Petaluma boards of education will be affected by the ruling since they function as trustees of both elementary and high school districts.

Jack Gafney, of the Sonoma County Counsel's office attended yesterday's hearing and told the Petaluma board last night that a court decision should be handed down in January or February.

The American Civil Liberties Union told the court that the amendment "legislates the preservation of racial imbalance" and violates the state and U.S. constitutions.

The Santa Barbara school board, which brought the case on appeal, argued that the amendment was not applicable when Santa Barbara's school integration plan was approved.

A citizens' group which brought the case in lower court contended that the amendment invalidated the school board's plan. A trial judge agreed and threw out the plan, but the Supreme Court halted his order.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY
Natural Marin Beauty
for those who've loved our county

The beauty of Mount Tamalpais Cemetery is typically Marin. Here in a setting of soft, rolling hills and lovely vistas are Marin's native trees and shrubs, accented by beautiful lawns and flowers.
For over 90 years leading Marin families have chosen Mount Tamalpais as a final resting place. One good reason is the substantial endowment fund which assures the care and maintenance of this cemetery in the years ahead.
We invite your inspection of this peaceful site. Our staff is always ready to answer your questions and describe Mount Tamalpais facilities.

TOWER TO COMMAND THE SKYLINE

A new addition to the downtown Toronto skyline — the 1,805-foot Canadian National Tower — is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The tower will house radio, microwave and television broadcast facilities as well as an observation deck and restaurant. Visibility from the top will be 75 miles in all directions. (UPI Telephoto)

San Rafael, air quality yesterday:
Oxidants, clean air.
Nitrogen, clean air.
Carbon monoxide, clean air.
Smoke particles, clean air.
Other areas:
San Francisco, light air pollution.
San Jose, clean air.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources but the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

FORECASTS

San Francisco Bay Area: Rain likely beginning late today or early tonight and continuing on and off through tomorrow; high Tuesday in the upper 50s and low 60s; low tonight in the 50s; southerly winds increasing to 15 to 30 m.p.h. tonight; chance of rain 70 per cent tonight and 60 per cent tomorrow.

Sierra Nevada: Intermittent snow through tomorrow, heavy at times in the north beginning tonight; rain below about 4,000 feet in the north and 6,000 feet south; little temperature change; windy at times over northern ridges with blowing and drifting snow.

Napa and Sonoma Valleys: Rain likely beginning late today and continuing on and off through tomorrow; high tomorrow and low tonight at Santa Rosa 58 and 52; southerly winds 15 to 30 m.p.h.

Ban On Bay Dumping Of Waste Water Proposed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state's water quality board has recommended that discharge of municipal and industrial wastes into California bays be banned at the "earliest practicable date" except in the San Francisco Bay-Delta system.

In a proposed policy statement for management of bay and estuary water quality, the Water Resources Control Board yesterday also set down guidelines for deciding whether to permit wastes to be disposed in the San Francisco Bay-Delta system or the ocean.

The board announced it will hold hearings Jan. 14 in Sacramento and Jan. 24 in Los Angeles on the policy proposal.

The policy stated that the discharge of municipal wastes and industrial process waters, except for cooling water discharges, into bays and estuaries except for the San Francisco Bay system should be "phased out at the earliest practicable date." The discharges would have to be made into the ocean.

The proposal said exemption to the proposed policy could be obtained upon demonstration to the state board and regional water quality board that the wastewater in question would be treated to such a high level that its discharge would "enhance the quality of receiving waters above that which occur naturally."

For Bay-Delta system discharges, the proposal contained toxic limits for waters which would be allowed to receive wastes. A board spokesman said this provision would require an upgrading of waste treatment plants in the area or development of alternative disposal methods.

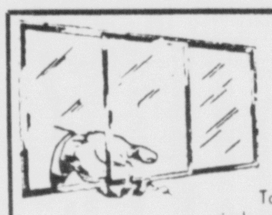

Silent Screen Actress Dies

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (UPI) — Lila Lee, a silent screen actress who co-starred with Rudolph Valentino in "Blood and Sand", died yesterday at Saranac Lake General Hospital. She was 68.

Hollywood gossip columnists of the era linked Miss Lee romantically with Valentino as well as Charlie Chaplin.

She made "Blood and Sand" with Valentino in 1922. Her first adult movie role was in Cecil B. DeMille's "Male and Female" in 1919. Before that she had performed as a child actress in the movies since the age of 13.

Miss Lee was a child star in vaudeville, having been discovered by Gus Edwards in Union City N.J., where she was born.

ALBERT SINDLINGER
Checks public mood

Consumer Confidence Said Ebbing

By MARTIN SKALA
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

SWARTHMORE, Pa. — Is the American consumer an inscrutable creature whose shifting moods defy rational analysis?

Or is he an economic "puppet" easily swayed by advertising and other Madison Avenue selling techniques?

These opposing viewpoints both "miss the boat," according to Albert Sindlinger, market researcher.

"Most of the time, the consumer acts rationally to protect his own self-interest. But he behaves differently at different times for different reasons," Sindlinger said.

Since last spring consumer confidence has been ebbing — a sure sign the economy is headed for a downturn, according to Sindlinger.

Consumer confidence has sagged to levels last seen during the trough of the 1969-70 recession, Sindlinger said. He contends that sales of durable goods, such as cars and appliances, which already have leveled off, soon will begin to fall.

"Consumers did a lot of hedge buying in anticipation of higher prices earlier this year. Now most of it has stopped, except for heaters and sweaters to keep warm this winter because of the fuel shortage," he said.

To ascertain the consumer's mood, Sindlinger and Co. zeros in on four basic factors in each of the more than 330 telephone interviews daily:

Family income now vs. six months ago, income now vs. six months ahead, job prospects in the resident's local area, and business conditions in the same area.

Interviewers are trained to boil down the often lengthy responses in the form of brief assessments.

The information is coded, and then run through a leased computer to derive a variety of attitudinal measures that are sold to more than 300 corporate and individual clients around the nation.

Sindlinger's studies have shown a strong correlation between changes in consumer mood and subsequent shifts in such key economic indicators as retail sales, interest rates, corporate profits, and the stock market.

Of more than 100 economic indicators his statisticians have examined, those most "strongly influenced" by changes in consumer confidence, Sindlinger said, are interest rates, corporate profits, and the stock market. The time lags between a rise or fall in consumer confidence and a corresponding change in a given indicator are "remarkably consistent," he contends. But the lag can vary from as little as eight weeks in the case of stock prices to as long as 14 months in the case of business spending for plant and equipment.

Annexation To Be Discussed

The merits of annexation by the City of San Rafael will be discussed by the San Rafael Meadows Improvement Association at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Civic Center.

City and county officials will appear at the meeting to answer questions, according to association publicist Fran Stach.

The group will also elect new officers.

Betsy Chapman To Give Concert

Folk singer and guitarist Betsy Chapman will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday at St. Anselm's Church at Bolinas and Shady Lane, San Anselmo.

The concert will include 30 songs, including 13 original compositions. More information is available from the church.

Fluoridation Of Water To Start Dec. 1

Beginning Dec. 1 residents of the Marin Municipal Water District will receive fluoridated water.

District voters approved a plan to add fluoride to water in November of 1972 and the program was originally scheduled to begin last spring.

But moves by anti-fluoridationists to block the program and problems in obtaining needed equipment caused a nine-month delay in getting the system operative.

District officials said the fluoride content of the water will be raised from its natural level of one-tenth of one part per million to an average of one part per million, the level recommended by the State Department of Public Health which will oversee the program.

Fluoride will be added to the water by special equipment at the Bon Tempe and San Geronimo treatment plants.

No Freedom For Man In Sex Attack

A Marin City man who admitted taking part in the multiple rape of a Waldo Point woman will not be released from jail for now, a Marin Superior Court judge has ruled.

David Barrow's probation officer had asked Judge E. Warren McGuire to release the 29-year-old man after serving less than half of his one-year sentence.

But McGuire refused, and instead worked out an arrangement by which Barrow will be released to a job during work hours and spend nights in jail.

Barrow had been on the work furlough program until Marin Sheriff's Deputies at the county honor farm sent him back to the Civic Center Jail, terming him uncooperative.

McGuire ordered him to remain at the central jail but to continue on work furlough.

Barrow, a maintenance man before his arrest, escaped a prison term only by agreeing to name three other men who repeatedly raped a 20-year-old woman in Marin City last December.

But the three have never been prosecuted because the victim was unable to identify them.

No Extra Time On Bad Check

Writing a $242 forged check in Marin will not cost 33-year-old George Brewster any more time in custody.

Brewster, serving three years in the Terminal Island federal prison in Los Angeles, was given a one-year sentence Monday by Marin Superior Court Judge Charles Read Best.

But Best said Brewster may fulfill his Marin obligation concurrently with the federal sentence he is serving for fraud.

Best also placed Brewster on three years' probation and ordered him to repay Vi's Drake Club in Fairfax for a $242 payroll check he admitted cashing in 1970.

Cat Fanciers Show Announced

The 22nd annual Cat Show sponsored by the Marin County Cat Fanciers will be Nov. 24 and 25 at the National Guard Armory in San Rafael.

Longhair specialties will be judged on Nov. 24 and shorthair specialties will be judged on Nov. 25. Household pets will be judged both days.

THE NIXONS JOIN PARTY

President and Mrs. Nixon paid a surprise visit last night at the 75th birthday celebration in Washington for Sen. Wallace F. Bennet, R-Utah. They lead a personal salute with the President at the piano and the First Lady keeping time and joining the President's birthday sing-along.

Open Space Building Ban Considered

Marin County supervisors agreed yesterday to consider a six-month building moratorium on lands planned for open space acquisition by the Santa Venetia County Service Area.

The board's action sets Dec. 4 for a public hearing on the matter, which would take four favorable votes to invoke.

Santa Venetia residents last week voted to tax themselves over the next 25 years to finance a $500,000 open space bond issue to purchase about 450-acres of wooded hillside on San Pedro Ridge.

The board's action yesterday means the moratorium hearing will be held before a hearing on a controversial master plan for 456 townhouses on about seven acres of the 256-acre Fierman property.

That master plan, submitted by Ronald and Jack Fierman of Philadelphia, was rejected Monday on a 3-to-3 vote by the county planning commission.

The Fierman property, — carried on the assessor's roll at $180,000 market value — is behind the Rafael Convalescent Hospital on North San Pedro Road and is a prime open space site being considered by residents.

In setting the Dec. 4 hearing, supervisors said they must consider whether a temporary halt in building proposals is justified while negotiations are held on land acquistion.

Expanded Honor Farm Wins Board Approval

Expansion of the sheriff's honor farm in Santa Venetia to accommodate up to 25 additional inmates was approved unanimously yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Besides providing more bed space at the recently opened facility, the improvements also will provide additional kitchen equipment, one cook, indoor recreation facilities and conference rooms.

Basically, the project calls for remodeling another old Army dormitory at the former Nike Missile site.

The improvements, expected to cost about $50,000, were requested by Ralph Merola of the county Department of Corrections, which is slated to take over operation of the honor farm in January. The improvements will increase inmate capacity from 70 to 95.

In a related action, supervisors approved a 10 per cent hike in the pay level of two correctional officer positions to serve as supervisors of seven other officers.

They will receive about $825 per month, while the others will receive about $750. Merola was turned down on his request they receive a 32 per cent hike.

Merola won expansion of the facility after presenting figures showing overcrowding of the county jail still exists on weekends. He was supported by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos.

County Administrator John F. Barrows opposed the midyear expansion, saying operation of the honor farm should be studied more before additional bed sapce is added.

He suggested reviving the county's contract with Sonoma County to take excess prisoners on weekends but the idea was rejected by supervisors who said the cost would be excessive.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

LIBRARY — Agreed to discuss with San Rafael officials the possibility of building a joint city-county library in the Terra Linda area. Supervisors agreed, however, they will not enter into any such agreement until a regional library is built in the Fairfax area.

MEETING — Set Dec. 17 at 8 p.m. for a special meeting with the Novato City Council to discuss the proposed growth control ordinance. The meeting has been tentatively agreed to be held in Novato.

BARGE — Heard a report from marina inspector Richard L. Larson that he has received an offer from an unnamed party to remove the Scott Diamond Barge beached off Strawberry Point. He said it would cost the county less than $1,000. The county has ordered nuisance abatement action if the barge isn't removed by Dec. 10.

ENERGY — Asked federal officials to exempt public transit systems from expected fuel rationing quotas. They also discussed ways the county could conserve energy but reached no decisions.

INVENTORY — Heard a report from county Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell that there are nine items of equipment — valued at about $320 — missing from the county's $2.5 million inventory for the fiscal year ending June 30.

STUDY — Approved a $1,400 appropriation for a federal study of county hiring practices to fill clerical, law enforcement, and fire fighting positions.

PROPERTY — Agreed to consider saving usable surplus county property in the future for low-income housing projects. Over the last 10 years, a county report said, only one parcel would have been usable for low-income housing.

BROCHURE — Approved a $3,325 appropriation for printing and mailing of about 100,000 copies of a county emergency plan brochure to local residents. The federal government will chip in another $3,325 to cover costs.

GUIDELINES — Adopted a series of guidelines prepared by the public works department to be used in deciding which school crossings in Marin should have adult traffic guards at county expense.

REZONING — Approved, on a 4-to-1 vote (Roumiguiere against), A-60 zoning for the council Oak Ranch in Hicks Valley. The ranch previously was zoned A-10 but was changed to the 60-acre lot designation because it is surrounded by active ranches. There was no protest.

INVERNESS — Approved rezoning a small residential lot at 12315 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Inverness to Commercial use. Patrick Hollern, who runs a pottery business at the location, requested the change.

Warning To Tiburon On Redevelop Plans

Marin County Supervisors yesterday warned the City of Tiburon not to plan an extensive downtown redevelopment project at the taxpayer's expense.

The warning came as county Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell reported that preliminary plans for the city's redevelopment area show more than $1.2 million would be lost by 13 taxing agencies in four years if the project proceeds unchecked.

Under state redevelopment law, all taxing agencies deriving property revenue from upgrading Tiburon's downtown area, since it is not blighted and has had a 17 per cent average increase in assessed valuation annually over the last four years.

lands in a redevelopment area would be deprived of the increase in tax yield that normally results from increases in assessed valuation.

For all those agencies (13 in Tiburon's case) assessed valuation would be frozen and all increased tax revenues attributable to higher assessed valuation would be diverted to finance redevelopment projects.

Mitchell said yesterday that if an agreement is worked out with Tiburon similar to that worked out this year with San Rafael then Tiburon could divert no more than $1.1 million over a long term.

Supervisors agreed and urged Tiburon officials to meet with a board committee of supervisors Michael Wornum and Gary T. Giacomini to discuss the city's plans.

Wornum told his colleagues he did not consider redevelopment to be a proper way of

Body Of 17th Victim Is Found

STOCKTON (UPI) — A youth whose body was found in a sleeping bag near Arizona's Superstition Mountain has been identified as the 17th victim of what Sheriff Michael Canlis says was a robbery-murder spree by two men.

Sheriff's deputies in Arizona's Pinal County made the identification yesterday of Steven A. Loughram, 18, of Browns Valley in Yuba County, Calif.

Douglas E. Gretzler, 22, of New York City and Willie L. Steelman, 28, of Lodi, Calif., are accused of the 17 slayings in California and Arizona and possibly another.

Centennial Office Open In City Hall

The San Rafael Centennial Committee has opened an office in room 202 of the city hall.

The office will be open daily, Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., announced Jean Kelly, centennial program chairman. It can be reached by telephone through the city hall switchboard.

Sewage More Pure?

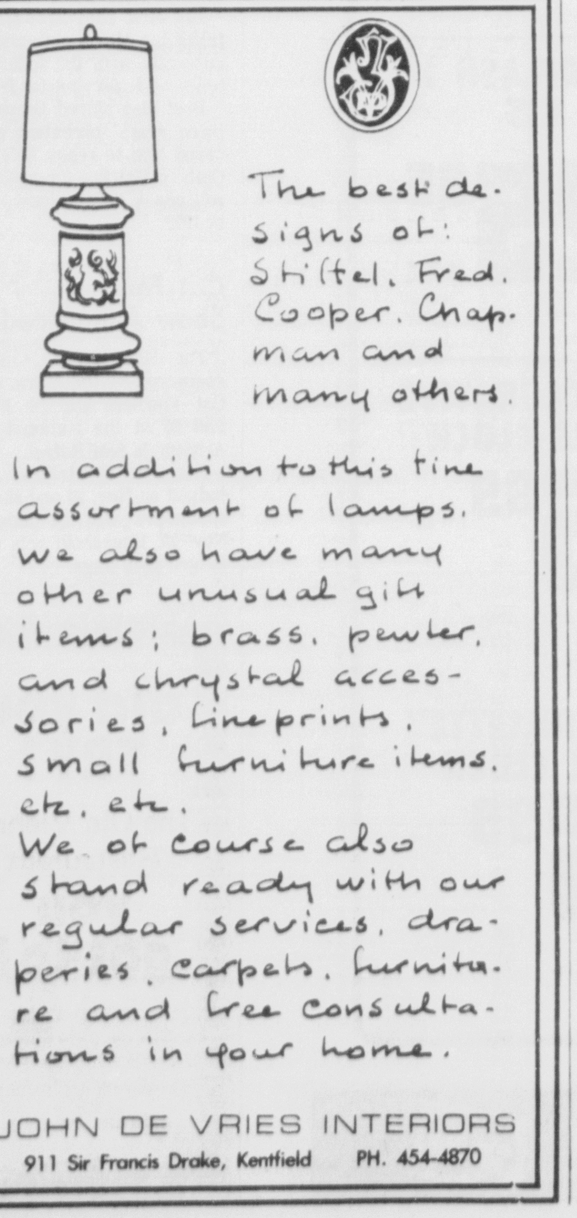

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sewage is reported to be 99 per cent pure water. Sea water, on the other hand, is only 96 per cent pure.

Novato Board Drops Plans For Base Land To House Offices

The Novato Unified School District board last night dropped a proposal that the district seek surplus land at Hamilton Air Force Base for administrative offices.

Trustee Betty Machado proposed that the district seek the space at the base for the offices, but other board members declined to take action, according to Annette Conklin, publications director.

The administrative offices are now housed in two buildings, one a portable, at the Marion School grounds.

Trustees, aside from Mrs. Machado, weren't convinced that the base, in the southern part of the district, would be the best location for the offices, Miss Conklin said.

The district has requested space at the base for a warehouse and bus maintenance area, now housed along Olive Avenue at a cost of $20,000 a year.

The majority of the board didn't want to have that request "watered down" by an additional request for office space, Miss Conklin said.

Novato United School District Board Also:

HUMAN AWARENESS — Postponed action on hiring a human awareness coordinator as requested by the human awareness committee until setting priorities on district needs.

GYMNASIUM — Received an estimate from architects Porter-Jensen and Partners that a new gymnasium at Hill Junior High School would cost $295,000 if started next June.

GIFTS — Received $47.50 for Rancho School from the Rancho Parent-Teacher Association; $1,365 for Lynwood School from the Lynwood P-TA; $95.25 for North Marin High School from the Novato Teen Club, and $200 for Marion School from the Marion P-TA.

CONTRACTS — Approved a contract with the University of California Field Service Center to evaluate state and federal educational projects at no cost to the district, and a contract with the superintendent of the China Lake School District, who is a lobbyist for federal funds for district serving pupils from federal installations, at a cost of $200.

NEXT MEETING — Set a special meeting on budget changes and review of board policy at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the Novato High School lecture hall.

Trustee Ronald D. Schenck was absent.

General Plan Hearing Set

The Petaluma City Council yesterday set a hearing on proposed changes in the general plan for Dec. 3 at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Ammendments to the plan reflect zoning changes made in preparing the environmental design plan and will bring conformancy to the two planning documents.

In other business, the council met in closed session to consider filling a vacancy on the planning commission, but made no decision.

"We've had good apple crops before, and we've had great apple crops, but we've never had one like this."

The 5,815 apple farmers of Washington State

When this year's crop of Golden Delicious hit its peak, it was all we could do to get them picked. But we did. And this year by far, it's the best crop we've ever had.

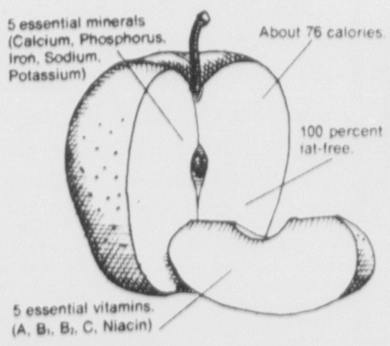

The 1973 Golden Delicious: Our best, our very best.

Hold a brand-new Golden Delicious up to the light and you'll see a skin the color of freshly drawn cream. Bite into one and you'll taste the crackly goodness of natural sugars. And talk about tender! Apples just don't come any more tender. And there's just enough crunch that you might get shushed at the dinner table.

Our bargain food.

This year with skyrocketing food prices, a bag of crisp Golden Delicious is one of the best bargains you can buy. And unlike a lot of bargain foods, you'll find Golden Delicious are not only good tasting, but good for you as well.

You get a health food in the bargain, too.

Study the little drawing, if you will. It shows almost all of what you get out of one typically tender Golden Delicious. Almost all, that is, except for the good taste and good times. When it comes right down to it, we just aren't sure whether to call our Golden Delicious a health food, a snack food or a before-you-go-to-bed food.

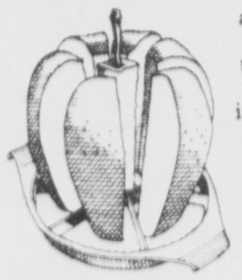

How about a dessert food?

Sure. The Europeans have been enjoying a dessert of apples, wine and cheese for a long time. Very healthful and very romantic. And just downright pleasant. You don't think you can have a European dessert with Washington apples? The Golden Delicious is the favorite apple of the French. And they're no amateurs.

We've got a slogan this year.

Our advertising agency suggested that we come up with a little slogan to capture the feel of Washington apples being part of an everyday lifestyle. To help out, one of their young, long-haired copywriters suggested the following: "Washington Apples. They're a great way to make a day." The reasoning being, no matter what you do during a day, an apple can make it a little better. And we can't argue with that.

A nice little slicer for you.

People have asked us where they can get the apple slicer we've shown in our television commercials. It seems no one could ever give them a decent answer. So rather than upset a lot of people who wanted this snazzy little stainless steel slicer, we figured maybe it would be a good idea if we bought a bunch of them and sold them at cost. No profit for us, but hopefully a lot of good will. So if you want a nice apple slicer, fill out the coupon below and mail it to us with $1.00, and we'll send you back a slicer. (Since Washington apples are a totally natural food, you don't even have to worry about sending in a box top.)

And a sales pitch for us.

Our story is very simple. There has never been a better, more delicious crop of Washington Golden Delicious in the stores before. Never. Which seems like a pretty good reason to stock up on these crisp beauties right now. Put 'em in your refrigerator, keep 'em chilled and there isn't a time, night or day, that a cold, crisp Golden Delicious won't be exactly what the name says. Delicious.

Our orchards are bare, and our cellars are full, so we'd sure like to sell you some apples.

Countdown For Friday's Skylab Launching Starts

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Countdown for the twice-delayed launch of the Skylab 3 crew on a 60-day record-breaking space voyage got under way today with officials confident the problem-plagued Saturn 1B booster rocket was in good condition.

The launch rocket got a top-to-bottom examination for structural deficiencies yesterday.

Skylab program manager William R. Schneider said, "We are committing to launch Friday" at 9:01 a.m. EST, but a final flight readiness review was scheduled for the booster today.

The countdown clock was started at 2:30 a.m. EST and preparations made to load almost 200,000 gallons of propellants into the rocket.

Astronauts Gerald P. Carr, Edward G. Gibson and William R. Pogue were supposed to take off last Saturday to fly to the eight-room orbiting space station on a mission that could last 85 days if all had gone well after eight weeks.

Cracks in the 22-story tall Saturn launch machine's eight tail fins forced postponement first until tomorrow, and then other cracks found in rods connecting the two rocket stages pushed the liftoff back another 24 hours.

The tail fins were replaced with a new set, but rocket manager Richard G. Smith said the second set of cracks, in the structural rods or beams, would not be patched.

"We are not planning any repairs on the beams," Smith said in a news briefing yesterday. "We haven't been able to determine any peculiarities in the history of the hardware specifically associated with this vehicle."

Schneider added that with bracing put over the vertical rods, "The vehicle has an adequate margin for safe flight."

Lights On Capitol Dome Doused To Save Energy

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, chairman of Gov. Ronald Reagan's fledgling Energy Policy Council, shut off the lights on the historic dome of the state Capitol yesterday to conserve power.

The action, similar to President Nixon's order to reduce lighting at the White House, demonstrated what Reinecke called the state administration's commitment to cut back on the use of electricity during the "energy crisis."

Ronald Neal, building manager of the Capitol, said it costs 50 cents an hour to illuminate the dome, Sacramento's most famous landmark which can be seen for miles at night.

The mini-ceremony capped Reinecke's announcement earlier in the day that the council of top Reagan advisers and cabinet members had recommended sweepino proposals to ease the "energy crisis" in California.

These included reducing the maximum 65 m.p.h. speed limit to 50, resuming offshore oil drilling, establishing year-round daylight saving time in California, relaxing clean air standards, and possible curtailment of business hours by industry.

"We are not playing games," Reinecke told a news conference. "This is not political oneupmanship. The crisis is here. It is real."

He called on Californians to eliminate all but "essential" travel to conserve fuel and said flights of the governor's jet airplane should be limited to those only absolutely necessary.

Reagan declined to endorse flatly rolling back the speed limit to 50 m.p.h., but told reporters, "This is one we have to give consideration."

Couturiere Schiaparelli Dies At 77

PARIS (UPI) — Elsa Schiaparelli, the high fashion designer of the 1930s and 40s and creator of Shocking perfume, died last night in her home after an illness of two months, her daughter announced today.

She was 77.

The couturiere, one of the great names in Paris design and grandmother of actress Marisa Barenson, was in a coma after a stroke in her house, off the Champs Elysee Boulevard.

Her daughter, the Marquesa Cacciapuoto Deigiuliano, said the designer will be buried Saturday in an antique Chinese dress the color of "shocking pink" -the cyclamen pink that she launched in the 1930s in her fashion house on the luxurious Place Vendome.

Schiaparelli's perfume Shocking, dispensed in a bottle shaped like a woman's body, has been one of the best selling perfumes of France.

The designer was listed in Who's Who as being born Sept. 10, 1896, but her daughter said, "Just forget her age. She never wanted anyone to know how old she was."

She said her mother had been ailing since suffering a stroke seven weeks ago and fell into a coma.

Schiaparelli is survived by the marquesa, her only child, and two granddaughters, Marisa Berenson, a cover girl model and film actress now in Paris, and Berry Berenson, wife of actor Anthony Perkins, currently in New York.

The marquesa said a memorial service will be held for the designer Dec. 1 in the St. Phillippe-du-Roule church in Paris.

Schiaparelli was born in Rome, daughter of a professor in Oriental languages. She married when she was young but divorced soon afterwards and moved to Paris where she became a friend of designer Paul Poiret.

No Draft Plans For The Future

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite an anticipated Army recruiting shortage of 15,000 to 20,000 volunteers by next June, the Pentagon has no plans to seek resumption of the draft, a top Pentagon official said today.

William K. Brehm, assistant defense secretary for manpower, told a news conference the Army missed its recruiting goals for the ninth consecutive month in October.

At the present rate, the Army's goal of having 792,000 soldiers in the fold by June would fall considerably short, Rehm said.

Sausalito's Open Space Plan Gets Little Support

By PAUL LIBERATORE

After some citizens hooted the proposed open space element of the Sausalito General Plan for being too ambitious, while others attacked it for not being ambitious enough, city councilmen last night sent the element back to the planning commission for further study.

A motion by Councilman Evert H. Heynneman to approve the element was defeated 3-2. Councilmen Stephen A. Fraser, Sally Stanford and Earl F. Dunphy opposed the measure. The council will consider the element again Dec. 4.

An audience of about 50 persons contained few supporters of the open space plan, which was produced by a citizens' committee and recently adopted by the planning commission.

Open space advocates said the element concentrated on preserving ridgelands but ignored the possible purchase by the city of precious waterfront areas.

Fraser supported that view, charging that consideration of central waterfront lands by the open space committee and planning commission was perfunctory.

Developer Edward Fitzsimmons led the outright opposition to the element, contending that no ridge areas proposed were particularly attractive, especially in light of high land cost.

Fitzsimmons, whose 160 acres on Wolfback Ridge are being considered for purchase by the Golden Gate National Recreation Area, also maintained that there is little pressure from citizens to buy open space.

He engaged in a fiery exchange with Mayor Robin Sweeny over the city's failure to give public notice when Rep. Phillip Burton, D-Fifth Dist., visited Sausalito Ridge areas two weeks ago and subsequently recommended the inclusion of 45.5 acres of hilltop in a bill revising boundaries for the national recreation area.

Mayor Sweeny said the visit was unexpected and that there was no time for public notice.

Fitzsimmons called her a liar and said she wrote Burton a letter before the visit, urging that the additional land be part of the park.

"You have committed this city to the federal government taking this property without consulting the people," he shouted at the mayor. "That is a misuse of public trust and power."

The mayor denied the charge and said she would make copies of the letter "and scatter them over the city to prove I'm not a liar."

In its present form, the element recommends that the city buy 66 acres, including land on the South Ridge, Cypress Ridge, the Glen area and two parcels at Martin Luther King School that may be declared surplus by the school district. Cost has been estimated at between $1.5 and $2 million.

"Fifty per cent of the audience is dubious about the purchase and most of the process by which this element was drafted," said Fraser.

Councilmen agreed that the planning commission should give consideration to including property in the central waterfront for open space.

The open space element must be adopted by Dec. 31 under state law.

Artificial Arm

MENLO PARK, Calif. (UPI) — Stanford Research Institute workers John Hill and Antony Sword estimate an artificial arm that allows a handicapped person to comb his hair, feed himself and scratch his back could be built for about $2,000.

Golden Gate Area Land Asked Excluded

Sausalito city councilmen last night followed the lead of planning commissioners and agreed that about 17 acres of ridgeland should not be taken for inclusion in the Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

The unanimous decision was preceded by a parade of property owners objecting that the national park would infringe on the privacy of their homes, break up their neighborhoods and prevent the building of houses several had planned for years.

The properties are located on the east and west of Highway 101 — and were recommended as part of the park to preserve "a view corridor" along the freeway.

An appeal by developer Edward Fitzsimmons that his 160 acres on Wolfback Ridge also should be left out was rejected by councilmen.

Helen Vander Male of the Wolfback Ridge Association, representing about 27 property owners, said a proposal by Rep. Phillip Burton, D-Fifth Dist., to expand the national park bounds would result in "fingers of the recreation area between our homes." She said homeowners did not object to the remaining area of Wolfback Ridge being included in the park.

The council will recommend that the federal government exclude 11 acres on Wolfback Ridge west of Highway 101 owned by nine landholders, and about three acres on the south ridge owned by five persons. Councilmen said that three acres in the Glen Grove area between Cypress and South Ridge and a one-third acre parcel west of the freeway near Sausalito Boulevard also should be left out.

The city council approved Burton's proposal that Cypress Ridge and a parcel owned by the state Highway Department be included in the recreation area.

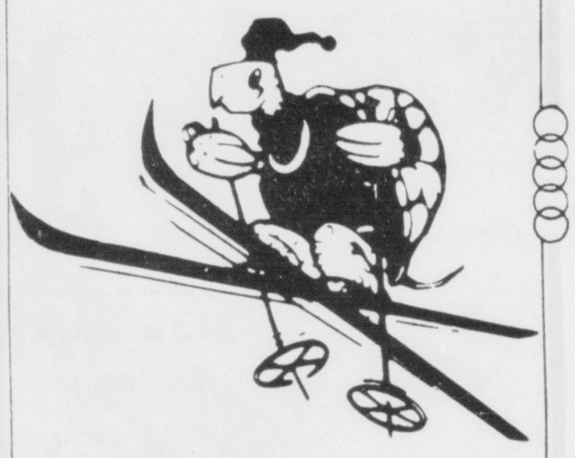

Planning Director Herb Case reported that Burton, notified of the planning commission recommendation Thursday, expressed disappointment that the green corridor along Highway 101 would not be included. He said the city action would make it harder for him to justify that the federal government buy the remaining areas on Cypress and South Ridge.

Some citizens said they feared the national park would bring hordes of visitors to Sausalito on weekends. Others said a decision on whether to include land that represents one-third of the city should be put to a vote of the people before it is handed to the federal government. Fitzsimmons claimed preventing the development of Wolfback Ridge would mean a huge loss of tax revenue for the city.

Get a check a month from our Annuity Plan.
No matter where you are.

If you're retired, or about to be, let us show you how one of our Annuity Plans can provide you regular, safe, maximum income. We'll mail you your check every month anywhere you want whether it's Tahoe or Timbuktu.

A Fidelity Annuity Plan has other definite advantages. Perhaps most important, you retain ownership and control of all your money. How your plan is organized is up to you. You can change it any time you want, make withdrawals just by filling out a slip. It's that simple.

And you don't have to worry about the possibility of losing money as often happens with stocks and bonds. Your money is always safe. Accounts are insured to $20,000 by an agency of the Federal Government. As for income, your money can earn the highest interest rate available. Interest is compounded daily so the return is considerable, more than that offered by many other types of investments, including insurance.

Call or come in and ask us what more our check-a-month Annuity Plan can do for you.

Agreement Set On Depot Landscaping

The Mill Valley City Council, impatient for the opening of the long vacant downtown bus depot, agreed last night that exterior landscaping should be the city's responsibility.

The council also decided that the new tenants of the depot, Mr. and Mrs. Lendon C. Ganey of San Rafael, will have to provide indoor access to the adjacent public restrooms.

The discussion of these questions included in the final lease for the combination sandwich shop and newspaper-magazine stand paved the way for what Ganey called "shooting for a Christmas opening."

The Ganeys, who own the Rafael Book Store in San Rafael, still have to sign the revised lease.

The city's architectural advisory committee request that the tenants provide a master plan on trees, benches and exterior improvements before interior improvements begin would cause "renegotiation and renegotiation" of the lease, said councilman Edward J. Boessenecker.

Ganey said he had no objections to councilman Robert E. Capron's statement that the lease "does not preclude the city from going down and doing something with the exterior."

Indoor restroom access, said City Mgr. William H. Cunningham, would "control a number of problems" the city has had in the past with the maintenance of the 24-hour restrooms.

Ganey had objected that two doors opening from inside would cut down on available space and cause disruption in the small building. His proposal of electronically powered outside doors that could be opened by inside controls, was rejected by the council.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

SEWER — Approved 4-to-0 with councilman Robert E. Burton absent, the plans for clearing up sewer infiltration on Miller Avenue at a cost of $8,500 and called for bid openings Nov. 29.

PARKING — Approved 4-to-0 an appeal of a planning commission rejection of a variance for R. V. Welczeck that would provide six instead of nine parking spaces for two office buildings at East Blithedale Avenue and Mountain View.

TAXIS — Approved 4-to-0 the first reading of an ordinance for taxi fare increases.

CROSSWALKS — Approved 4-to-0 crosswalks at West Blithedale and La Paloma, Camino Alto and Overhill, and Throckmorton and Corte Madera.

STOP — Approved 4-to-0 the installation of a stop sign at Throckmorton and Corte Madera making it a three-way intersection.

CONDOMINIUMS — Approved 4-to-0 the conversion of the Shelter Bay apartments to $35,000 to $40,000 range condominiums.

METERS — Continued to Nov. 19 a police department request to install two-hour and 50 cent all-day meters in the center island on Miller Avenue between Sunnyside Avenue and Vogue Cleaners.

LOT — Approved 4-to-0 a police department request to install 50 cent all-day meters in the lot behind Davood's restaurant and the installation of street lights in the lot.

PARALLEL — Approved 4-to-0 a police department request to change the diagonal parking on Sunnyside Avenue from East Blithedale to Miller to parallel parking.

STREETS — Accepted 4-to-0 the notice of slide work completion at 501 Tamalpais Avenue and 247 Marguerite Avenue, and the Upland-Stetson Street overlay and the Linden-Montford Street improvements.

SLIDES — Authorized by 4-to-0 an additional $4,862 to the $31,952 cost for repairing the slide area on Mirabel Avenue and an additional $2,600 to the $12,855 cost of slide repair work at 133 Tamalpais Avenue.

POWERS — Approved 4-to-0 an amendment to the joint powers agreement with the county that would form an advisory review agency to review public and private proposals on the County General Plan.

MEETING — Adjourned to Nov. 19 at 7:45 p.m. at City Hall and then met in closed session to discuss pending litigation.

Smoke-Belching Autos Facing Freeway Checks

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — There's a new smoke patrol on the Bay Area's freeways.

The 12-man, two-woman team is looking for cars and trucks which belch too much exhaust.

The team is part of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District and has the authority to issue citations for smog contributors.

The 14 patrolmen began their duties yesterday under a $350,000 budget from the State of California. They are using marked cruisers.

District director D. J. Callaghan said the patrolmen would augment the California Highway Patrol in citing cars that emit excessive smoke.

Callaghan explained his patrolmen would also run a radio license check on a car seen producing too much smoke for outstanding traffic warrants.

Callaghan said his officers would issue "normal court tickets" for smog violations.

Three Persons Hospitalized From Accident

Three persons were hospitalized yesterday after a car smashed broadside into a truck near 400 Red Hill Avenue.

Kenneth W. Tipton, 48, of Petaluma, driver of the car, was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital with facial cuts and bruises.

Paula A. Pierce, 15, of Petaluma, was reported in satisfactory condition in Novato General Hospital with a broken pelvis, and Kristina Bullock, 17, of 100 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, was reported in satisfactory condition in Kaiser Hospital with a hip injury. The two were passengers in the truck, driven by David E. Wright, 27, of 249 West Baltimore, Larkspur, who was treated at Kaiser for bruises.

Police said a car driven by Tipton was traveling about 50 miles per hour westbound on Red Hill Avenue at 10:38 p.m. yesterday when it smashed into the truck, which was turning into a gas station.

Credit Road Can Lead To Bankruptcy

By DAVID T. COOK
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

BOSTON — As the cost of living continues to climb, consumer-credit officials expect a sizeable jump in the number of Americans who buy their way to the brink of bankruptcy.

Post-Christmass bills combined with climbing consumer costs will "have a dramatic impact" on the number of citizens seeking a way out of serious debt short of declaring bankruptcy, says Robert Gibson, president of the National Foundation for Consumer Credit.

Consumers caught in a downpour of debt can find shelter at Consumer Credit Counseling Service (CCCS), a nonprofit network affiliated with the Consumer Credit Foundation, with offices in 39 states.

Though some clients ran up debts as a result of unexpected events, "catastrophe is second to mismanagement" as a cause of consumer debt problems, Gibson said.

People with debt problems are referred to local CCCS offices by creditors, unions, or employers, although clients can come without any such referral.

Analyzing the consumer's budget so he can raise his income or trim his expenses is one way CCCS offices try to help individuals out of debt.

"Using a credit card for buying lipstick at the drug store" is a trend CCCS does not recommend, Gibson said.

If an individual's debt backlog is so large he cannot meet all of his current payments despite budgeting assistance, CCCS sets up a debt-pooling scheme.

In debt pooling, an individual's creditors agree to accept a portion of what they are owed each month until the total debt has been paid.

Payments programs normally are designed to last 36 months. If a creditor refuses to cooperate and instead sues the consumer for nonpayment, CCCS will go into court in the consumer's defense.

Since consumers are not charged for assistance, creditors pay CCCS operating expenses. They are charged a fee, usually 10 per cent of what the consumer owes.

PG&E Granted Hike In Rates

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has been granted an $8.5 million annual rate hike in natural gas, amounting to an immediate 8-cent-a-month increase for the typical residential consumer.

The increase is meant to offset a hike in the price of gas delivered to the utility by El Paso Natural Gas Co., as of Nov. 2.

The increase, effective immediately, is subject to reduction and refund if offered by the Federal Power Commission.

MILL VALLEY FETE

Brandy Buffet Is Set For Holiday

A holiday brandy party for 30 has been planned by two Mill Valley couples for the upcoming season's entertainment. They feature a chicken liver pate, a smoked oyster dip, a shrimp butter spread and cheese dips around the bowl of Brandy Melba Punch.

The couples, Mr. and Mrs. James McManus and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vogelheim, share their party recipes:

BRANDY MELBA PUNCH

1 package (10 ounce) frozen raspberries
1 package (10 ounce) frozen sliced peaches
1 bottle (4/5 quart) brandy
1 cup bottled raspberry syrup
Ice
2 bottles (each 4/5 quart) sauterne or chablis wine
2 quart bottles sparkling water
1 (4/5 quart) bottle champagne

Turn raspberries and peaches into large punch bowl. Pour on brandy and raspberry syrup. Cover and chill until fruit is defrosted. Meanwhile chill remaining ingredients. When ready to serve, strain over ice into punch bowl. Add white wine. Gently stir in sparkling water and champagne just before serving. Makes about one and one-half gallons.

Reserve the brandied fruit to spoon over vanilla ice cream, pudding or pound cake. The fruit may be left in the punch, but the beverage will not be as clear.

THREE IN ONE CHEESE SPREAD

2 (8 ounce) packages cream cheese
½ cup butter
¼ cup brandy
1 tablespoon toasted sesame seeds
1 teaspoon coarsely ground pepper
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon dill weed
⅛ teaspoon basil, crumbled

Let cheese and butter stand at room temperature until softened. Beat together until well blended. Gradually blend in brandy. Shape in three blocks about two and one-half by four and one-half inches and chill. Shortly before serving, coat one with sesame seed, one with pepper, and the third with parsley, dill weed and basil mixed together. Serve with crisp crackers. Makes 30 servings.

CHICKEN LIVER PATE LOAF

1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
2 teaspoons brandy
1 cup chicken broth
1 pound soft butter
2 pounds chicken livers, cut in quarters.
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup brandy
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon thyme, crumbled
Dash allspice

Soften gelatin in two teaspoons brandy. Heat one-half cup broth, pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Turn into oiled loaf pan (8½ by 3½ by 2¾ inches) and chill until set. Meanwhile heat one and one-half tablespoons butter, and saute half the chicken livers and half the onion lightly, stirring occasionally until livers are no longer pink. Add two tablespoons brandy and flame. When flame dies out, add one quarter cup broth, and simmer five minutes. Turn out and repeat with remaining livers and onion.

Turn livers and their cooking liquid into blender, and blend smooth, adding about half the livers at a time. Add remaining butter and seasonings and blend well. Cool to lukewarm. Turn into loaf pan over clear gelatin layer. Chill firm. Loosen edges with small spatula and invert over serving plate to remove loaf. Makes about 30 servings.

SMOKED OYSTER DIP

1 can (3¾ ounce) smoked oysters
1 package (3 ounce) cream cheese, softened
1½ cups dairy sour cream
¼ cup brandy
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated lemon peel
¼ teaspoon dill weed

Drain oysters well. Pat on paper toweling. Chop coarsely. Beat softened cream cheese with sour cream until smooth. Stir in brandy and all remaining ingredients. Cover and chill. Makes about two-and-one-quarter cups.

SHRIMP BUTTER SPREAD

1 can (4½ ounce) peeled, deveined shrimps
½ cup soft butter
⅔ cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons brandy
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon chopped capers.

Rinse shrimp in cold water. Drain and chop shrimp. Beat butter, sour cream, brandy and shrimp together. Mix in parsley and capers. Cover and chill. Serve with crackers, melba toast or cocktail rye bread slices. Makes about one and three-quarter cups.

The two couples have offered to cater their party for the highest bidder in the Women's Club of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church Country Auction Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The women will wear French maid costumes, while one husband serves punch and the other provides piano music for the guests.

MRS. JAMES McManus (left) and Mrs. Paul Vogelheim of Mill Valley display the holiday brandy buffet party they have created for 30 guests. Their menu includes liver pate, smoked oyster dip, a shrimp butter spread and cheese spreads.

Beef Pot Roasts Provide Ample Servings For Family

Beef pot roasts provide plenty of satisfying eating for appetites sharpened by winter weather. To attain ease in serving, choose an arm pot roast and divide it into individual portions before cooking.

Where the new beef labeling is in effect, identifying an arm pot roast is easy.

Braising offers opportunity for interesting vegetable and seasoning combinations.

MINIATURE BEEF POT ROASTS

3 pound beef arm pot roast
3 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons cooking fat
1 beef bouillon cube
¼ cup hot water
2 whole acorn squash
8 small whole onions

Combine flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat in seasoned flour. Brown in cooking fat. Pour off drippings. Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water. Add to meat. Cover tightly and cook in a 325-degree oven for one and one-half hours.

Cut each squash into eighths and pare. Add squash and onions to meat. Cover tightly and continue cooking 30 minutes or until meat and vegetables are done.

HOMEMADE ROCKY road candy is created by Mrs. Richard DeTata (left) and Mrs. Juan Ferrer in the Ferrer kitchen in San Rafael. They are sharing family recipes for holiday candies which they will offer at the St. Raphael's Mothers Guild bazaar Sunday for I-J readers to try.

Samples Of Sunday's Holiday Fare

Family recipes for fudge, mints, toffee and milk chocolate candies are put to good use for the Candy Workshop at the St. Raphael's Mission Holiday Festival to be held Sunday at the parish school.

The St. Raphael's Mothers Guild again is using Mrs. Juan Ferrer's kitchen as headquarters for their candy creativity this week before the 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. bazaar Sunday.

This year they have consented to share some of their recipes and candymaking hints with readers:

PASTEL MINTS

1 slightly beaten egg white
Dash of salt
1 tsp. butter
1 Tbsp. cream (whipping)
1 pkg. powdered sugar
Mint flavoring

Mix all ingredients well, knead with hands until easy to form patties. Divide into three equal parts. Leave one part white, add green food coloring to one part, and pink food coloring to one part.

Form patties about one and a half inches round, set on waxed paper to dry. Yields about 50.

ST. RAPHAEL'S FAMOUS FUDGE

2½ cups sugar
Dash of salt
½ cube margarine or butter
1 jar or tub of marshmallow cream
¾ cup canned milk
10 oz. (only) chocolate chips
1 tsp. vanilla

Put first five ingredients into sauce pan (two-quart). Set on medium heat. Stir till all is blended well. Continue to stir till mixture comes to full boil.

Set timer for five minutes and stir slowly till time is up. Remove from heat — add 10 ounces of chips, a little at a time, folding in well each time. When all the chips are in and blended well — fold in vanilla and turn into buttered 9x9 square pan. Makes 56 pieces. Add walnut halves to top of fudge before cooling, if desired.

Cool for two or more hours before cutting.

SEA FOAM TOFFEE

½ tsp. salt
2 cups brown sugar
¾ cup white syrup
2 tsp. baking soda
1 large ungreased cookie sheet

Put salt, sugar and syrup to boil to hard crack (candy therm). Move from heat and stir in soda. Mixture will rise and foam. Pour on cookie sheet and let harden. (About one and a half hours). Crack and put in air tight jars.

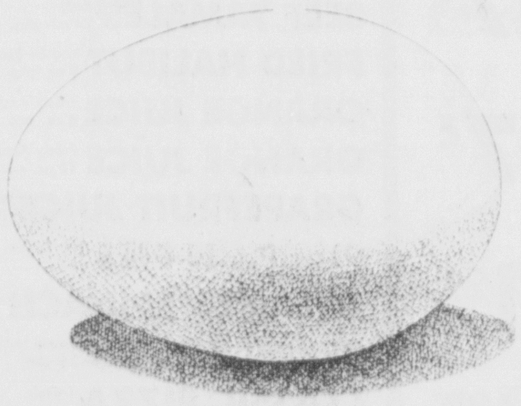

TURKISH DELIGHT

3 large pkg. gelatin (lemon, lime or orange)
⅛ tsp. salt
1 cup boiling water
1 Tbsp. juice (from lemon, lime or orange) depending on gelatin flavor
1 tsp. peel from lemon, lime or orange
Powdered sugar

Put gelatin into pan with salt, add boiling water. Boil five minutes. Stir in juice and peel.

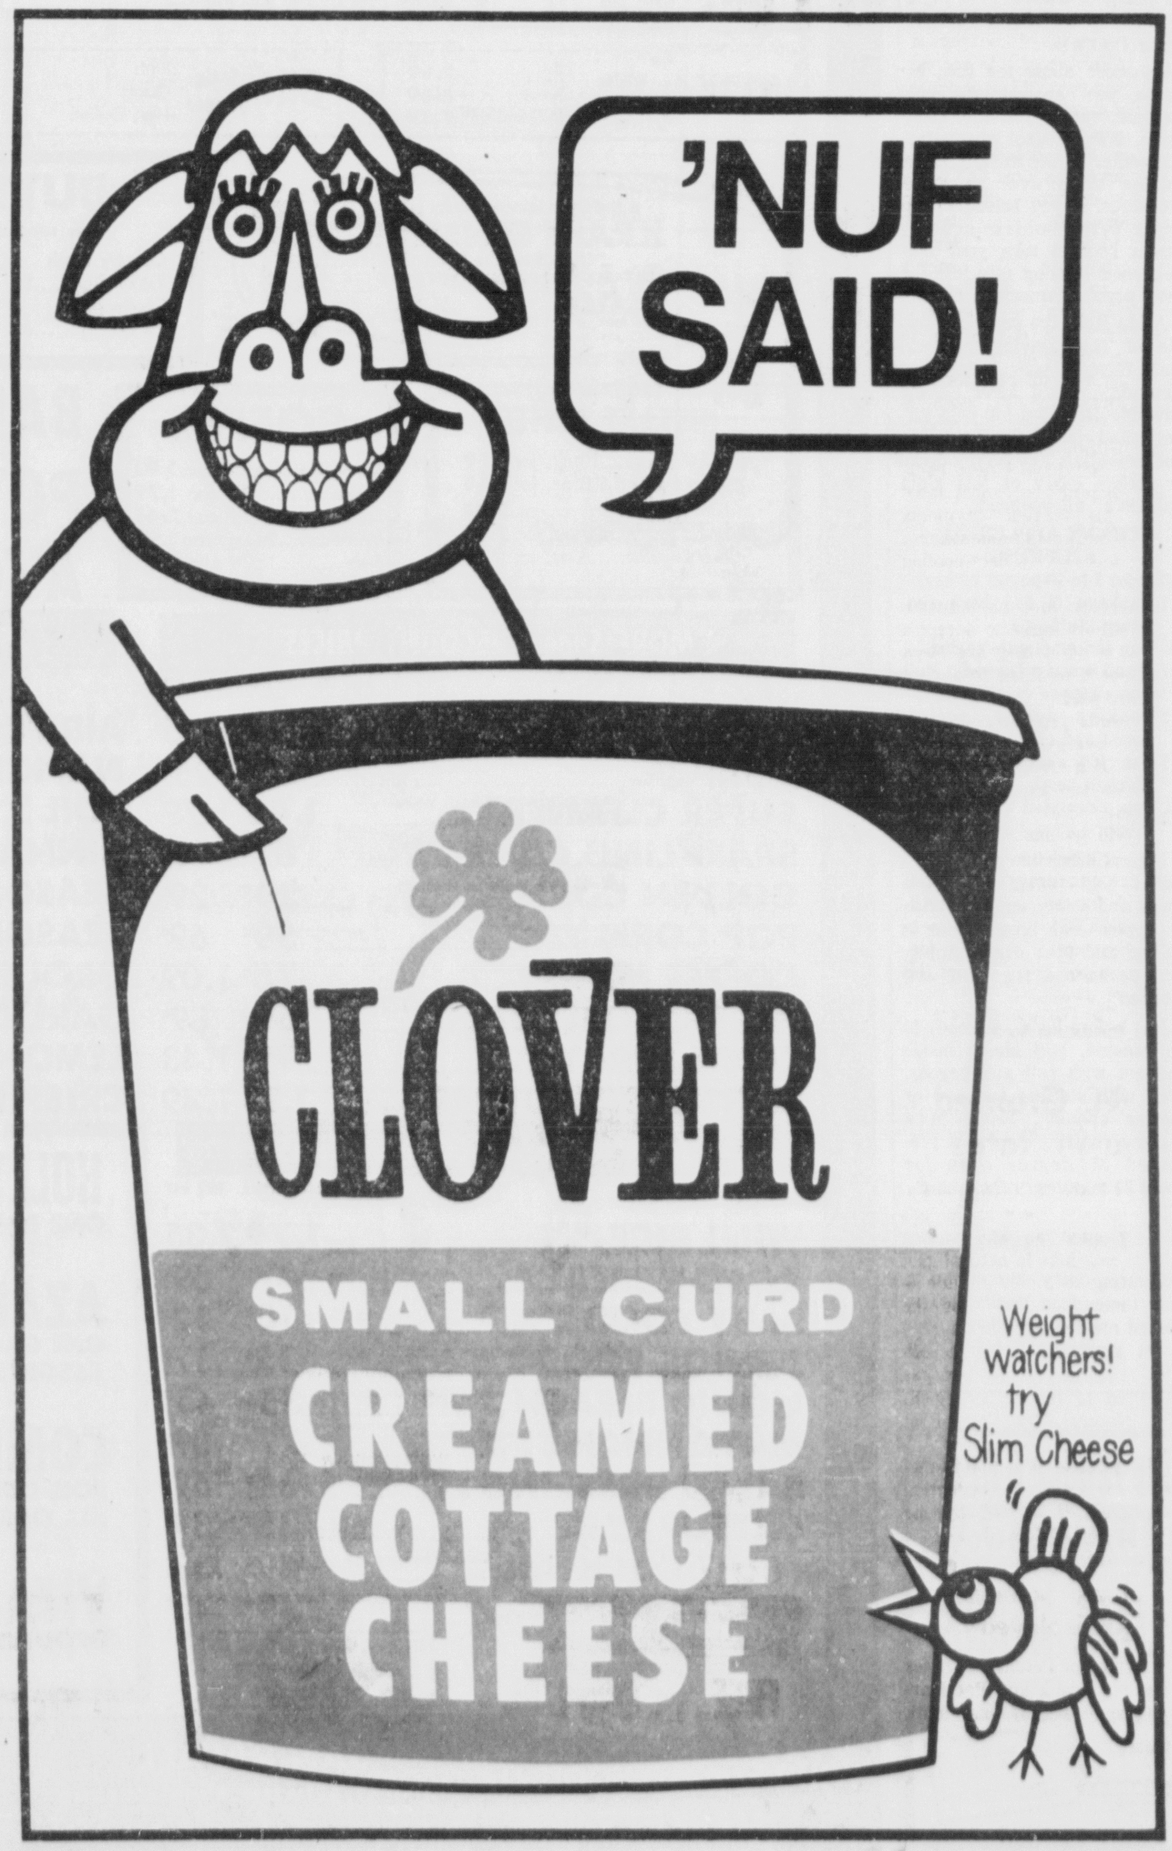

Line a square pan with foil and pour in gelatin. When set firm, run hot water over bottom of pan and peel off foil. Put block of gelatin on powdered sugar cutting board and cut into one inch squares. Dust well on all sides with sugar and set out to dry. Keep air tight.

Nulaid.

EVEN A twosome need have no hesitation about filling their home with old-fashioned aromas of roasting turkey and steaming stuffing. The traditional Thanksgiving bird and its internal dressing of homey, universally popular bread stuffing is one of the easiest menus for anyone to produce.

Traditional Bird Easy To Prepare

With Thanksgiving dinner on our doorstep, so to speak, many a two-person household is casting about for an invitation or a substitute.

But if your heart's set on a real old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner, why settle for second best when you can simply cook the dinner you want: a plump, roasted turkey filled with savory, old-fashioned bread stuffing?

If you've never tried it, be assured that few menus are easier than a classic American Thanksgiving dinner.

Start out with a good-sized turkey, about eight to 10 pounds to be sure you'll have plenty of moist, tender breast meat. Buy it two days ahead of time to allow for defrosting, then follow the package directions which essentially will tell you to rinse and dry the bird, rub with salt and stuff with your favorite dressing.

Go straight to a traditional, old-fashioned style herb seasoned stuffing mix which is already pre-seasoned and spiced and ready to mix with hot water and some melted butter or margarine. Plunk your turkey neck down in a big mixing bowl and loosely fill the cavity; skewer the opening or close with a ball of crumpled foil; grease the skin all over and put it in a 350-degree oven for three to three and one-half hours. That's it.

Anywhere along the line, of course, you can add whatever personal touches you like. Most likely, that personal expression will center on the stuffing since battles rage over favorite dressings. If you belong to the apple-celery-onion school, here's how to turn your old-fashioned stuffing mix into the most popular American classic.

Aside from the nostalgic aroma of Thanksgiving that will waft through your home next Thursday, you'll have all the enviable leftovers for cold turkey sandwiches the next day and potentials like turkey divan or turkey curry or just plain "pickin's" all weekend.

JOHNNY APPLESEED STUFFING

(for an 8-to-10-pound turkey)

- 1 package (8 oz.) herb seasoned stuffing
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 2 cooking apples, peeled, cored and chopped
- 1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed chicken broth
- ¼ cup crumbled crisp bacon (about 4 slices)

Pour stuffing into a bowl. In a skillet heat butter and saute onion and celery until soft. Stir in apples and broth. Heat to boiling and pour over stuffing. Add bacon and stir until well blended.

Just before turkey is ready to be roasted, sprinkle it inside and out with salt and pepper. Stuff with stuffing and sew or skewer opening. Roast in a shallow roasting pan in a preheated 350-degree oven for about 20 minutes to the pound.

Tasty Topping

Sweeten dairy sour cream to your taste, then gently fold in canned apple sauce. Spoon over warm gingerbread for a dessert.

Novel Fruitcake Offers Quick, Easy Gift Ideas

With the holidays approaching, everyone starts to have visions of sugarplums, candy canes and fruitcakes. The recipes for fruitcakes are as many and varied as pine needles on a Christmas tree.

Here is one so easy that it takes only five minutes to make and adding the 45 minutes for baking, that's under an hour.

Starting with a basic mix — date bread — and adding fruity goodies, an egg and a six-ounce can of orange juice makes the mixing easy.

Fun 'n easy fruitcakes make terrific gifts and the fun part is baking them in six-ounce cans. Wrap the miniature cakes in foil — still in the can if you wish. The cakes are easy to remove —just open the bottom and push. And there are no pans to wash.

The cakes in cans can be packed easily

FRUIT CAKE

- 1 package date bread mix
- ¾ cup chopped dried apricots
- ¾ cup chopped prunes
- ½ cup raisins
- ½ cup chopped nuts
- 1 6-ounce can orange juice
- 1 egg

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Add chopped apricots, prunes, raisins and nuts to packaged mix. Then add orange juice, and 1 egg and mix together. Stir until all dry ingredients are moistened. The mixture will be lumpy. Pour into 6 six-ounce juice cans that have been greased and floured. Leave approximately an inch at the top of the can. Bake for 45 minutes or until a toothpick comes out clean. Recipe can also be baked in an eight-inch loaf pan.

UNDER VOLUNTEER TEACHER

Students Opt For Stitchery

By BETTY FROST

Fourteen enthusiastic boys and girls from the sixth grade of the Mill Valley Middle School have chosen sewing and stitchery instruction for their elective period.

Guiding the children through their first needlework experience is Mrs. John Hanks of Mill Valley, who usually conducts the sessions in her Mill Valley home. Judith Hanks is a volunteer mother who donates her time, talent and equipment. She spends at least three hours two or three days a week, giving instruction at two sessions. Sometimes she goes to the school to instruct.

One of the first projects of the children was to create a patchwork wall hanging, which is proudly displayed in the classroom of their teacher, Fred Mitouer.

THE SESSIONS are lively and productive. One girl showed off a skirt she had completed and a boy worked at the sewing machine to finish a corduroy vest, while other children spread patterns on the living room floor and pinned them to fabric. Tie and dye shirts are popular with both boys and girls. Some basted the seams and waited their turn at the sewing machine.

Judith Hanks seems to be everywhere at once, quickly rethreading the sewing machine, then moving on to give advice to a girl who is hesitant to start cutting into material. Two girls cut out Indian headbands from strips of pale leather and another is making a leather pouch. By the end of the session the leather items had been decorated with Indian designs using a wood-burning technique.

Mrs. Hanks has been teaching Mill Valley School children household arts since the family moved to Marin five years ago. She taught cooking at Old Mill School as a volunteer, and under her guidance the children put out a cook book.

"Maintenance of the home is sometimes overlooked," she said. "I think children should be able to create a meal and clothing and should have confidence in these abilities."

JUDITH GREW up in upstate New York, the oldest of eight children. Cooking and sewing programs were taught in the schools there from the sixth through the eighth grades, she recalled, and that was where she began learning to sew.

"But here," she said, "unless someone volunteers, I don't see such programs happening."

The parents of one of the boys in the class have donated material for the children, and Judith Hanks also contributes some fabric for the program.

Soon the children will hold a bake sale at the school, selling bread and other baked goods they will make themselves. They hope to use the funds to buy stuffing for pillows, which they will make for the class.

Mrs. Hanks makes her own clothes, and also sews for her husband and two children. She is the wife of John Hanks, who is a real estate broker in Mill Valley. Their children are Kurt, 12, and Butterfly, 4.

Marin Women

Wednesday, November 14, 1973 Independent-Journal, 17

Causes Given For Infertility

The most frequent cause of infertility in women is failure to ovulate. This failure is usually due to faulty functioning of the pituitary gland, that part of the body's mechanism which normally stimulates the ovary to produce an egg. If no egg is being produced, sometimes medication can be given to stimulate ovulation.

In the male, low sperm count, sterility and impotence account for approximately 46 per cent of infertility cases. Sperm count refers to the male production of spermatozoa and means just that — a laboratory count of how many sperm are produced in one ejaculation and the physical characteristics of those sperm.

Associated with a low sperm count is the fact that many of the sperm are slow, or too sluggish to reach the waiting egg, or perhaps are lifeless or malformed. Sometimes treatment can improve both sperm count and motility.

Jade Shown At Commodore's Ball

By MOLLY MARIN

One hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of Chinese jade and ivory was loaned by Gump's to San Francisco Yacht Club's entertainment chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carnes of San Francisco for display at the Commodore's Ball held Saturday evening at the yacht club in Belvedere.

The display was planned to surprise Pat Eldridge, wife of commodore Roger Eldridge of San Rafael. Mrs. Eldridge is an Oriental art enthusiast. The dinner dance had an Oriental theme, a Mandarin menu and decorations borrowed from the newly opened Chinese Cultural Center in San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. EVERETT E. Bucknum of San Rafael were honored last week in a ceremony at the Whistlestop, honoring them on their 60th wedding anniversary.

Everett and Rowena Buchnum were married Oct. 14, 1913, in San Francisco. They moved to San Rafael the year following their marriage.

The anniversary was also celebrated at a dinner at their home with immediate family members, including their son Jack E. Bucknum of San Anselmo. Their daughter, Mrs. Paul O'Pizzi, recently moved from Marin to Palm Springs.

The senior Bucknums are avid travelers having recently returned from a trip to the Caribbean. Bucknum is a retired business man. The couple has three grandchildren.

CELEBRATING THEIR golden wedding Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoltz of Terra Linda were the honored guests at a family dinner at the Stanford Court in San Francisco.

The couple was married Nov. 11, 1923, in New York City. The Stoltzes have lived in San Rafael for 25 years, and Mr. Stoltz was employed as an engineer at Dominican College in San Rafael for 12 years before his retirement.

Family members attending the dinner were the couple's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Armes ad their daughter Debbie Armes, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Balderama of Novato and their daughter Chris, and Greg Keeler of San Francisco. The couple have another great-granddaughter, Tandra Balderama of Novato, who is six months old.

In the spring the Stoltzes plan to go East to visit other relatives in New York City, where a reception will also be given for them.

ON THE AGENDA

Acupuncture Discussion Set For AAUW Couples Section

Acupuncture will be the topic of the Novato Branch of the American Association of University Women couples section meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Palmer, at 8 p.m. Friday.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Gerhard Wutzke, a Novato dentist, who will tell how acupuncture is being applied to dentistry. Mrs. Robert Rettig will speak on acupuncture in general and Korean acupuncture.

THE AUXILIARY of Sonoma State Hospital will hold its fourth annual fall bazaar, the "Merry Market", at St. Vincent's parish hall in Petaluma from 5 to 9 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Members will have handmade holiday decorations, gifts, food, a white elephant and book sale and art in action to benefit patients in Sonoma State Hospital.

The auxiliary membership is drawn from several counties. The members have restored and donated a merry-go-round for the ambulatory patients and also provided water beds and musical instruments for the ward patients unable to walk.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

She Finds It Easier To Munch On Unshelled Sunflower Seeds

DEAR HELEN:

My daughter thinks I am "weird" because when she offered me unshelled sunflower seeds, I ate them straight. She says you're supposed to crack the shells between your teeth, take out that tiny seed and eat it, but I say this gets you nowhere and makes a lot of mess besides.

Since I only eat a few such things (you don't take a handful when you must crunch the shells too), will this be bad for my stomach or whatever? — CAN'T BE BOTHERED

DEAR CBB:

Well hello, there! I thought I was the only "nut" who didn't go for shelling. Sunflower seeds are a little fibrous unhusked, but not nearly so frustrating — and they've never bothered my digestion. I doubt if a few soft shells now and then would hurt you.

But . . . soybean "nuts" are better, if you're looking for a fairly cheap, low-calorie, high protein munch-food. So far, I haven't found many markets that stock these roasted, salted beans, but your grocer might stock them if you put in an order.

And speaking of soy, have you ever tried soybean cake as a meat extender? It comes in white, soft, cheese-like loaves and must be kept in water until used. Almost tasteless, it takes on the flavor of whatever it's mixed with — you've probably seen it often in soup and other dishes at Chinese restaurants. Since it is 100 per cent soy, it's a fine source of protein and it mixes well with ground beef to add a third more "meat" at approximately 20 per cent less cost.

Where to find soybean cake? Most Chinese markets carry it, and a few supermarkets are beginning to stock it these price-conscious days. — H.

(. . .Now how did I get off on that tangent . . . Excuse me, food editor!)

DEAR HELEN:

I bought tickets to what I thought was Gilbert and Sullivan music, and it turned out instead to be "Gilbert O'Sullivan." My lady friend and I left during intermission because our eardrums couldn't take the noise.

We drove all the way into the city for an evening only kids would appreciate. Shouldn't there be a law about making names this similar? — MUSIC APPRECIATOR, AGE 70

DEAR M.A.:

Maybe there should be a law about people reading ads more carefully. — H.

P.S. I'm a fine one to talk! The other day a choir-boy knocked at our door, sold me a raffle ticket on a new car, proceeds to benefit our local Little League team.

Three days later my husband asked me why I was keeping an old, expired raffle ticket pinned to my bulletin board. Seems our junior shyster had saved a few from last year (with "1972" clearly printed on the front) and then he'd gone out looking for non-readers.

Just sign me — Patsy. Or sign us "Fooled Again — Naturally" (with apologies to G.O'S who lays 'em in the aisles with his version).

DEAR HELEN:

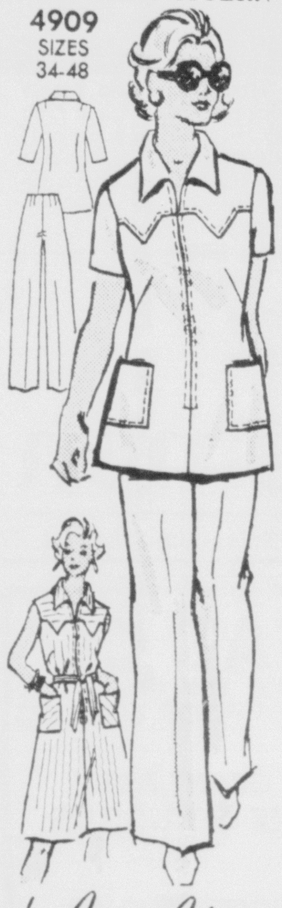

Re the problem of straying wife and the phrase, "the husband is always the last to know," it occurs to me that in most cases, the husband is always the one who cares least, or he'd be the first to know.

Just expressing my "no sympathy" for these cuckolds who cry on your shoulder. — WILL NEVER HELP MINE FIND OUT

Got a problem? An adult subject for discussion? A fun idea? You can talk it over in her column if you write to Helen Bottel, c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, San Rafael, Ca 94902.

Toothbrushes

Toothbrush manufacturing in the United States began after the Civil War. The handles for the brushes were made of the thigh bones of cattle, and hog bristles were brought from Asia.

Pam Colyer Is Married To Michael Kilmurray Oct. 27

Pam Colyer and Michael Kilmurray were married at St. John's Lutheran Church in Petaluma on Oct. 27.

Pam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald V. Colyer of Petaluma, and Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Kilmurray of Novato.

Mrs. Glen Wong of San Anselmo was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Nina Gorman, Michele and Debra Colyer, sisters of the bride, and Patty Davini, all of Petaluma.

Richard Kilmurray of Novato, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and ushers were Gerald Colyer of Petaluma, brother of the bride; and Chris Musser and Raymond Muller of Novato; and Glen Wong of San Anselmo.

A reception was held at the Petaluma Recreation Hall. Afterward the couple went on a wedding trip to Carmel. They will live in Cotati.

The bride was graduated from Petaluma High School. She is also the sister of Andrew Colyer of Petaluma. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Colyer of Gervais, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Warneil of Cotati are her grandparents.

The bridegroom was graduated from Novato High School and is employed at the Specification Chromium Corp. in San Rafael. He is also the brother of David Kilmurray of Los Angeles, Mrs. Dorothy Baily of Petaluma and Virginia Kilmurray of San Rafael.

Weight Increases Blood Pressure

Gaining weight is the most important factor in elevating blood pressure, according to an associate professor of medicine at Boston University School of Medicine.

Weight loss is usually accompanied by a drop in blood pressure, said Thomas R. Dwaber, and studies have demonstrated that below the age of 45 blood pressure levels of women are somewhat lower than men.

Blamed In Burns

Clothing is still the key to most serious and fatal burn injuries and loosely woven, lightweight fabrics, such as children's sheer organdy party dresses are highly combustible.

AGENDA

League will present "Concoctions," its annual fall fund-raising fashion show at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Santa Rosa Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

Models for the symphony benefit will include Peanuts creator Charles Schulz, and Warren Lockhart, president of Charles Schulz Creative Associates and producer of the "Borrowers," a Hall of Fame television special.

Mrs. Warren Stage Jr. is fashion coordinator and Ken Reese will be the show commentator. Show chairmen are Mmes. Bruno Malchow and Richard Wallrich. Assisting them are Mmes. Raul Diez and Robert O'Neel, models; J. Paul Ahlbrandt, stage decor; Richard Bradshaw, table decor; Michael Marquis, program; Alan Swenson, music; Glenn Ament, awards; Thomas Barnhisel, publicity; W. P. Parsons and William Wieking, tickets and reservations.

A social hour will begin at 11:30 a.m.

A DISCUSSION of year around school will be held at the San Ramon Parent-Faculty Club meeting in Novato at 8 o'clock tonight in the school library.

Speakers will be Westley Mathews, one of the coordinators of California year around school system; and William Van Zevern and Mrs. Tammy Cotter, teachers at Miwok School in Petaluma which is on a year around schedule.

Chilling Ordered For Retail Milk

The Agriculture Department has instructed grocers to keep milk chilled below 45 degrees before being purchased by shoppers.

California dairy farmers, acting under a similar law last year, installed refrigeration equipment on their farm holding tanks that will chill the milk at that temperature immediately after leaving the cow.

A DEMONSTRATION of Hatha Yoga will be given for members and guests of the Sausalito Woman's Club at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow by Mrs. Ruth Jenkins.

Mrs. Jenkins, professional ballet dancer and teacher, for the past five years has been teaching yoga in Southern Marin. Mrs. Jenkins will explain the purpose and philosophy of each exercise and the theory of Yoga, which requires perfect physical condition as a prerequisite to meditation.

Tea will be served at 3 p.m. Mrs. Mark Hudson is tea chairman.

NEW OFFICERS will be installed by the Order of the Eastern Star, Mill Valley Chapter 219, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Masonic Temple in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Bob R. Warnock is installation chairman. Mrs. John Croxall will be the new worthy matron.

THE ANNUAL book fair will be held by Manor School Parent-Teacher Association at the Fairfax school's multi-use room tomorrow during school hours.

Proceeds from the sale of children's books will be used for the library of the school.

THE FALL bazaar of the women of the First Methodist Church of San Rafael will be held from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday at the church.

Luncheon will be served both days from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Child care will be available during the lunch hours.

The bazaar will feature bakery goods, Santa Workshop toys and gifts, handmade articles and holiday decorations.

HOME ECONOMIST Sue Osborne will present a program, "Holiday Foods from Many Lands" for the members and guests of the Zonta Club of Marin at noon tomorrow.

The luncheon meeting and program will be held at the banquet room of Sam's family restaurant in Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael. Margaret Hedden and Sigrun Johnson will be hostesses for the meeting.

A GUEST DAY and luncheon is planned by the Mill Valley Women's Golf Club for Friday. Golf will begin at 8:30 a.m. and the luncheon at noon.

Mrs. M. J. Taylor and Mrs. John K. Welch are reservations chairmen.

Auto Insurance Talk Scheduled

Don Holland, assistant manager of the San Rafael District, California State Automobile Association, will speak on automobile insurance tomorrow at the Tamalpais High School Consumer Resource Center, room 16, Woods Hall, Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley.

The public program will begin at 1:30 p.m.

CHRISTMAS STAMP
First of its kind

New Stamp Is Done In Needlepoint

The Christian Science Monitor News Service

Usually artists paint stamp designs. But not always. The science stamp of 1963 was a wood engraving, as was 1971's San Juan stamp. And last year's Olympic designs were collages.

This year the U.S. Postal Service offers a holiday stamp done in needlepoint. This has never been done before, although the 1964 commemorative homemaker's stamp simulated the needlework of an early American sampler.

The design for the 1973 needlepoint stamp, done by Dolli Tingle, is of a whimsical, old-fashioned Christmas tree.

It is Postal Service policy to issue two holiday stamps per year. The second one was adapted from a Raphael Madonna and Child, which hangs in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C., by Bradbury Thompson.

Raphael's painting is called "the Small Cowper Madonna," because its first recorded owner (in 1780) was Lord Cowper, British ambassador to the Court of Tuscany. Lord Cowper owned a larger Raphael Madonna also, hence the "small" in the title.

The vertical, commemorative-size stamps will be printed on the Andreotti gravure press in six colors. Yellow, light brown, red, blue, black, and green inks will be used for the Raphael stamp; light brown, yellow, gold, red, blue, and black inks will print the needlepoint Christmas tree. Each stamp will have six plate numbers.

'Family' Is Top Ranked In Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS programs, led by the top-ranked "All in the family" series, swept the national television ratings for the week ending Nov. 4, A.C. Nielsen ratings figures showed yesterday.

A check of the 20 highest-rated evening programs for the week showed CBS leading with 12, followed by NBC with five and ABC with three.

The top-rated 20 programs, according to their rankings in the week's Nielsen survey, were: "All in the Family" (CBS); "Walt Disney," "Sanford and Son" and "Columbo" all (NBC); "The Waltons," "Maude," "M-A-S-H," "CBS Thursday Night Movie" and "Hawaii Five-O," all (CBS); "ABC Tuesday Movie," "Mary Tyler Moore," "Sonny & Cher," "Gunsmoke," "Bob Newhart" and "Cannon" all (CBS); "Dean Martin" (NBC); "The Rookies" and "Marcus Welby" (ABC); "Kojak" (CBS) and "The Girl With Something Extra" (NBC).

CBS recently canceled "Calucci's Dept.," which has been at the bottom of the ratings since the season began, came in next to last this time. Last place was occupied by another recently canceled program, ABC's "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice."

Tax Board Asked If Nixon Paying

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's income tax board has been asked to determine whether President Nixon is meeting any California income tax obligations he may have.

The request came from William M. Bennett of Kentfield, a member of the three-man state Franchise Tax Board, Bennett disclosed yesterday.

Bennett said he is asking the board to discuss the matter at a Dec. 11 meeting. The other two members are Republican Verne Orr, state finance director, and state Controller Houston I. Flournoy, also a Republican.

Flournoy, the chairman, was not immediately available for comment on whether the question would be placed on the Dec. 11 agenda.

Franchise Tax Board officials always have refused to comment on Nixon's state income tax status. They have declined to say whether he is required to file a state return.

Bennett's disclosure was the second development of the day involving Nixon and California taxes.

Officials of the state Board of Equalization revealed that board staff members are nearing completion of a new appraisal of Nixon's estate at San Clemente. Bennett is chairman of the Board of Equalization.

The appraisal was inaugurated after critics, including Bennett, questioned whether owners of the Western White House estate were paying their fair share of property taxes.

Orange County officials have assessed the property at a $1.37 million market value for 1973-74 property tax purposes even though the original purchase price was about $1.5 million.

The state appraisal should be completed next week, said William W. Dunlop, the board's executive secretary. He said state appraisers already have inspected the heavily guarded estate personally.

The results of the confidential appraisal will be turned over to the Orange County board to determine whether the assessed value of the property should be adjusted.

Bennett said in an interview he specifically asked Franchise Tax Board officials whether Nixon had reported income from the sale of part of the San Clemente estate and "if not, why not."

Bennett said he also wanted to know if the President had reported improvements to the estate as capital gains and "if not, why not."

Mailer Attacks On Energy Crisis

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Norman Mailer told a University of Pennsylvania audience yesterday that he thinks the energy crisis is a sham—"pure Nixon mechanics."

"Two-thirds of the people will not obey the 50 mile an hour speed limit," he said.

"He (Nixon) knows it won't work, but he also knows that it will appeal profoundly to those remaining patriotic Americans who want to do something for their country."

Comet Kohoutek Becoming More Visible

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The comet Kohoutek, expected to provide a spectacular addition to the Christmastime sky, is becoming visible in Northern California in the early morning.

Astronomical experts say the comet should become visible before dawn this week and be seen until February.

At 5 a.m. tomorrow, reports the Astronomical Society of the Pacific, Kohoutek should appear about 15 degrees above the southeast horizon, above and to the right of the star Spica. It will continue to get brighter toward yearend.

Comet Kohoutek may be the most spectacular comet in history, and will certainly be the most thoroughly studied comet, with coordinated observations being made all around the world and from the Skylab space ship.

Astronomers and observatories have issued booklets and advice for people who want to see and photograph the comet during the next two months when it should be visible.

The Astronomical Society of the Pacific has offered a booklet on the comet which may be obtained by sending a stamped (24 cents), self-addressed envelope at least 6 by 9 inches to the society at 75 Southgate Avenue, Daly City, Calif. 94015. One booklet will be given free, and a change of 50 cents each is made for extras.

Lick Observatory, near San Jose, has also prepared an information sheet on the comet, which is available free of charge by sending a self-addressed stamped evelope to "Comet Kohoutek," Lick Observatory, UC Santa Cruz, Calif. 95064.

The morning visibility in the southeast sky before sunrise will end about Christmas time.

By December 30, the comet is expected to appear in the western horizon for an hour after sunset. At first only the tail will be seen projecting above th horizon, but by Jan. 7, Kohoutek will be visible for about two hours after sunset. It should be very bright and easy to see.

Some scientists say the comet may even be visible during the daytime.

Throughout January the comet will increase its angular distance from the sun and its tail will diminish along with its brilliance.

By early February, Kahoutek will be seen only about four hours after sunset off the western horizon. Then it will go out of sight, possibly to reappear in a thousand years or so.

Special Concerts

Madrigals and ensemble music will be performed by the College of Marin Madrigal Singers Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in choral hall of the college's Fine Arts Building. The group is under the direction of Scott Merrick, chairman of the college's music department.

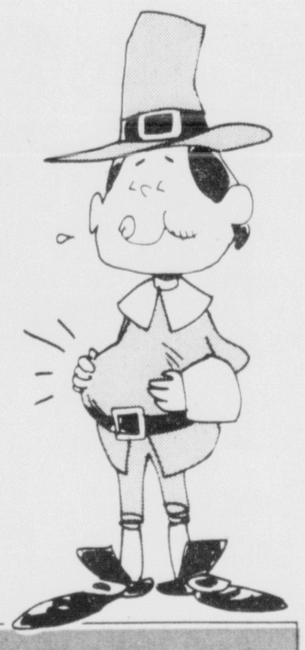

BART Stealing City Patrons?

SAN FRANCISCO (API) — The Municipal Railway's revenues suffered during the first week that the Bay Area Rapid Transit District's trains operated in San Francisco.

But just how deep the bite will be isn't known yet.

James H. Leonard of the city's Public Utilities Commission said Monday that revenues on eight lines paralleling the BART link to Daly City were down about $4,500 a day.

LOADING CARGO — A threatening sky looming over the bulky bins and loading equipment heightens the tense mood in this watercolor by Barbara Williams. It is one of the works in the "Best of '73" show at the Terra Linda Art Association gallery.

ART REVIEW

'Best Of '73' Paintings Shown

By ADA GARFINKEL

Snuggling amid typical genre paintings of the Terra Linda Art Association's "Best of '73" show, are a handful of works representative of more contemporary trends in the visual arts.

Tucked almost into obscurity against a corner wall, Claudia Fouse's small "Collage" — a watercolor in cool grays, encased in a plastic box-frame — comes alive. This is partly because of its "new realism," (recognizable, almost photographic imagery) and because one can mentally re-enact the artist's process.

One can, for instance, easily visualize Miss Fouse setting up her "still-life" by pinning up a photo of a pair of twin girls in convent uniforms next to a paneled door. Then, perhaps as an after-thought, hanging a spray of dried flowers to cover up some lettering on the door. Finally, to balance the "composition," lining up a pair of square canvases, the lower blank, the top one having its own "Collage."

It is often quite difficult for a figurative artist to find a fresh approach. Gail Bohr's "Bodyscape" — an oil painting — shows a pear-shaped segment of a bright red torso hugging the left edge, with a narrow white swathe acting as a highlight at right-edge the perimeter. Black linear markings articulate inner form and volume. The ground plane is a rich, royal blue.

"Face 2" is a handsome pen-and-ink profile drawn in the Aubrey Beardsley "art nouveau" manner by Deb Sarantakis.

Barbara Williams' award-winning "Colorsacpe" proves that even landscapes can be different. Hers builds schematic space with torn strips of canvas stained in desert hues and attached to her canvas support in horizontal and diagonal layers.

Carol Zogg's "Shade on Shape No. 1" demonstrates the infinite variety possible within a skillfully handled minimal, monochromatic, hard-edge painting.

Merit awards were also presented to Jane Santucci for "Trial Run," a batik, and to Beck Brown for her casein painting "Poppy Garden." Victor de Beck's watercolor "Going Fishing" won the "Best in Show" award.

Judges were Lewis Ferrario of the San Rafael High School art department and Marin artists Jon Caver and James Short.

This exhibit will run through Nov. 30 and may be seen from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The gallery is located at 4170 Redwood Highway.

Use Permit Asked For New Bars

A use permit should be required for the opening of every new bar in Mill Valley, the city's planning commission has recommended to the Mill Valley City Council.

The planning commission decided at its Monday meeting that perhaps the city should not worry about the proliferation of bars featuring live entertainment but rather about the proliferation of bars themselves, according to Robert J. Hanna, associate planner.

Hanna said new bar owners now only have to get a liquor license and design approval for their buildings, provided that their businesses are located in the proper city zone.

The commission sent to the council a statement from chairman Ivan S. Poutiatine asking that every new bar be approved by the city council and planning commission. Among factors to be considered before approval is given, Poutiatine said, are how many bars the city has, where they are located, whether the proposed new bar would relate to uses around it and the quality of soundproofing and ventilation in the proposed bar building.

Theater Group In Casting Call

The newly formed Sausalito Performing Arts Theater will hold a casting call for its first production at 7 p.m. Sunday in Campbell Hall, San Carlos and Santa Rosa Avenues.

Actors, stagehands and assistants are needed for "Christmas 1893," a play about life when Sausalito was chartered as a city, according to Patricia and Robert Du Mee of the theater group.

The organization also holds theater workshop sessions at 7 p.m. each Sunday at Campbell Hall. Further information may be obtained by contacting the Du Mees at Waldo Point in Sausalito.

Soft Landing In Accident

CINCINNATI (UPI) — A Cincinnati construction worker got a lesson in aerodynamics yesterday the hard way.

Russell McQueen, 24, working atop a second story building at a shopping center, was carrying a section of sheet roofing when a strong wind toppled him.

The metal acted as an air foil, and glided him gently to the ground for a soft landing.

McQueen was released after treatment for minor head and leg injuries.

Belvedere Council Will Consider Buying Homes

A plan to have the City of Belvedere buy three antique homes on Beach Road and remove them to create more open space and better bay views will be considered tomorrow at 8 p.m. at a special city council meeting.

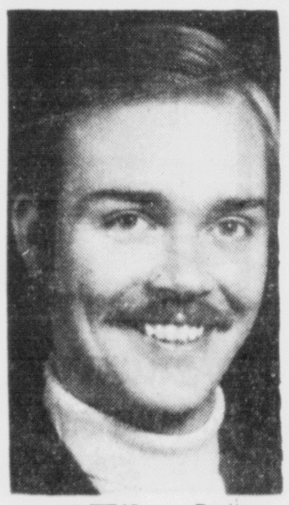

Robert K. Gordon, chairman of a special citizens open space committee, said he will discuss the negotiations between the committee and ghe Belvedere Land Co. which owns the property.

Eventually, the open space committee wants the city to buy five houses, most of them built from parts of arks, houseboats and former sailing vessels. One of the three to be bought first was built out of the cabin of the steamship China, which sailed from San Francisco to the Orient in the late 1800s.

Gordon said the houses would be left standing for five years and the city would rent them. The buildings and pilings then would be torn down.

"If someone comes to us with a proposal to move and preserve some of those buildings, that's fine," Gordon said. "We could work something out."

He said he did not want to discuss the possible price of the three homes until tomorrow's meeting.

IN RECITAL — Baritone Gary B. Walker will give the first of two master's degree recitals at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Angelico Hall at Dominican College, singing works by Johann Sebastian Bach and R. Vaughn Williams.

Wrecking Yard Site Rejected As Mobile Home Sales Location

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night denied a proposal for a mobile home sales facility on a former wrecking yard site off Smith Ranch Road.

Commissioners said the facility would clutter the entryway to the John F. McInnis bayfront park, according to Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner.

The project, proposed by J. L. Barrow for the old Torini wrecking yard, "might be worse than a junkyard," according to commissioner John A. Starkweather.

Commissioners continued to Nov. 27 consideration of final landscaping plans for a mobile home park already being built off Smith Ranch Road, and continued consideration of a request for inclusion of a mobile home sales facility in the new complex.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

GROWTH — Said the city council should not review a county proposal for area growth control agencies until after the city general plan is completed.

MORATORIUM — Approved extension for eight months of an emergency ordinance that bans conversion of apartment buildings into condominiums without first obtaining a use permit.

WRECKING YARD — Approved a use permit for an auto wrecking yard, equipment storage, and firewood sales facility at 1515 Francisco Boulevard.

NORTHGATE EAST — Approved a three-phase landscape plan for installation of sidewalks fronting the Northgate East project north of the Civic Center, and said the sidewalk should stretch along the entire frontage of the office and restaurant complex.

QUALITY — Told staff the commission will take a harder look at the "quality" of development proposals in the future, and require developers to do more than merely meet minimum city requirements.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. Nov. 27.

Plan Review Suggestion Is Rejected

San Rafael planning commissioners last night refused to go along with a colleague's proposal that public review of the city's emerging general plan be coordinated by the commission, and not a citizens advisory committee.

Instead, commissioner John A. Starkweather suggested chairman Jorgen V. Lunding make the recommendation to the city council as an individual commissioner.

Lunding said "substantial major decisions and directional changes" must be made on a preliminary draft of the plan and the commission should coordinate public review of the document. That responsibility is now in the hands of the citizens advisory committee.

Lunding called for consultants to postpone revision of the plan for about a month to allow more community review of the document, and said the commission should work jointly with the citizens committee to "integrate input".

In his recommendation, Lunding said he will present city councilmen with a new timetable for consideration of the plan at the council's Dec. 3 meeting.

Lunding today said more time is needed to review the plan to give local neighborhoods a chance to respond to various proposals suggested by the document.

A current schedule calls for revision of the plan by January.

Darts Record

SYDNEY (UPI) — County Dart Association members Keith Bird and Norm Faley claim a world record by playing 87 games of darts in two hours. They threw nine darts a game or a total of 600 darts. Bird won 50-37.

Hub Horse Issue Still Unsolved

San Anselmo city councilmen, staff and a full-house audience last night spent two hours discussing the latest in a five-year series of proposed ordinances to regulate keeping horses in the city.

The council decided to take no action until a further hearing is held at its Nov. 27 meeting — and the ordinance probably will be returned once again to the city planning commission for further polishing.

The planning commission, after months of discussion with horse owners, neighbors who were pro and con on horses, and outside experts, recommended a draft ordinance to the council Oct. 15. But the proposal reviewed last night was extensively changed in the interim by Charles R. Leitzell, city public works director.

Audience members complained they lacked copies of the draft the councilmen were reviewing, in which Leitzell laid considerable stress on erosion control in horse areas denuded by heavy grazing.

City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel promised he would make copies available in his office today, to interested citizens.

A major problem is that the horse-keeping operation that Leitzell blames for San Anselmo headaches with silt-plugged storm drains in the winter, slides, and summer dust, is not even in San Anselmo, but is uphill of Summit and Canyon roads inside Fairfax town limits.

He recommended last night that the council vote to instruct City Atty. Hadden W. Roth to file nuisance abatement proceedings against the stables on the Dan McCarthy and Gordon Falk properties. The councilmen refused to act until an ordinance finally is adopted.

The proposed ordinance would require them to have a minimum of a half-acre, sets minimum distances for the horse shelter and pasture from neighbors, requires an annual use permit obtained through the planning commission, and would give Leitzell broad powers to control the number of horses and other factors whenever the land has more than a 20 per cent slope.

Leitzell admitted he had resurrected a horse permit and erosion control draft he'd worked on two years ago, rather than the version the planners recommended.

He said city crews and downhill homeowners had to clean up "literally tons and tons of mud" that plugged culverts and overflowed residential lots during recent storms.

He showed a series of color slides made Monday by photographer Ernest Braun, showing denuded hillsides terraced by horses' hooves, erosion, and mud accumulations.

A woman who said she lived in the Scenic Avenue area as a child claimed "there were always erosion problems there before the horses were there." Horseman Robert Cary and others said they were reseeding their pastures to curb erosion and that much of the material plugging San Anselmo culverts was debris from trees and brush, not mud.

Horace Hill of 269 Crescent Road declared, "The horse ordinance is not entirely what the horse people would like, but the horsemen and San Anselmo can live with it." Another horseman argued, "all of us oppose it . . . this ordinance is impossible to live with."

"The people who drew up the ordinance are antihorse," declared another.

Ross Forming A Scout Troop

A new Scout troop is being formed in Ross.

Boys interested in joining and their fathers are urged to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Ross School auditorium, according to James T. McLaughlin, one of the organizers.

The new Troop 17 held an organizational meeting last week and appointed five men as temporary scoutmasters. Chosen were McLaughlin, Jack W. Rakow, James C. Eschen, Walter Way and James A. Carrol.

The troop will include Explorer Scouts, according to McLaughlin.

San Anselmo Approves Review Agency On Future Development

San Anselmo city councilmen last night approved creation of an advisory review agency to watchdog future developments affecting the county general plan or more than one city.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

RECYCLE — Amended contracts with the San Anselmo Garbage Co. and Survival Inc. to eliminate possible conflicts between the two waste disposal organizations.

BURNING — Instructed city staff to investigate chances of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, allowing one or two "burn days" each year to allow homeowners to get rid of branches and trees felled by winter storms. Antismog official Paul Brand of San Anselmo replied to citizen pleas that the issue could be taken before the air pollution board, but state and federal rules as well as the district's own ban on backyard burning are involved.

ENERGY — Ordered city department heads to report Nov. 27 on proposals for city cooperation in conserving energy. Among the decisions to be made will be whether to cut back on lighting of downtown Christmas decorations.

ROBSON HOUSE — Ordered City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel to have an architect draw plans for three fire escapes that will enable the upper floor of the historic Robson House to be used for park and recreation purposes. The drawings are to cost no more than $500; the stairs and other safety features about $7,500.

SUNNY HILLS — Postponed to Jan. 8, 1974, at applicant's request, two rezonings of Sunny Hills lands. Also tabled to Jan. 8 was a rezoning plan for the San Anselmo School District.

PARK BOND — Adopted a letter proposed by Pierre W. Joske, county parks and recreation director, generally supporting the state's proposed June 1974 park bond issue, but condemning the county's proposal for a 50-50 split of the resulting funds for local recreation space. The city wants a 75 per cent share.

PARKING — With Councilmen Anderson and Martin G. Blinder opposing, voted 3-to-2 to issue a permit variance for a parking deck on a substandard lot between 124 and 126 Allyn Avenue.

BILL — Ordered a letter sent to Congress opposing a block grant bill for urban renewal which would help cities over 50,000 population at the expense of smaller cities.

STORM — Adopted a resolution applying for $141,730 in state aid to repair flood and storm damage from the January 1973 storms.

PERSONNEL — Promoted Fireman Robert M. Paulist to lieutenant as the result of examinations, at a salary of $1,079. Appointed Eleazar H. Magdaleno from the eligibility list as probationary fireman at a salary of $845 a month.

ADJOURNED — To 8 p.m. Nov. 27 in the city hall.

The amendment to the joint powers agreement governing the City-County Planning Council of Marin — which had a major role in the county plan's formation — was unanimously approved.

The City of Fairfax rejected the proposal the night before.

Under the proposal, expected to be ratified by the city-county planning council tonight, San Anselmo will have three weighted votes on the review agency. Of the total of 35 votes, San Rafael will have five, Novato, four; Corte Madera, Larkspur and Mill Valley, three, and the rest two or one, with six votes for the unincorporated area.

Councilman Kenneth L. Anderson, San Anselmo's representative on the city-county planning council, said he had opposed cities having weighted votes based on their populations at the countywide group's last meeting.

LA JOLLA (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor is hospitalized at the Scripps Clinic and Research Foundation for what hospital officials describe as "a routine annual physical."

Beary Plans Race For Supervisor

Rohnert Park City Councilman Louis G. Beary has announced he will challenge Philip L. Joerger in the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors election next June.

Beary, 33, was elected to the council in April 1972 and led the field of candidates in balloting.

Joerger, a Petaluma resident, has indicated he will seek a second term in the $18,000-a-year job, but has made no official announcement.

Beary is self-employed as a plastering contractor. He graduated from Sonoma State College in 1968 with a psychology degree. He and his wife, Joyce, have two children and live at 810 Bernice Avenue.

Beary said the main thrust of his campaign will be land use planning. He said he will stress the need for cooperation between cities and the county in planning land use and open space preservation as a means to curb urban sprawl.

Since his election to the council, Beary has served as chairman of the ad hoc committee on open space and chairman of the stadium fund raising committee.

Hoopas Talk Of Taking Up Arms

EUREKA (UPI) — The Hoopa Indian Tribal Council's chairman says his members "will take up arms" if necessary rather than share timber profits with the larger Yurok tribe.

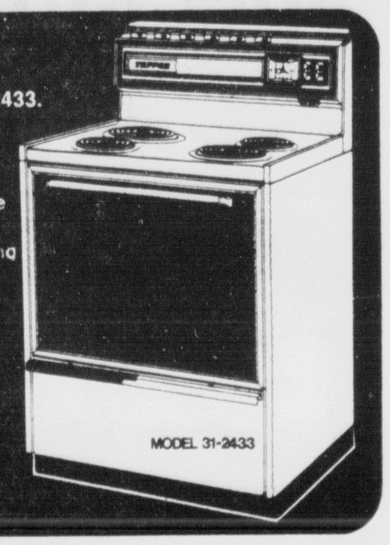

Peter Masten, the chairman, yesterday was discussing a U.S. Court of Claims ruling that the Hoopas must share the profits from their million dollar a year timber industry with the Yuroks. "Ultimately, if all else fails, we are prepared to take up arms to defend what is ours," he declared.

THE ENERGY CRISIS

Specialty Crops Could Hurt

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Fuel shortages could force a "significant" number of California farmers to switch from perishable to grain crops this summer, resulting in soaring retail prices for such produce as tomatoes and lettuce, the state's No. 2 agriculture official said yesterday.

"California farmers are plugging the energy situation into their memory banks," said Robert Hartzell, deputy director of the state Department of Food and Agriculture. "They are tending to go to less perishable commodities."

Hartzell said that because of the large amounts of fuel needed to plant, care for, harvest and transport to market California' "specialty crops," farmers were turning to others that need little fuel.

Hartzell said such "bread and butter" specialty crops as tomatoes, lettuce, strawberries, melons and sugarbeets could be affected as farmers plant wheat, corn, barley and other grains.

A large part of California's $6 billion yearly agriculture industry is made up of specialty crops and most of the nation's supply is grown in the state.

"If the high prices for grains and cotton continue it will be a tremendous incentive to the farmer," he said. "If this fuel problem, which is critical, has not eased there could be significant shifts away from specialty crops" that will carry down the line to the consumer with higher prices.

Under mandatory federal allotments, farmers are allowed the same amount of fuel that they used for the same month last year. However, little fuel was used last fall because of heavy rains across the state, leaving farmers this year "in a crunch," he said.

The industry "squeaked" through this fall harvest without any major losses, but still faces critical spring plowing.

"Keep in mind we had a wet spring last year and low amounts of fuels," Hartzell said. "We're going to be in the same pickle we're in today."

Appearing at a Capitol news briefing with Hartzell was Wesley Bruer, newly appointed state energy planning coordinator.

Bruer said some environmental controls would have to be eased if the state was to meet its energy needs.

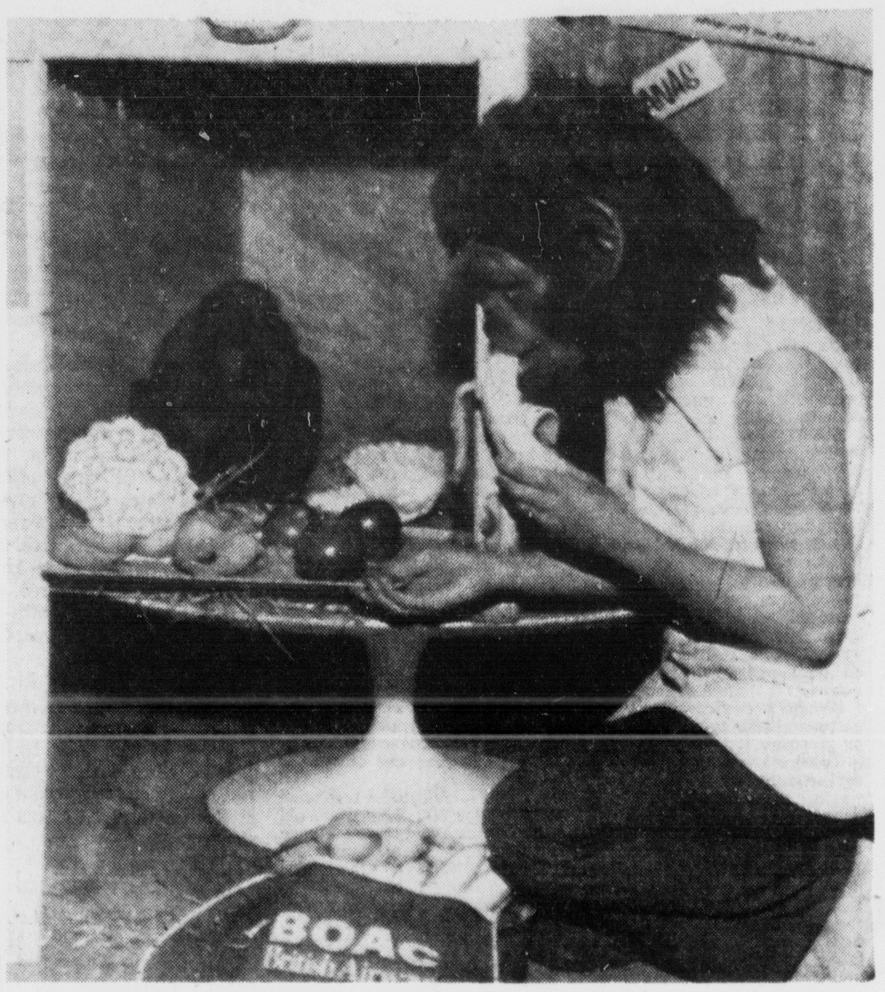

"I think we moved too far and too fast in some environmental regulations," Bruer said. "And in part, it's why we're where we are."

As an example of such a regulation that should be eased, he cited the state moratorium on offshore oil drilling. Such regulations have "put us in a crunch. We must relax some of the strict controls," Bruer said.

30 Strep Cases Reported Last Week

With 30 cases reported last week, streptococcus infection was the most prevalent disease reported in Marin County, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, Marin County Health Officer.

There were 17 cases of gonorrhea, six of infectious hepatits, three of syphillis and two of salmonella.

NEW LOOK — This proposal by the O'Meara-Chandler Corp. for development of the 38.3-acre Schoonmaker property would give the now dreary industrial land on Sausalito's waterfront a new look. Water oriented recreation and business would occupy most of the shoreline and banks of a new channel to be created (center). Office buildings, restaurants, a tennis club and condominium dwellings would replace old industrial buildings. Major hotel development — according to an environmental impact report — would tend to transform Sausalito from a one-day stop on the sightseer's itinerary to a resort center attracting visitors for lengthier stays.

Schoonmaker Plan Is Seen As Not All Bad, Nor Good

The $40 million Schoonmaker development proposed for the Sausalito waterfront would increase traffic, tourism, pollution and damage the commercial fishing industry, according to an impact report by Environmental Impact Planning Corp. of San Francisco.

It also would bring tax dollars to school districts and the city, increase recreational facilities in the community and replace the dreary industrial buildings in the Marinship area with an aesthetic development, the report says.

Planning commissioners will review the impact report during a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in city council chambers on Bridgeway.

Besides 72 condominiums and 141 apartments, the plan by O'Meara-Chandler Corp. envisions a 110-room hotel, a 271-berth marina, tennis courts, three swimming pools, three restaurants, two yacht clubs and shops and offices.

Development of the site off Bridgeway between Napa and Spring streets could damage the operation of Ocean Traders, Sausalito's fish wholesaler which leases the Army Corps of Engineers dock immediately north of the Schoonmaker property.

The payroll generated by the fishing industry is estimated at more than $400,000 per year, most of which is paid to Marin residents, according to the report. The city has supported protecting the fishing industry, considered one of Sausalito's most valuable resources.

According to the report, increases in the number of pleasure boats from the project could interfere with the docking and maneuvering of large fishing vessels; increased vehicle traffic could hamper trucking operations and development would be likely to hike the value of surrounding lands to a point where fishing-oriented businesses would be no longer profitable use for the land.

Residents and visitors would make 4,500 auto trips to and from the project on weekdays and 5,100 trips on Sundays during summer months. The increased traffic flow from Schoonmaker and the nearby Deak office complex would bring Bridgeway north of Napa Street to the maximum acceptable traffic level for an urban arterial street, the report says.

Provision for an added 251 units for transient visitors would reinforce the tourist orientation in Sausalito. The units represent an increase of more than 360 per cent over the number currently available for tourists and would make Sausalito more of a resort center rather than just a place to visit for a few hours, according to the report.

The development would aim at the luxury housing market and provide no low or moderate-income housing. In addition, the 72 homes for sale would be multiple-family dwellings, thereby setting a precedent for condominium development in Marinship and along the waterfront.

The project would require 172 acre feet of water per year, one-half of 1 per cent of the total present supply of the Marin Municipal Water District.

It also would add 152,000 gallons per day to the Sausalito-Marin City wastewater treatment plant at Fort Baker. The plant currently is 200,000 gallons per day under its maximum capacity and Schoonmaker would use up most of the plant's residual capacity, the report says. Plant improvements planned to be finished before the project is built should insure that it can handle the increase, although Schoonmaker and other developments proposed for the area could cause frequent overloading of the plant during wet winter months.

On the positive side, the project would add $9,278,000 to Sausalito's current assessed valuation. Proportionate increases in governmental costs, such as $100,000 for police and fire services, would not equal the increase in assessed valuation. Therefore, local districts affected by the project could either reduce tax rates or increase expenditures without increasing their rate of taxation, according to the report.

Because of the small number of children who will live at the project, the Sausalito School District and Tamalpais High School District could expect to benefit greatly from the increased tax base. The report predicts that the Sausalito district would be able to lower its tax rate 39 cents per $100 of assessed valuation and the high school district four cents.

Three acres of the 38.3-acre site would be dedicated to the city as park land and open space.

Tennis clubs would be open to public membership. Members would have first priority for court use and open courts would be available to the public on a space-available basis.

Tearing down the World War II vintage industrial buildings and adding landscaping would improve views of the site and the bay for residents on the slopes to the west, the report says. Visual corridors would be created and views would include the Tiburon Peninsula, Richardson Bay and the marina within the project.

More Rain Seen For Tomorrow

The weatherman today reneged on his earlier prediction of fair weather beginning tomorrow and said, instead, that there is a 60 per cent chance of rain.

He said the skies will be increasingly cloudy by tonight and that there is a 70 per cent chance of rain tonight followed by 60 per cent tomorrow.

Moderate amounts of rain fell again yesterday and last night, but no damage was reported.

Rainfall reported in various areas in the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today included:

Tiburon, .27 of an inch; Bolinas, .45; Woodacre, .64; Novato, .44; Sausalito, .35; Point Reyes National Seashore, .11; Hamilton Air Force Base, .50; Mill Valley, .61; Tamalpais Valley, .35, and Belvedere, .33.

Gas Meters Explode, No Resulting Damage

Six gas meters exploded at 3:56 p.m. yesterday at the Medical-Dental Building at 81 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, baffling gas company officials.

No one was injured in the blast and the fire was quickly put out by the Corte Madera Fire Department.

The meters, part of a bank of eight in a closet next to the building, were replaced last night and service restored this morning, according to Harry McMasters of the information office for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The cause of the explosion is not known but it was definitely inside the meter as that is where the black deposit was, McMasters said.

Arson and sabotage were ruled out because there was no sign of external fire, he said.

Gas meter explosions are almost unheard of, he said.

PG&E also had electrical trouble yesterday when an underground cable short circuited in the Northgate Shopping Center No. 1, cutting power to nine stores from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., company spokesmen said.

Bandit Takes $100 At Bakery

A young man yesterday robbed the Locust Bakery in Mill Valley of $100 at gunpoint.

Bakery employees said he entered the building at 363 Miller Avenue at about 11:35 a.m. while no customers were present.

He showed a gun, demanded they open the cash register and took the money out himself, Mill Valley police said.

He was last seen fleeing south on Miller Avenue.

Marin City Center Study Authorized

A development firm last night was authorized to explore the feasibility of a major shopping center in Marin City.

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency board gave the go-ahead to Sutter Hill and Calvin and Co., according to Walace K. Shepherd, agency executive director.

He said the firm has expressed interest in building on remaining commercial property in the redevelopment agency. Sutter Hill envisions a shopping center similar to the Northgate Mall, Shepherd said.

In other business, the board told Daniel Hayden, a Marin City market owner, to proceed with his plans for a new market on 10 acres of commercial redevelopment land. Shepherd said Hayden and the agency must now work out a purchase agreement for the property.

Collegian's Grand Jury Duties Told

A former Marin judge testified yesterday that a college student was appointed to the 1971 grand jury in an attempt to broaden the panel's outlook.

Six San Quentin inmates are challenging the selection process of the jury which indicted them on murder and conspiracy charges following a day of violence at the prison on August 1971.

Former Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner related that Richard W. Beban, then president of the student body at the College of Marin, was named to the grand jury to counterbalance the more conservative jury members.

The San Quentin Six says the charges against them should be dismissed because Marin's five superior court judges systematically excluded from the jury everyone but well-to-do whites.

Gardiner testified Beban was one of three jurors who walked out when the grand jury handed down indictments against Fleeta Drumgo, Hugo Pinell, John Larry Spain, Willie Tate, Louis Talamantez and David Johnson.

The hearing before visiting Superior Court Judge Vernon Stoll is expected to continue into next week. Court clerks said they doubt Beban will be called as a witness.

Contract Awarded For Storm Drain

The W.K. McLellan Co. of San Rafael last night won a contract to build a storm drain in Corte Madera.

The town council awarded the job to the firm which was low bidder for the project. Work will include construction of 635 feet of drain in the Chapman Drive-Manzanita Avenue area of Corte Madera.

Board In Agreement On Unification Study

A proposal to unify schools in the Rohnert Park area must be studied from the viewpoint of small school districts, the Petaluma Board of Education agreed last night.

The Sonoma County Committee on School District Reorganization is studying a plan by the Cotati-Rohnert Park School District to expand to a first through twelfth grade system and to unify surrounding small elementary districts.

The plan would remove two secondary schools in Rohnert Park from the Petaluma High School District. Board members voiced no objection to the plan and were told that the boundary change would not cause financial problems.

Robert T. Stimson, board representative to the county committee, said small districts such as Dunham, Liberty and Bellvue would be swallowed up in the unification. He said residents have opposed the plan since they would lose local control of their schools and see their tax rates increase.

If the county committee were to approve the unification plan at its January meeting, it would still be subject to a special election.

Stimson said the Petaluma board must be concerned with the effects of unification on the smaller districts. Board members set a meeting for trustees from all affected districts for Dec. 11 at 7 p.m. at the Petaluma administration building.

Recommendations from individual school boards must be made in December for consideration at the January county committee meeting.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

PARK PLANS — Heard Petaluma recreation director James R. Raymond explain plans for a new city park on 4.5 acres behind Kenilworth Junior High School. Initial plans include two Little League diamonds, a soccer field, restrooms and concession stand.

APPOINTMENT — Named Brenda Shilling to fill a vacancy on the Penngrove Citizens' Advisory Committee.

MEETING — Adjourned to the next regular meeting on Nov. 27 at 7 p.m. at Valley Vista School.

Many Holiday Activities Set

A wide-ranging program of holiday activities, including classes, films and field trips, has been scheduled by the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Department.

Holiday season classes, which begin late this month, include courses in Christmas crafts, tiny tots, judo, tumbling, ballet, basketball, yoga and guitar, according to the department.

Special holiday events include a Christmas card contest for youngsters aged 6 through 12; an ice skating party, a basketball tournament and a Walt Disney film festival.

Registration information is available from the parks and recreation office

Madera Del Presidio Cuts Made

The Ring Mountain Advisory Committee last night made some changes on a development map outlining future land uses for Ring Mountain on the Tiburon Peninsula.

Secretary Sandar A. Dorsaneo said the group agreed, under pressure from Corte Madera representatives, to cut proposed units for the Madera Del Presidio development from 181 to 162. It also decided to move 40 units proposed for Tamalpais High School District land in the Reedlands area of Tiburon to another site.

Mrs. Dorsaneo said the group's planner, Dennis Klein, will try to find possible alternate locations for the units removed from the two sites.

Also last night, county planning director Werner Von Gundell urged the group to include some development on the La Cresta property, for which building proposals have been submitted to the county by Theodore P. Hudec of San Francisco. But the group decided not to change its plans, which ban building on the 103-acre site, Mrs. Dorsaneo said.

The county-organized committee, including Tiburon, Corte Madera and Strawberry Representatives, will meet again Nov. 19 at 8 p.m. at Tiburon City Hall to discuss the plan and then will present it Nov. 29 when the county planning commission reviews the Strawberry master plan.

The Ring Mountain plan calls for 710 units on the 909-acre mountain, which lies largely in unincorporated land but runs into Tiburon and Corte Madera. Most of the development would be in clusters near the edge of existing residences at the mountain's base.

Airman Is Bound Over On Charge

An Air Force security policeman was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a grand theft charge arising from the snatching of an elderly woman's purse in Mill Valley Nov. 2.

Municipal Judge Robert A. Smallman ruled there is enough evidence to hold Albert William Vielbaum, 20, and ordered him to appear Nov. 26 in the higher court.

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 14, the 318th day of 1973 with 47 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Robert Fulton, inventor of the steamboat, was born November 14, 1765.

Also on this day in history:

In 1832, the first horse-drawn street car made its appearance in New York City. It carried 30 passengers.

In 1851, Herman Melville's novel "Moby Dick" was published.

In 1940, German planes bombed Coventry, in southern England, destroying or damaging 69,000 of the 75,000 buildings in the city.

In 1972, for the first time in its 76-year history, the Dow Jones industrial stock averages closed above 1,000. Also on that day, former Congressman Martin Dies, first chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, died at the age of 71.

A thought for the day: Swedish inventor Charles Francis Kettering said: "A man must have a certain amount of intelligent ignorance to get anywhere."

Third-Hand Finesse Proves Fatal For South's Contract

Certain opening leads are proper against a no-trump contract but not against a suit bid. This fact has its effect on the proper third-hand play by the leader's partner.

Opening lead — ♠ 2

LOW SPADE

West opened the deuce of spades, and South played the low spade from dummy with as confident a look as he could muster. He expected the opponents to take the first five spade tricks, but he saw no reason to advertise his distress by complaining about the bidding.

East hemmed and hawed. Finally, he finessed with the ten of spades, saving the king to cover dummy's queen.

South pounced on that first trick with the jack of spades and swiftly ran his eight other top tricks — four clubs, two diamonds and two hearts.

SUIT CONTRACT

East's finesse with the ten of spades would have been proper against a suit contract. West would not, in that case, be leading from the ace of spades. If South is known to have the ace of spades, East may gain by playing the ten of spades but cannot gain by playing the king at the first trick.

Since the contract was no-trump, however, it was quite possible that West was leading from the ace of spades. In that case, it was better for East to put up the king at the first trick.

BEST CHANCE

Moreover, since dummy's long hearts might well have been solid for all East could tell, East's best chance was to defeat the contract before South could gain the lead. The main hope was to find four spades to the ace in the West hand.

Clearly, East would defeat the contract by taking the king of spades and returning a spade. The defenders would take the first five tricks and could then cheerfully give South the rest.

Yule Tree Growers Told Not To Worry

SALEM, Ore. (UPI) — The Oregon Department of Agriculture says undue alarm has spread through the state's Christmas tree industry over reports that California agriculture inspectors will be checking tree shipments for the tussock moth.

W.H. Kosesan, assistant director for the department's plant division, said Monday that Oregon growers need not be concerned over the report. He said shipments of the trees "will not be quarantined or unduly delayed."

Nixon Backer Faces Fraud Indictment

CHICAGO (AP) — The man who managed the President's 1968 campaign in Illinois has been named in a federal indictment charging him with a $1 million fraud scheme involving banks and a New York City credit union.

The 23-count indictment against William H. Rentschler, 48, was made public Monday. It charged that Rentschler fraudulently got loans from 27 banks and the Aetna Business Credit Inc. of New York City. The loans were intended for himself and corporations of which he was an officer or a stockholder, the government said. Rentschler claims he is innocent.

Prices Soaring

SANTIAGO (UPI) — Soaring inflation in Chile added another 87.6 per cent to prices during the first full month of military junta, according to the National Statistical Institute.

ORDINANCE NO. 1124
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL AMENDING CHAPTER 9.20 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE ENTITLED INDUSTRIAL WASTE.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

DIVISION 1. Title 9, Chapter 9.20 of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael entitled Industrial Waste is hereby amended and shall read as follows:

Chapter 9.20 Industrial Waste
Sections:
9.20.010 Definitions.
9.20.020 Dumping of Waste Prohibited.
9.20.030 Violations.

9.20.010 DEFINITIONS.

A. "Person" means any individual, firm, partnership, corporation or business association. The singular shall include the plural.

B. Waste:

1. "Domestic Waste" means waterborne waste of the type resulting from flushing and washing waste products from residences and lavatories.

2. "Industrial Waste" means any waterborne waste from manufacturing, processing or industry, except domestic waste and uncontaminated cooling water.

3. "Sewage" means any combination of domestic waste and industrial waste together with such ground, surface and storm waters as may be present or any waste substances or materials collected or obtained from chemical or portable toilets or septic tanks, cesspools or other means of sewage disposal.

C. "Water pollution control system" means all facilities of the City of San Rafael for transporting sewage and/or storm drainage systems.

D. "Shall" is mandatory; "may" is permissive.

E. "Nuisance" means any nuisance known as common law or in equity jurisprudence.

9.20.020 DUMPING OF WASTE PROHIBITED. No person shall dump or discharge any waste material into the water pollution control system of the City of San Rafael except through authorized connections issued by the San Rafael Sanitation District.

9.20.030 VIOLATIONS. Any person violating the provisions of this Chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and guilty of a separate offense for each and every day during which said violation shall continue and upon conviction for each such violation shall be punishable pursuant to the provisions of Section 1.12.010 of the Municipal Code of the City of San Rafael.

Further, any violations of this Chapter are hereby deemed to be a nuisance per se and subject to abatement pursuant to the laws of the State of California and shall become liable to the City of San Rafael for any expenses, loss or damage occasioned by reason of such violation.

DIVISION 2. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance is for any reason held to be invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance. The Council hereby declares that it would have adopted the Ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared invalid.

DIVISION 3. This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage, in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

Agnew To Fight Disbarment Try

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — A lawyer for Spiro T. Agnew yesterday said the former vice president will apparently fight efforts by the Maryland Bar Association to have him disbarred.

Attorney Leon H.A. Pierson said his client "has no intentions of leaving the bar. He doesn't believe he has to." He said Agnew would appear in the Maryland court of appeals to plead in his defense.

The court yesterday appointed a three-judge panel to preside over a hearing for possible disbarment of the former vice president. It was issued a day after the Maryland Bar Association filed a petition asking for a disciplinary hearing for Agnew. If he is disbarred, Agnew would be prohibited from practicing law anywhere in the United States.

Son Of Singer Dies In Crash

HERNANDO, Miss. (UPI) — Jerry Lee Lewis Jr., the 19-year-old son of the popular singer and pianist, died yesterday after his car overturned near here, Desoto County sheriff's officers said.

Officers said young Lewis, a drummer, was trapped beneath the vehicle for about one hour. His last public appearance was last Friday night on the NBCTV "Midnight Special" show, a family spokesman said.

Lewis had been living with his father, country and western singer Jerry Lee Lewis, at the Lewis home in Nesbit, Miss.

Oklahoma Town To Honor Astronaut

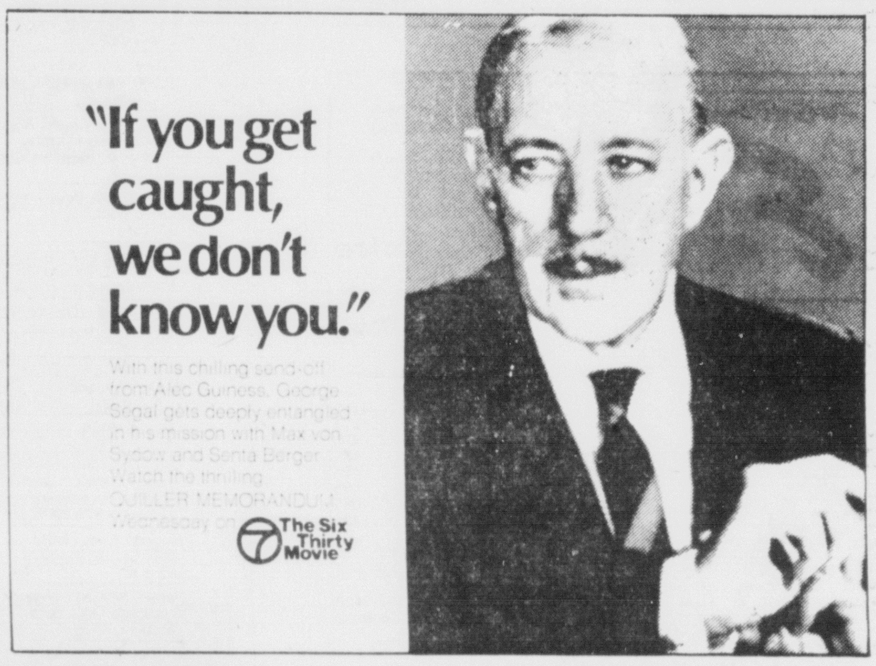

ENID, Okla. (UPI) — A day of activities to honor Skylab 2 astronaut Owen Garriott Jr. has been arranged at his hometown of Enid, where Phillips University will award him an honorary doctor of science degree.

Garriott was in orbit 59-½ days during the second manned Skylab mission July 28-Sept. 25.

100th Birthday To Be Historic One

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI) — Clara Bartels, who has lived in the United States since she was 8, will be 100 years old next Tuesday. It will be her first birthday as a U.S. citizen.

Mrs. Bartels, who came here in 1881 from the Netherlands, explained to U.S. Judge Noel P. Fox at her naturalization ceremony yesterday that she was a bit tardy about becoming a citizen because, "I never thought about it. I always thought I was one."

Some of us love great fires. And hate hard work.

For centuries I burned real logs. They were a devilish problem.
Ordering all that wood far in advance, storing it, kindling it started, poking it alive—even I was beginning to hate this place.
Excuse the expression, but thank heaven Pine Mountain Logs came along. They really make the job a lot easier.
They start without kindling, just a sheet of newspaper.
They burn evenly, leaving only a trace of ash.
And each log burns brightly a full 3 hours. There's even a new treated log that adds color to the flame.
All in all, Pine Mountain Logs mean less time working at the fire, more time enjoying it.
This place isn't half as bad as it used to be.

Police Seek Missing Teen In Terra Linda

San Rafael police are looking for a Terra Linda teen-ager, missing since 3 p.m. Sunday.

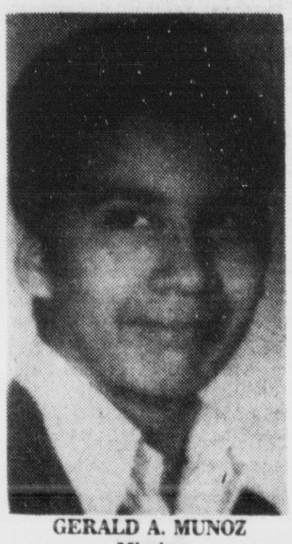

Officer Don Rose said Gerald (Jerry) A. Munoz, 15, failed to return from an auto mechanics class. The youth, a sophomore at Terra Linda High School, was last seen by his sister who drove him to the Corte Madera Shopping Center Sunday afternoon.

There, young Munoz was to meet an unidentified acquaintance who was to drive him to the class, Rose said.

Munoz, of Mexican descent, is 5 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs 135 pounds. He has black hair and brown eyes and was wearing a tan striped shirt, green jacket and blue bell-bottom Levis when he disappeared.

His family does not believe he has run away. "He had no reason to take off; he never did it before," said his brother, John.

Persons having information in the case are asked to contact the teen-ager's mother at 824 Tamarack Drive or police.

Freeways Growth

BONN (UPI) — West Germany's autobahn (superhighways) network, already the most modern and extensive in Europe, grew by another 430 kilometers (270 miles) in 1972, to a total of 5,258 kilometers (3,285 miles), according to government figures.

Firm Admits To Illegal Contribution

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Braniff Airways has become the fourth major US corporation to admit making an illegal contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

On Monday, the corporation and board chairman Harding L. Lawrence pleaded guilty to making an illegal $40,000 cash contribution to Nixon's 1972 campaign.

The Senate Watergate Committee today begins taking testimony from executives of eight US corporations, including Braniff, on corporate campaign contributions and the power an incumbent administration has to induce businessmen to make such generous gifts.

The federal criminal charges were the first filed by Leon Jaworski since he became special Watergate prosecutor Nov. 1 replacing Cox.

US District Judge George L. Hart Jr. fined the airline $5,000 —the maximum penalty provided by law—and Lawrence $1,000.

Federal law prohibits national banks, corporations and labor unions from contributing directly to political organizations or candidates.

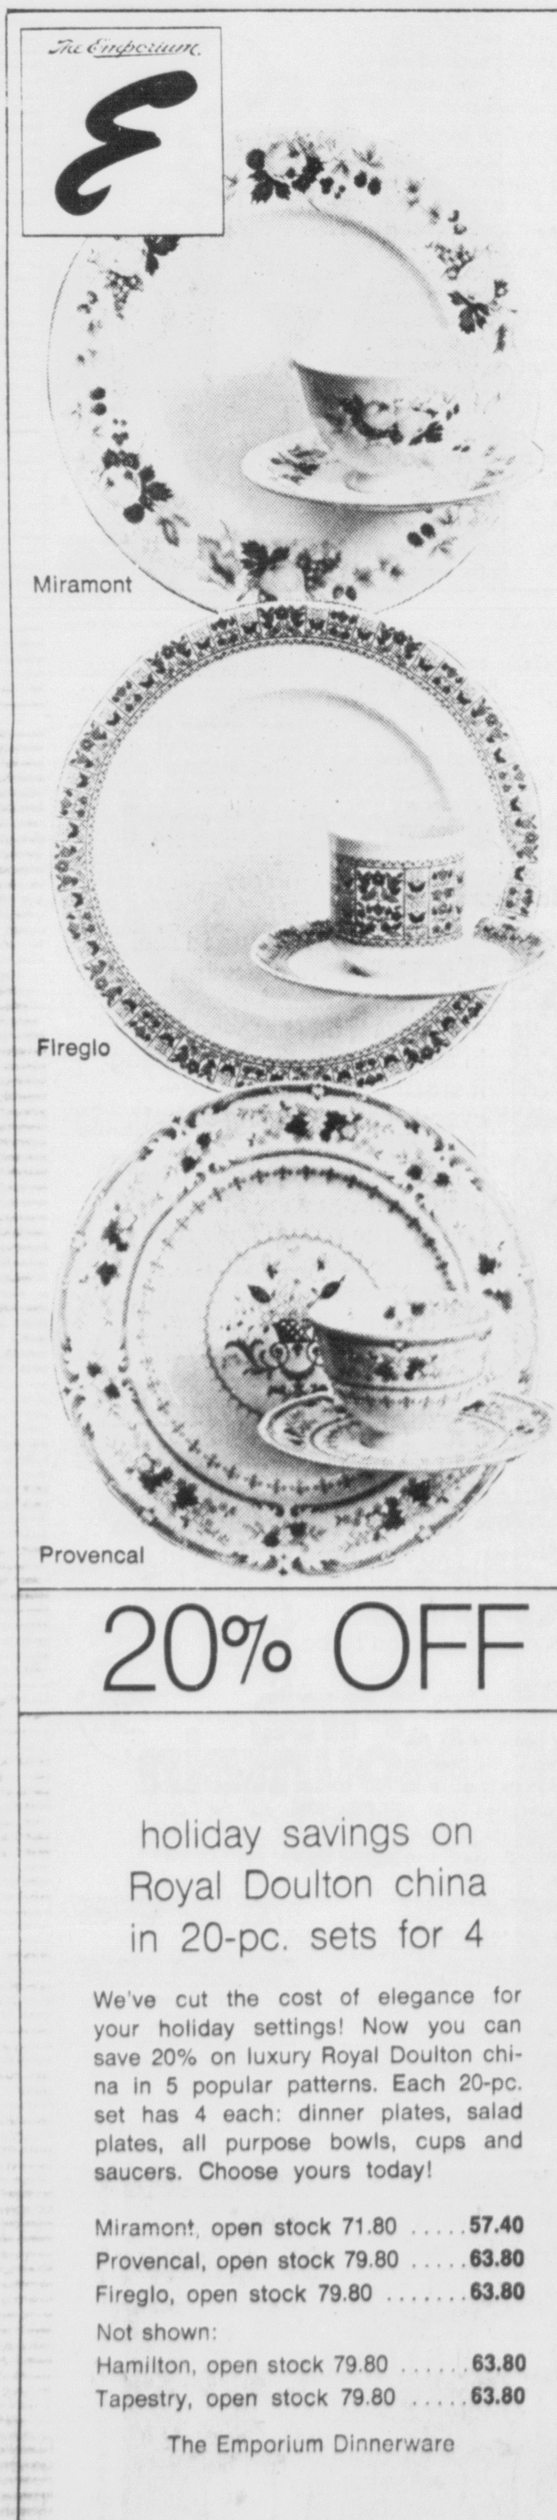

Before he was fired as special Watergate prosecutor, Archibald Cox brought similar criminal charges against American Airlines, Goodyear Tire and Rubber and Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing (MMM). All three pleaded guilty.

Lawrence and Braniff waived indictments, each pleading guilty to charges that the company contributed $40,000 in cash to the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President. Lawrence was charged with a federal misdemeanor because he "consented to the contribution."

Lawrence received the maximum fine, but he could also have been imprisoned for as much as one year.

American Airlines, Goodyear Rubber and Tire and Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing have all pleaded guilty to similar charges.

List Of Faithful Is Shrinking Fast

The number of 49er Faithful had dwindled to 33 but reserve wide receiver John Isenbarger was appreciative of those who turned up, and he said so.

"This is what happens when you're losing," said the four-year pro from Indiana University. "Bruce Taylor and I were at Sacramento (that chapter of the 49er Goal Rushers) last week and 150 usually show up there. There were 25. I appreciate everybody who came tonight."

JOHN ISENBARGER

The 33 had left the warmth of their living rooms to attend last night's dinner of the Marin chapter of the 49er Goal Rushers at New Joe's in Corte Madera. Since the 49ers have lost six of their nine games, the boosters' enthusiasm has been going downhill. The players aren't too happy about it either.

"Most of the guys are down," said Isenbarger who was accompanied by his very pretty wife, Laura. "We're used to winning the thing. I've been here four years and we've won three times. I'm sure there is going to be a change."

Many of the questions from the boosters concerned Joe Reed, the young quarterback who is threatening to win the regular job from Steve Spurrier after John Brodie's retirement becomes effective at the end of the season.

ISENBARGER GAVE his personal opinion that Reed is going to be a "great quarterback of the future" and said, "He's an inspiration to the team." Not knowing that head coach Dick Nolan had announced a few hours earlier that Reed would be starting against the Rams Sunday in Los Angeles, John said, "In my opinion, Joe should be starting." But as Ike (as he is called by his teammates) said, he's not the one who makes those decisions.

Isenbarger was candid about the 49ers' weakness in the ground game which is allowing defenses to stack up against the pass.

"Our running game isn't setting the world on fire. The linemen have to knock people down before the runners can do anything," he declared. He said he gained 1,200 yards his senior year as a running back at Indiana but his team blocked well for running plays. "I don't think we do that too well."

WHEN IT WAS SUGGESTED the breaks are going against the Niners this year, Isenbarger wouldn't jump on that excuse. "About penalties — we're getting caught and other teams aren't. We can't use penalties as an excuse for losing. They are getting caught holding." It was a simple explanation.

"Some guys aren't playing this year," he said. "It's at a level now that you have to get yourself up. If each guy does his own job we can win. But if he tries to help other guys, we're in trouble."

About the other quarterbacks in the 49ers' scheme, Isenbarger said Spurrier "probably doesn't feel too good" about Reed starting ahead of him since Steve had a good year last season; Brodie "has made up his mind" about retiring; and Dennis Morrison "is not the passer Reed is." (Morrison is on the 49ers' inactive "taxi squad" list.)

HE SAID THE 49ERS might possibly be trying new things in the last five games of a season since any chance at the playoffs has ended.

A number two draft pick by the 49ers in 1970, Isenbarger led Indiana rushing all three varsity seasons and was an All-America choice his senior year. That year he did it all — gained 1,217 yards rushing, completed six of 11 passes for 137 yards and three touchdowns, caught 13 passes for 147 yards, punted 65 times for a 37.8 yard average, and returned three kickoffs for 40 yards.

During the off season he works in the Bay Area for the March of Dimes.

RICK DeMONT
Wins award

Male Swimmer Of Year Title For DeMont

Rick DeMont, who broke the magic four minute barrier in the 400 meter freestyle in September, has been chosen the world's best male swimmer of the year by the editors of Swimming World Magazine, it was announced yesterday.

The 17-year-old University of Washington freshman from Terra Linda will be honored in the next issue of the monthly magazine, published in North Hollywood, Calif. It probably will be available the first week of December.

East Germany's Lornelia Ender was named the top female swimmer. She and East Germany's Roland Matthes were selected the European swimmers of the year.

DeMont swam the 400 free in 3:58.18 in the World Aquatic Championships in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, the first week in September, edging Australia's Brad Cooper by half a second as the two became the first ever to swim the event in under four minutes.

DeMont also set an American record of 15:51.02 in the 1,500 free in August in the national Amateur Athletic Union Championships in Louisville, Ky. He lowered that mark to 15:35.44, second fastest in history, but lost to the world record effort of 15:31.85 by Australia's Steve Holland in Belgrade.

Miss Ender, a 15-year-old high schooler, set a world record 57.54 in winning the women's 100-meter freestyle at the world championships. She also established a world mark in the 100-meter butterfly with a 1:02.31 this year.

DeMont was at swimming practice at the University of Washington and was unavailable for comment.

PLANS TO IMPROVE BAT MARKS

MVP Jackson Lists His Goals

NEW YORK (UPI) — "There are lots of things I can do in the game that I haven't done."

An aging star, perhaps? A retiring veteran, maybe? No, just the small-boy enthusiasm of 27-year-old Reggie Jackson, selected unanimously yesterday as the American League's Most Valuable Player this year, and thinking he still has more to do to prove himself.

Jackson, only the seventh player in the 43-year history of MVP awards to win without a dissenting vote, led the American League with 32 homers and 117 runs batted in this year and batted .293. He previously was named MVP of the Oakland A's second straight World Series victory as well.

But, Jackson said, he still has plenty to do, and he enumerated some of his goals:

"I have not hit .300 yet," he told a news conference in Oakland. "I have not hit 50 home runs. I have not stolen 40 bases. I have not won two MVP's. And I have not been on three world championship teams."

". . . Until I do them, I will be shortchanging myself, the fans, the owners, the team and everybody else," Jackson added. "I would like to be the best. Whether I can or not remains to be seen."

Named first on every ballot cast by a 24-man committee — two in each AL city —of the Baseball Writers Association of America, Jackson polled 336 points to easily outdistance runnerup Jim Palmer of the Baltimore Orioles.

His selection also capped a comeback of sorts for Jackson, who was forced to miss the 1972 World Series when he injured his leg stealing home with the decisive run in the final game of the playoffs. Because of that, he was so intent on playing this year he shrugged off a crackpot death threat and played in the Series under the constant watch of a bodyguard.

REGGIE JACKSON
MVP has goals

Palmer, the league's Cy Young Award winner as the top pitcher after four successive 20-victory seasons, drew 11 second-place votes and 172 points while centerfielder Amos Otis of Kansas City, 1 .300 hitter, had 112.

Rod Carew of Minnesota, who won his third batting title this year with a .350 average, Detroit reliever John Hiller and Oakland third baseman Sal Bando each had 83 points.

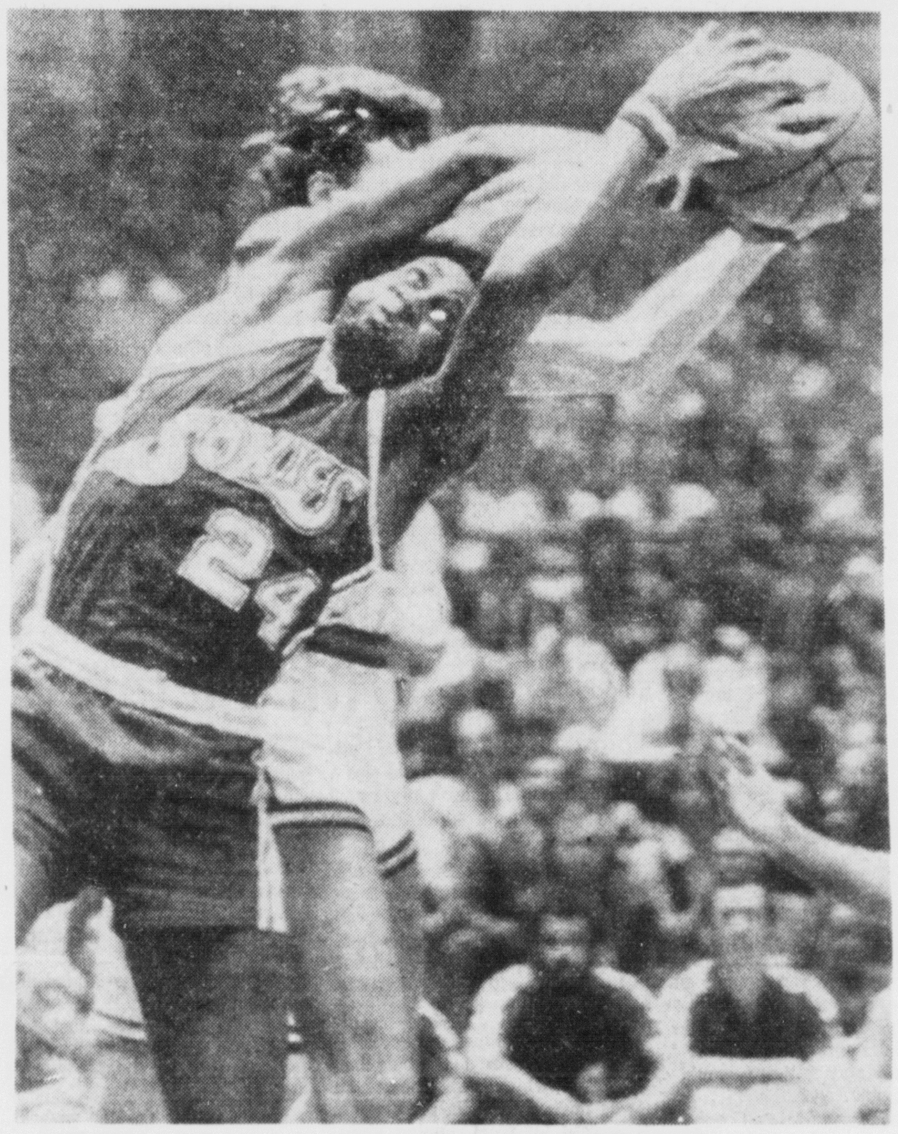

The previous unanimous selections were Denny McLain of Detroit (1968), Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis —the only unanimous winner ever in the NL —(1967), Frank Robinson, Baltimore (1966), Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees (1956), Al Rosen, Cleveland (1953) and Hank Greenberg, Detroit (1935).

A six-year veteran, Jackson is approaching the $100,000 salary level but refused to say if that's what he would ask of owner Charlie Finley for 1974. Jackson has been an outspoken critic of Finley's, particularly when the A's owner created such a ruckus with his off-the-field antics at the World Series.

"That's like the sun coming up," Jackson said of his six-figure goal. "I'm eventually going to make $100,000 a year, and I figure on going on right past that."

Jackson said, however, he wouldn't ask for an "unreasonable" figure like $175,000 or $200,000, and his reaction to the unanimous MVP vote was a tip-off on that.

"I didn't think anyone could be that valuable," Jackson said.

A SONIC BOOMED

Seattle's Spencer Haywood (24) thought last night he had control of another rebound in New York, but the Knicks' Phil Jackson snatched the basketball away from the surprised Sonic in National Basketball Association play. The Knicks prevailed, 104-102. See NBA story, page 43.

OLYMPIC STAR SAYS

All Amateurs Are Subsidized

NEW YORK (AP) — Donna de Verona swam in two Olympics, held 18 national and world records and, she insists, never was an amateur.

"There is no such thing as an amateur in sports," the pretty, blonde television commentator and sports militant, said today. "All of us are subsidized in one way or another.

"When I was young I was subsidized by my parents. They sweated to pay for my lessons, six hours a day. Later I was subsidized by my club and then by the U.S. Olympic Committee.

"The word 'amateur' is the most a bused and hypocritical word in the English language."

Miss de Verona, 26, is one of the most active figures in the growing movement to reform the U.S. Olympic setup. She has spent weeks going back and forth to Washington, D.C., to confer with Senators John Tunney, D-Calif., and Marlow Cook, D-Ky., and Rep. Bob Mathias, R-Calif., on national sports bills.

She was on hand in New York yesterday when Mathias, decathlon gold medalist in the 1948 and 1952 Games, presented his bill to amend the U.S. Olympic Charter by giving the individual athlete greater consideration.

The Mathias bill might be loosely labeled the "Athletes Bill of Rights Bill."

"It is a good bill," Donna acknowledged, "but it only goes part way — as do most of these bills — in clearing the atmosphere and spelling out the rights and privileges of the competitors.

"It does not call for a sports foundation. That is what I want. That is what most of the ath-

Warriors In Costly Win

OAKLAND (UPI) — It was a pyrrhic victory for the Golden State Warriors.

They found themselves with only seven healthy players today after Clyde Lee injured his left knee in last night's 128-115 victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers. The win lifted the Warriors into first place in the National Basketball Association's Pacific Division by .015 percentage points over the Los Angeles Lakers.

But at the same time, the Warriors may have lost one of the league's premier defensive forwards in the 6-foot-8 Lee. He tore ligaments on his knee in the opening minute of the third quarter when big Bob Rule crashed into him as a referee's whistle blew a play dead.

"I've never been hurt like this before so I thought I was okay," said Lee, who ranks eighth among the NBA rebounders with a 13.8 average. "But when I got up and put some weight on the knee, it just wouldn't hold."

Dr. James Raggio, the team physician, said extensive X-rays would be taken today to determine whether Lee will have to undergo surgery. Surgery would sideline Lee for a couple of months and dampen Golden State's chances in the Pacific Division.

"What this means is that Cazzie (Russell) and Rick (Barry) are going to have to work a little harder on the boards," said Warrior Coach Al Attles.

"If we find out for sure that Clyde will be out for a while, we'll look around for a strong forward."

At the moment, the Warriors have only seven healthy players —Barry, Nate Thurmond, Jeff Mullins, Russell, Charlie Johnson, Derrek Dickey and Butch Beard. However, ailing players such as George Johnson, Joe Ellis and Jim Barnett are expected back within a week or two.

Barry scored 22 of his game-high 43 points in the third period to spark the Warriors' eighth win against five losses. It was a season high for Barry who hit on 16-of-28 shots.

As a team, the Warriors connected on 54.3 per cent of their shots. They entertain the Philadelphia 76ers on Saturday night.

49ers' Reed Starts Versus Rams Sunday

Combined AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — Joe Reed was picked to start at quarterback against the Los Angeles Rams Sunday and Steve Spurrier became miffed.

"I've played one full game this year and I set a team record for completions and threw for 323 yards (in a 17-14 loss to Minnesota)," said Spurrier, who figures he should be the heir-apparent to retiring John Brodie.

Spurrier learned yesterday he wouldn't start about one hour after coach Dick Nolan mentioned it to sports writers.

"If I'm not going to play, I wish he'd tell me about it," said Spurrier, a former Heisman Trophy winner from Florida. "I'd go ahead and get my knee cleaned up. I have a loose cartilage and it needs minor surgery."

Nolan said, "I intended to tell Steve but you guys (writers) beat me to it."

Reed, who was sacked seven times in a 33-9 loss to the Washington Redskins last week, said he didn't really expect to start against the Rams, "but on the other hand I'm not surprised."

"It's going to be between Steve and me," he said.

"I think the team can win with me at quarterback," he added.

Nolan also announced that running back Vic Washington will return to the starting lineup. He was sidelined last weekend with an ear infection.

Girls Swimming

Marin Catholic High School defeated host San Domenico yesterday, 81-26, in a Marin County Athletic League girls swimming meet.

San Rafael Wins

With Mike Gallivan scoring 12 points and Mike Chiaravalle nine, San Rafael High School's Class C basketball team defeated Drake yesterday in San Anselmo, 36-25. Drake's "B" team evened the score by beating San Rafael's "B" team, 32-27.

Houston Kegler Takes Tourney

Combined AP & UPI

ST. LOUIS — Butch Gearhart of Houston, rallying from a serious injury in a car accident early this year, knocked down an average of 238 pins to beat four foes in the finals of the $50,000 Brut Open Bowling Tournament last night.

Gearhart soared past Skee Foremsky, also of Houston, by a 245-181 margin in the championship match to take the $5,000 first prize and gain a berth in next year's $125,000 Firestone Tournament of Champions, pro bowling's biggest event. It was his first victory since early in 1972 and his fifth in Professional Bowler's Association play.

Football

NEW YORK — Buffalo Bills running back O.J. Simpson, last night was presented the lifesaver of the month award for September for setting the National Football League single-game rushing record, Sept. 16 with 250 yards against New England.

ATLANTA — Atlanta Falcons wide receiver Ken Burrow, the National Football League team's leader in receptions, will undergo a neck operation and be lost for the rest of the season, coach Norm Van Brocklin said yesterday.

CHICAGO — Tom Reynolds, Chicago Bears' wide receiver who suffered a left knee ligaments injury on the Bears' last play in the game against Kansas City Monday night, has undergone surgery and will be out the rest of the season, the Bears announced Tuesday.

Hockey

DETROIT — The Detroit Red Wings announced yesterday that former coach Ted Garvin has agreed to handle the behind-the-bench duties of the Virginia Wings of the American Hockey League.

Horse Racing

NORTH RANDALL, Ohio — Veteran jockey Roman Sainz yesterday suffered a fractured skull when a horse he was breezing during a workout at Thistledown Race Track dropped dead on the main stretch, sending the rider headfirst into a hard track. Sainz, 34, of Newell, W. Va., was listed in serious condition at Suburban Community Hospital.

Baseball

ARLINGTON, Tex. — Larry Gura, a left-handed pitcher who had a 2-4 record with the Chicago Cubs last season, joined the Texas Rangers yesterday to complete a baseball deal in which the Rangers sent Mike Paul to the Cubs last August.

WASHINGTON — The National Transportation Safety Board yesterday turned down a request by the Federal Aviation Administration to permanently revoke the license of Arthur Revera, the co-pilot and owner of the plane which crashed last New Year's eve, killing baseball star Roberto Clemente.

Basketball

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — The Milwaukee Bucks placed Chuck Terry on waivers yesterday and activated National Basketball Association veteran Dick Cunningham.

Tennis

LOS ANGELES — Rod Laver, winner of the Australian Indoor Championships last week, has become the seventh player this year to go over the $100,000 mark in international prize money winnings and moved into sixth-place on the top-10 list, it was announced yesterday.

Laver has collected $109,050 this year, just behind Arthur Ashe, who has $109,100, according to figures released by the Association of Tennis Professionals.

Stanford Questions Interference Call

BURLINGAME, Calif. (UPI) — While giving Southern California, "a lot of credit for coming back the way they did," Stanford Coach Jack Christiansen considers a key pass interference call "questionable" in the Trojans' heart-stopping 27-26 win over USC last Saturday.

The Cards led 26-17 with less than three minutes left but an interference call against Jim Kaffen gave USC a first down at the Stanford 12, setting up a touchdown. Chris Limahelu's field goal with three seconds left finished off Stanford.

Christiansen, a legendary defensive back as a player, told the Northern California football writers yesterday that, "the rule states if two players are going for the ball and they are looking at the football and they bump into each other, there is no interference. On film, it looks as if (Lynn) Swann ran into Kaffen and Jim said he was looking at the ball and somebody hit him.

But he conceded it was just a judgment call on the part of the official, who "doesn't have the advantage of being able to run films back and forth."

He called it "a very emotional game" and praised Rod Garcia, who kicked four field goals, including a Coliseum record 59-yarder and also set the National Collegiate Athletic Association career field goal mark. The writers named him co-Offensive Player of the Week for his efforts.

The Cardinals host Oregon this Saturday and Ducks publicist Hal Cowan noted that the Ducks were a young team that has been hurt by mistakes.

"One of the Oregon papers called us 'a team bent on selfdestruction.' " he said. "We just haven't matured enough to avoid making mistakes; if we had, we'd be a lot better than 2-7."

But Cowan said running back Don Reynolds, tight end Russ Francis, defensive tackle Reggie Lewis and safety Steve Donnelly were among the West's best.

Coach Mike White of Cal suggested that the muddy field in last Saturday's 19-9 Bear win over San Jose State would get his team ready for Saturday's game at Washington State.

"Playing in Pullman is always an interesting experience," he said. "It snowed a week ago there and the Oregon-Washington State game two weeks ago there was finished in a blizzard."

Stabler Is Planning To Face Browns

OAKLAND (UPI) — Don't count Ken Stabler out of Sunday's game with the Cleveland Browns at the Oakland Coliseum.

The injured Oakland Raider quarterback said yesterday from his hospital bed in Los Angeles that he expects to play against the Browns despite his knee injury.

"I don't think it's as bad as they first thought," said Stabler. "It feels really good. It's a little sore but much better."

Dr. Robert Rosenfeld, Raider orthopedic surgeon, diagnosed the injury as a sprained ligament. He has been examining and treating the Raider quarterback for the last few days at Mt. Sinai Hospital in Los Angeles.

Stabler, who hurt his knee early in the second period Sunday when he was tackled by L.C. Greenwood and Joe Greene of the Pittsburgh Steelers, said he expects to go through light workouts today with the Raiders.

If Stabler can't make it, Daryle Lamonica will open against the Browns. Cleveland and Oakland both own 5-3-1 records and the Browns are hoping to make the playoffs as the wild-card team in the American Football Conference.

Miss de Verona said she sees little difference in the subsidization of sports by Communist countries and the subsidization of college athletes in the United States.

"Both get paid because they are good in some sport," she said. "Therefore, I think it is ridiculous to continue the charade that we are pure and others aren't."

Tennessee State Decides Not To Enter Playoffs

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The nation's top ranked small college football team won't compete in NCAA Division II playoffs this year because five of its star players would be ineligible.

Tennessee State's Coach John Merritt says defensive Tackle Ed "Too Tall" Jones, Carl Wafer and Shawney Wynn, split receiver John Holland and offensive tackle Gergory Kindle would all be ineligible for post season play under the rule prohibiting participation by players who have competed four years beyond their freshman year.

"It is our considered opinion that without the use of these ineligible players our team would not be adequately able to represent the university," athletic director Howard Gentry wrote.

No Conservative Play For Gibby

PINEHURST, N.C. (UPI) — With $100,000 at stake, Gibby Gilbert has no intention of going conservative.

"I want to shoot for a real good round Wednesday and see if I can't increase my lead," Gilbert said before starting round five of the marathon $500,000 World Open Golf Championship. "Maybe I can give myself some real coasting room."

Gilbert, who has had to struggle to survive during his first six years on the tour, has put himself into excellent position to capture the richest purse in golf history by shooting a four-under-par 280 for the first half of this eight-round tournament. As a result, he carried a fat five-stroke advantage over Al Geiberger and Tom Watson when play resumed today after a two-day break.

Inevitably, and despite his constant reminder that "there's still a long way to go, the subject of money wends its way into any conversation with Gilbert.

"It's unreal," says the 32-year-old native Tennessean of the $100,000 jackpot that could be his come Saturday. And then jokingly, "Some people have to work six months for that kind of money, don't they?"

But the pressure of the money, along with the incidental task of racking up only the second victory of his career, doesn't seem to faze Gilbert.

"I haven't felt any of the pressure during the two days off," he said. "In fact, I enjoyed a couple of relaxed rounds under the sun. When I go out Wednesday I suppose I'll feel some pressure, but normally I play better under those conditions."

Gilbert is confident, too, since all of the final four rounds will be played over the No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club, a 7,007-yard, par-71 layout he conquered both times he played it in the first half of the tournament with a record-breaking 62 and then a 70.

Even when he toured No. 2 for practice rounds Monday and yesterday in a group consisting of Sam Snead, J.C. Snead and Jerry Heard, Gilbert had scores of 71 and 67.

Speculation among the pros all last week was that even-par for eight rounds could win the tournament, and, indeed, Gilbert is the only player from the starting field of 240 who as much as matched par over 72 holes. Right now, he feels similar performance by him would be good enough.

"I shot 280 the first four rounds and I'll be happy to shoot 280 again the next four," he said.

Allen Miller, who shared the third-round lead with Gilbert before fading to a 76 on Sunday, was fourth at 286 starting the day, followed one stroke farther back by Heard, Bob Menne and Bobby Mitchell.

Seals Can Escape Cellar With Victory

OAKLAND (UPI) — The California Golden Seals could rise a bit from the cellar tonight at 8 o'clock with an upset win over invading Toronto.

That's because the Seals are at 4-9-1 for 9 points while Minnesota with 10 and Pittsburgh with 11 are going at each other. A Seals win would thus at least tie them with one of those clubs.

The Seals' much-maligned offense has scored 34 goals this season, which is about as much as anybody else in the division except for front-running Philadelphia with 46.

Meanwhile, the oft-praised Seals' defense has let 56 goals slide by and that's more than any other team in the division.

Coach Fred Glover has moved Reggie Leach to the same line as Walt McKechnie and Joey Johnston and Leach likes the move.

He hit his first goal Friday against Buffalo and then picked up his second moments later.

Leach feels that both he and his team are ready to start moving.

"We're not that far behind in the point standings," he said, "and that's the key. Just to keep close. In my opinion, pretty soon we'll be fighting for a playoff spot."

Leach admits that he wishes that the Seals could fill the Coliseum Arena and says he would rather play on the road because he likes packed houses. "Having no people around is a terrible thing in hockey," he says.

Top Of Bay Grid Ducats Go On Sale

Tickets for the second annual Top of the Bay Bowl football game went on sale yesterday at Redwood and Novato high schools in Marin County and at Petaluma High in Sonoma County.

The game, scheduled Nov. 23 at 7:30 p.m. at San Rafael High, will pit North Bay League representative Petaluma against the Marin County Athletic League representative, Novato or Redwood.

Tickets cost $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students. They also will be available at the gate.

Undefeated Petaluma (6-0) has clinched at least the NBL co-championship, and has defeated Vallejo (5-1), the only team which could tie for the title. Under a rule adopted this year by the league, the team which won the game between the co-champions gets the bowl bid. Last year, a coin flip would have been held had Petaluma not won the title outright.

Novato can win the MCAL co-championship and clinch the bowl berth with a victory Saturday over Terra Linda. The Hornets (4-1) have already beaten champion Redwood (5-1).

Mill Valley Team Wins Auto Award

VALLEJO — The husband-wife team of Jim and Karin Hearn of Mill Valley Saturday received the Northern Auto Racing Club's second-place owner's trophy at an awards banquet at Terry's Restaurant for the performance of their sprint car this year.

The Hearns, 10th last year, led in the point standings until blowing an engine in the 19th race on the 21-race circuit. Their regular driver, Rick Horton of Concord, switched to another car for the final races and won the first-place driver's award of $1,000. The Hearns' prize was $500.

Holtzman Honored At Dinner Jan. 21

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Lefthander Ken Holtzman, winner of two World Series games for the champion Oakland A's, will be honored Jan. 21 at the annual dinner of the St. Louis Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Holtzman, 28, a native of suburban University City, will share the J.G. Taylor Spink Award as St. Louis Baseball Man of the Year with Lou Brock and Ted Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals. The award is named for the late publisher of the Sporting News.

Magers Is Back Among Leaders

It cannot be described as a comeback, because he was never really gone, but Mark Magers is back among the Marin County Athletic League's rushing leaders.

After gaining 155 yards in 24 carries against San Marin Saturday, the 5-foot-10, 170-pound tailback for Novato High School vaulted from sixth to third place with 331 yards, according to statistics compiled by the Independent-Journal.

His chances of retaining the rushing championship he won last year as a junior remain slim, since San Marin's Wayne Roche has 488 yards, but Magers could move into second place ahead of Redwood's Mark Richter, who completed his season Saturday with 350.

Magers already has more carries (85) than Richter (79) or anybody else in the league except Roche (100), despite being shuttled in and out of the lineup as Novato has used seven other running backs.

Drake High's bomb-throwing quarterback, Terry Fahey, has moved into a tie with San Rafael's Dave Steele for the passing yardage leadership (525), despite attempting 30 fewer passes and completing nine fewer. He is averaging over 16 yards a completion, and leads the league with seven touchdown passes (five to tight end Corky Ingraham, the MCAL's leading scorer). He also has fewer interceptions (five) than any other QB who has been at the helm all year.

Drake leads the league in passing offense (107.8 yards a game) and is second in total offense (206.0) to San Rafael (250.0), which also leads in rushing (147.0). Novato continues to lead in rushing defense (36.0) and total defense (124.8) while Redwood is best against the pass (70.7).

Kevin Murphy of Tamalpais, whose season was ended by a broken ankle before last week's game, is virtually assured of the receiving crown with 26 catches, and still ranks 10th among ground gainers.

Ingraham, having an excellent year, is averaging 22.3 yards on 13 catches, both huge totals for a high school tight end.

Safety First: Post Your Route

Any time you take off in your boat on a cruise, an overnight trip or even a short jaunt more than a mile or so from your home base, be smart. Tell someone where you're going.

For if you should get into trouble and a search becomes necessary you've already beaten the biggest problem of any rescue operation. They know where to start looking.

This routine of telling someone where you are going applies very strongly to people who set out on a canoe trip or camping expedition into wilderness country. They should inform some responsible person of their route, objective and itinerary.

Many attempts have been made by public spirited bodies to institute a system much like the one used by fliers. When a pilot takes off on a cross country flight he usually files a flight plan with some competent authority. Then, if he's forced down and overdue, the difficulty in finding him is reduced for there is a route to follow.

A comparable idea for boats has been called a "float plan." There are some yacht clubs and marinas across the country that have printed forms or duplicated slips available at their headquarters so that a member can jot down his itinerary and estimated time of arrival at various points.

If he doesn't show up at a reasonable intervals at any of these points, a check back to the last point he touched can reduce the area of search in many cases by hundreds of square miles. This is particularly true of coastal cruising.

Nobody is as aware of how big this country is as the Coast Guard skippers or pilots. These men have searched miles of coastal tidelands or flown search missions over northern states looking for a wrecked boat or a lost canoe.

With the growth in cruising, overnight boat camping and wilderness travel, a few new problems have been introduced as these questions demonstrate:

Q. Is there a universal distress signal?

A. The closest to such a signal is the international distress signal, made by displaying a square and circle together in any shape or form. The shapes can be flags flying on a mast, a blanket and a ball or clothes laid out on rocks, designs tramped out in the sand, snow, or anything similar. Pilots the world over are trained to look for such shapes.

Q. I've heard about an arm-waving distress signal. What is it?

A. You must mean the one being advocated strongly by the Coast Guard for all boaters. It's made by standing up on the highest point of your boat (or wherever you are) and slowly raising and lowering the arms at the sides. It's recognized instantly anywhere in the U.S. or Canada.

Q. Is distress signalling equipment required on an ocean cruising boat?

A. Not by law, but common sense dictates having it aboard. Many a Coast Guard search and rescue officer who has spent fruitless days hunting a lost boat could make out a good case for its being compulsory.

Q. Should I take flares on a canoe trip?

A. By all means, but make them smoke flares. A fire will do at night, but the orange puff of smoke given off by day flares is visible for miles.

Q. Will radar find me?

A. Radar is very useful on the high seas or the Great Lakes, but inland or amongst islands, it's of little use. If you venture out on big water, carry a radar reflector. It's just a collapsible grid. Mount it high in time of distress.

Q. On inland waters is a mirror a good signalling device?

A. One of the best. Here's how to use it. Hold the mirror on your forehead with your right hand. Hold the left thumb at arm's length in line with the target you wish to signal (another boat, a house, or aircraft). Then tilt the mirror until reflected sunlight hits your thumb. Then it's on target, too.

San Marin Booters Win, Clinch Second

San Marin High School, driving hard toward the finish line, won its fifth soccer game in its last six tries yesterday to clinch second place in the Marin County Athletic League.

Greg Matson scored in the final two minutes on a muddy San Rafael field to give the Mustangs (8-4-1) a 1-0 victory over the Bulldogs.

In other games yesterday, champion Terra Linda (12-1) clobbered host Marin Catholic, 5-0; Redwood (7-5) outscored visiting Drake, 6-4; and Tamalpais (7-6) edged host Novato, 1-0.

Terra Linda won its 11th straight game and posted its third consectuvie shutout as Bob Vaupen scored three goals and Mark McCarthy and Pete Holzgang added one each. Goalie Jack Crimmins saved the shutout by blocking both a penalty kick and a subsequent shot.

Manny Natsios scored four goals for Redwood. Other tallies were added by right wing Rick Grambow and fullback Dave Del Grande, the latter from 40 feet out. Hugo Delaroca scored twice for Drake.

Due to Terra Linda's scheduled participation in the first Bay Area Tournament of Champions beginning Friday in San Francisco, the Trojans' season-ending home game against Novato was rescheduled for today. This gives the Hornets three games in three days, since their makeup game at Redwood will be played tomorrow.

On Monday, San Marin defeated Redwood, 5-2.

Chicago's NBA Express Sidetracked

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Chicago express was finally sidetracked by Charlie Scott.

Scott, the National Basketball Association's 13th leading scorer, poured in 38 points last night as the Phoenix Suns ended a 12-game Chicago winning streak 116-108 and braked their own losing skein at 10 straight.

The Phoenix thin man, who stands 6-foot-6 and weighs 17. pounds, tallied almost half his total in the opening period when he scored 17 points. The Suns led 59-43 at intermission.

Chicago, dropping two games behind Milwaukee in the Midwest Division, closed to within two points at 103-102 with four minutes remaining but couldn't sustain the drive. Bob Love led the Bulls with 32 points.

Milwaukee beat Portland 108-100 and owns the longest NBA winning string of the season at 13 straight. The Bucks widened a slim 50-48 halftime lead to 85-72 as they hit on 76 per cent of their shots in the third quarter and were ahead by 15 points in the fourth period before Coach Larry Costello send in the reserves. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar led Milwaukee with 21 points and Geoff Petrie scored 23 for Portland.

In other games, New York edged Seattle 104-102, Buffalo stopped Atlanta 121-114, Golden State downed Cleveland 128-115 and Houston beat Philadelphia 97-83.

Walt Frazier scored 26 points and Bill Bradley added 22 for New York as the Knicks almost lost a 12-point fourth quarter lead.

Bob McAdoo recovered a career-high 28 rebounds and scored 31 points as Buffalo, cracking a six-game losing streak, remained 2½ games behind second place New York in the Atlantic Division. Pete Maravich of Atlanta, the league's leading scorer, also scored 31 points.

Houston won its first home game of the season as Rudy Tomjanovich's 27 points and 16 rebounds by Don Smith helped the Rockets beat Philadelphia.

Los Angeles By 10 Over 49ers; Raiders Picked

STATELINE, Nev. (UPI) — Harrah's Tahoe Racebook yesterday made the unbeaten Minnesota Vikings a four-point choice over the Atlanta Falcons in this weekend's top National Football League game.

In other games, Racebook had Los Angeles over San Francisco by 10; Oakland over Cleveland 8; the New York Giants 1 over St. Louis; Washington 20 over Baltimore; Cincinnati 7 over the New York Jets; Pittsburgh 10 over Denver; Miami 14 over Buffalo; Green Bay 7 over New England; Dallas 14 over Philadelphia; Detroit 3 over Chicago; Kansas City 14 over Houston; and New Orleans 1 over San Diego.

In college games, Racebook picked Alabama over Miami by 25; Oklahoma 24 over Kansas; Louisiana State 18 over Mississippi State; Michigan 19 over Purdue; UCLA 30 over Oregon State; USC 28 over Washington; Tennessee 10 over Mississippi; and Missouri 8 over Iowa State.

TREASURE CHEST OF SHOPS — Everything from Eurasian artifacts to modern stereo are represented in the collection of shops at Old Brown's Store of Mill Valley, which will officially open Saturday at 38 Miller Avenue. Builder-developer Haas and Haynie made extensive use of redwood and painted glass windows to create a unique shopping area.

Old Brown's Store Preview Is Friday

Old Brown's Store, a collection of 20 shops under one roof at 38 Miller Avenue in Mill Valley, will hold a special public preview on Friday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The public will get a chance to view the premises and shops in advance of the grand opening ceremonies to be held on Saturday at 11 a.m. Saturday's grand opening and ribbon cutting will feature Rita Abrams and her Strawberry Point School children, singing their famous song, "Mill Valley."

Mayor Jean Barnard of Mill Valley will cut the ribbon. Many civic officials and representatives of Haas and Haynie, San Francisco builder-developer of Old Browns Store, will attend the opening ceremonies. Old Browns Store is composed of the following merchants:

The Park—birds, fish, plants; Anemone—books, cards, pottery; Beadazzled—fashion jewelry, beads; The Sweet Shop—candy; Ray Brisbois Productions—photography, frames; Erotica Cosmetics—natural oils, sensuous beauty aids; Probably—African imports; Le Perfume Bar— imported perfumes; Burray Olson Leathers—original and unique leather apparel; Sweet Louisiana—cookies and goodies.

MJB West—home decor, weavings, stoneware; The Cheese Shop—imported cheese and fine wines; Brass Ring—children's and adult toys; Sound System—stereo equipment; Que Pasa—restaurant (to be built); Picture Window—paintings, drawings, serigraphs; Papillon—Persian rugs and Eurasian artifacts; Mt. Tam Railway—eclectic art; The Goldmakers—gold jewelry, and The Raccoon Tree—silver sculpture, prints, custom framing.

Old Brown Store will be open Tuesday through Sunday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Stocks Drop Again Over Fuel Crisis

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices, moderately higher in the early going, turned downward today on the New York Stock Exchange amid persistent uncertainty over the energy crisis. Trading was fairly active.

Analysts said the primary market influence remained uncertainty over the energy crisis and its impact on business in the future. This concern has pulled the Dow industrials 41.62 points lower in the last three sessions.

Elsewhere, gold prices tumbled on European markets following Federal Reserve chairman Arthur Burns' announcement major banks will now be free to trade gold on the open market.

Prices on the American Stork Exchange also fell in fairly active trading. Great Basins Petroleum led the actives, up ⅛ to 4 ⅜ on 70,100 shares.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By WAT TAKESHITA

Stero Dishwashing Machine Co. Will Move Into Petaluma Quarters

Stero Dishwashing Machine Manufacturing Co. in San Francisco, headed by Tore H. Noren of Mill Valley, will move into new and expanded quarters in Petaluma early next year.

Stero's new factory, to be built at Lakeville Highway and Frates Street in Petaluma, will have 60,000 square feet of floor space, triple the size of its present San Francisco plant at 1350 Donner Avenue. William H. McDevitt Co. of San Rafael is general contractor on the tilt-up concrete structure, which will be ready for occupancy about February of next year.

Stero Dishwashing Machine Manufacturing Co. was established in 1945 by Noren, George Federighi of San Francisco, and Mrs. Jeanette Nilsen of Corte Madera. It sells dishwashers and glass washers to various commercial establishments from small bars and restaurants to large chains like Hyatt, Manning's and Foster's.

The company hopes to go international next year, distributing automated equipment to countries like Japan, Sweden and England. Vice presidents of the company include William Cuzens of Greenbrae, Douglas Noren (son of the president) of Santa Rosa, and Federighi. Mrs. Nilsen is secretary-treasurer.

ALAN SHIREK of Sausalito has joined Dinner Levison Company, San Francisco-based regional insurance brokerage firm, as co-manager of the company's commercial underwriting unit. Before joining Dinner Levison, Shirek was with Chubb-Pacific Indemnity in San Francisco, New Jersey, Seattle and Los Angeles.

King

THOMAS W. KING of Crockett's Van & Storage in San Rafael received a silver service plaque from Aero Mayflower Transit Co. Inc. for 25 years of service as an Aero Mayflower agent. Aero Mayflower is a worldwide mover of household goods and office equipment.

Crockett's Van & Storage, at 522 B Street, has been operating in San Rafael for 76 years.

LARKSPUR NATURAL FOODS at 460 Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur, which will close at the end of this month, will be replaced by a printing shop and bookstore.

The natural food store, owned by Jeffrey Hamilton of Larkspur, has sold all its supplies and is now selling equipment such as shelves, wooden grain bins, porcelain crocks and appliances.

Larkspur Natural Foods was established three years ago and taken over by Hamilton about a year and a half ago. Hamilton, an artist, plans to move to Los Angeles to work in the makeup department of CBS.

COOPER-CLARK & Associates, which is celebrating its 15th anniversary in the field of foundation engineering, soil mechanics and engineering geology, announced two promotions in its Novato office.

Maltzahn

Gurin

Norman Gurin, an associate, who is manager and administrative head of the Novato office, was appointed vice president. Donald W. Maltzahn, senior engineer and geologist, was named associate. Gurin lives in Terra Linda and Maltzahn in Larkspur.

DAVID L. REDMAN of Novato has been promoted to assistant manager for loans at Bank of America's Mill Valley office.

Redman, 28, joined the bank in 1964 in Porterville, then served in offices at Monterey, Hollister, Salinas, San Jose, and for two years was agency manager at the Carmel Valley office.

DE LA MONTANYA ELECTRONICS, which sells and installs burglar and fire alarms, opened an office at 102-D Hamilton Drive in Hamilton Industrial Park this week.

Owner is Ralph De La Montanya of Novato, who has been operating the business on South Novato Boulevard for the past year. He leased the new office space at Hamilton Industrial Park through William Hoey Company.

SVEN ANDERSEN, San Rafael landscape contractor, won the highest landscaping award presented by the California Landscape Contractors Association for his work at the Guide

A Plungetaker Gets Cold Feet

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I purchased 200 shares of Whittaker Corp. (NYSE) as a speculation at 4-3/8. I would appreciate your opinion on whether this issue is too risky. — C.M.

A. There are many "ifs" in this situation which must be resolved before any meaningful recovery will be seen. Fortunately your shares were bought low — five years ago the stock sold in the mid-forties. Whittaker has 14 units up for disposal through liquidation, sale, etc.

Two of these, currently being liquidated, generated $5.4 million in losses in the third quarter alone. Of the five divisions which are to be retained, two produced red ink in the first 9 months and two suffered from profit margin squeezes.

Interest expenses are high, particularly on Whittaker's short-term debt, much of which is scaled to the prime rate. As of July 31 the company had $290 million in short, long and convertible debt outstanding. Should the company's exchange offer ($7 face amount of 6 per cent convertible debentures, plus warrant for each share tendered) be fully subscribed, per-share results would benefit substantially. Although your purchase can only be termed a "gamble," I would stick with it.

Q. I have held Eberstadt Fund for several years. Recently this fund merged into Surveyor Fund. I am not sure which group will survive as manager or whether I should continue to hold. — C.M., K.N. & W.S.

A. As of Sept. 10, the merger of closed-end Surveyor and open-end Eberstadt was completed. The new open-end fund will retain the Eberstadt management team. This group also manages Chemical Fund which has achieved an above-average performance record. While the past performance does not guarantee future results, it is an indication of management's acuity.

The new fund should be held a reasonable length of time prior to judging its potential. However, if you are then dissatisfied, you have the privilege after six months of exchanging your shares for those of Chemical Fund at net asset value for a $5 charge.

Dogs for the Blind compound in San Rafael.

He received the sweepstakes trophy at the annual awards banquet held in Santa Rosa last Saturday. The Guide Dogs project was designed by Casey Kawamoto of San Francisco.

FRANK PECCORINI, Corte Madera landscape contractor, won trophies in several categories: First place in small residential for the Don Tornberg home in Larkspur; first place in small renovations for the Georgiana Callan home in San Francisco; and outstanding achievement trophy in small renovation for the William Moore home in Belvedere.

DENIS M. CRANE, formerly of San Anselmo, has been named vice president, finance, for Computer Sciences Corporation's system group, headquartered in Falls Church, Va.

INTERACTIVE RESOURCES of Point Richmond, which provides comprehensive professional services to commercial, industrial and residential developers, plans to open an office in Southern Marin by the end of this year.

President is Thomas K. Butt, an architect, who lived off and on in Marin from 1967 until this year, when he moved to Point Richmond. Vice president is John E. Clinton, Mill Valley engineer, and most of the staff members are Marin residents.

The company provides all phases of environmental and economic planning, design, construction and marketing. Interactive Resources offers services under three alternate arrangements: (1) Provide a service or group of services for a fee, (2) serve as joint venture partner with a private developer, or (3) become owner-developer of building projects.

Automated Accounting Service Set

SAN FRANCISCO — Bank of America's Business Serivces has introduced a new computerized accounting service to California businesses and industries.

The new service — called General Ledger — is designed to fill the needs of all business customers requiring up-to-the minute financial reports.

W. J. Breen, vice president and head of the bank's Corporate Agency and Business Services, said, "One of the service's most important features is its ability to produce balance sheets and profit and loss statements to suit an individual company's needs and requirements."

Developed and tested over a one-year period, the new business service is aimed at eliminating time-consuming detail work for accounting departments and offering management reports that can measure performance and sharpen financial analysis and profit planning.

Farmers Group Inc. Shows An Increase

LOS ANGELES — Farmers Group Inc. earned $6,215,000, or 71 cents per share for the third quarter of 1973, compared with $5,404,900 or 63 cents per share for the third quarter of last year.

Earnings for the first nine months of 1973 were $17,751,900, or $2.04 per share, compared with $15,614,200, or $1.81 per share for the same period last year.

Site Plans For Revamping Of Center Approved

The Novato Plan Review Committee has approved site plans for revamping of the Nave Shopping Center along South Novato Boulevard.

Thrifty Drug store and Alpha Beta market are scheduled to open next year in buildings to be built where several vacant stores stand.

The committee also approved three illuminated signs, including a main sign of 72 square feet for Goodman's Home Center, former site of Lee Brothers Market at 950 Seventh Street, and two non-illuminated signs for the Hoytt Enterprises office building at 1710 Novato Boulevard.

Fuel Problem For Golden Gate Buses

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The Golden Gate Bridge District, facing the end of its present fuel supply next month, did not get a single valid bid yesterday on a new fuel contract.

Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring told the Independent-Journal the staff will begin immediate negotiations with fuel suppliers to replace Shell Oil Co., which canceled its contract with the district, effective Dec. 20.

Luehring and the district's bus transit manager, H. Donald White, expressed certainty, however, that enough fuel will be obtained to prevent any service cuts.

Luehring's statement that enough will be available to prevent any reduction service was aimed at softening a warning Monday by bridge board president Stephan C. Leonoudakis that fuel shortages may force the district to eliminate all weekend, midday and local bus service.

District telephones were besieged yesterday by people objecting to any cuts in bus operations.

As for new federal fuel allocations that would cut the district's supply by up to 20 per cent, Luehring said, legislation pending final action in Washington will give special priority to transit systems to assure them of adequate fuel.

The program of special priority fuel allocations for transit should be in effect within six weeks, he said.

White added that even during far more severe fuel crises in World War II, transit operators did not have to cut services.

Luehring acknowledged negotiations by other transit operators have resulted in fuel payments 40 to 50 per cent higher than under earlier contracts. The district has been paying Shell 11.75 cents a gallon for diesel fuel and 21 cents for regular grade, low-lead gasoline.

The district will need three million gallons of diesel fuel next calendar year, with the bus and ferry fleets roughly splitting the supply, and 85,000 gallons of gasoline for district cars and trucks.

The only bid submitted for the 2 p.m. opening at toll plaza offices was from J. Scott Co., identified by White as a small San Francisco supplier of oils. It bid 32 cents a gallon for diesel fuel, almost triple the Shell contract, and 61 cents a gallon for gasoline — 20 cents more than the price anyone can get at a gas station even with all the taxes included.

Luehring said the bid apparently was invalid because it called for passing along to the district any price hike imposed on the company by oil companies. He added that 61 cents on gasoline did not constitute a serious bid.

Ten oil companies sent letters thanking the district for its invitation to bid, but all said they could not. They did not explain, but Luehring said their refusal to bid was "understandable in view of the almost chaotic conditions in the oil industry."

White, commenting on the prospect gasoline rationing will force many more commuters to take the district buses, said more can be carried only if people work staggered hours.

CHRISTMAS WREATH CHAIRMAN

Massachusetts Plans For A Tourist Influx

By COLIN STEWART
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

LEXINGTON, Mass. — In April, 1975, being a patriotic American, you drive to Lexington, Mass. Instead of seeing celebrations of the US bicentennial, a roadblock greets you.

This scene is a possibility being considered by the town of Lexington — worried, naturally, about the effects of traffic and tourists during the bicentennial. Other Bay State historical communities are looking into the idea, too.

Lexington Town Mgr. Walter C. O'Connell has plans to shut off inbound traffic after a predetermined number of people enter town.

"You just can't keep letting cars into town after it is filled with as many as it can hold," he says.

Lexington, in cooperation with Concord, Mass., is preparing plans to accommodate as many tourists as possible, diverting the rest to other areas.

The Concord and Lexington bicentennial committees are planning celebrations which will include parades, plays, concerts, and reenacted battles.

Tourists who are turned back at roadblocks may still be able to see the celebrations, if a Massachusetts Department of Public Works (DPW) transportation study is implemented.

The study seeks a means for tourists to park away from town and take mass transit to attractions.

Areas which normally get more than 500,000 tourists each year are the focus of the transit study. These include Concord and Lexington, Salem, Old Sturbridge Village, Plymouth, Cape Cod, and downtown Boston, Cambridge, and Brookline.

In the Boston area, the plans will include fringe parking areas served by bus and rail lines.

Because of limited time and money, one planner says, the bicentennial parking sites ideally should be on existing lots, or at least in areas owned by the DPW, without environmental or access problems.

The state Bicentennial Commission has cooperated on the transportation study. It also hopes to assist in installing obvious needs such as parking lots, information booths, and public toilets, says Richard Barringer, the commission's executive director.

By getting contracts from state agencies, and thus using funds which are available, he says, the commission, which focuses solely on the bicentennial, will be able to speed up construction.

But with no construction projects under way, the commission has been criticized for inaction.

"It's a tragedy the way the bicentennial effort has been completely messed up in this state," says Richard M. Doherty, executive director of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC), a planning agency representing 101 communities in the Boston area.

Doherty says the state Bicentennial Commission should do more to help the cities and towns which will be "inundated" by tourists.

Jackie Can Take Photographer To Supreme Court

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Court of Appeals yesterday said it sympathized with Jacqueline Onassis' problems with photographers, but the question did not "rise to the threshold of importance" that would require a full panel of judges to rehear her appeal.

Mrs. Onassis had asked the full court to reconsider drastically reduced limits on photographer Ron Galella's freedom to take pictures of her. Her attorneys said Galella would "leap around her and hurl verbal taunts as he follows her up and down the streets of New York."

A three-judge panel had decided in September that Galella could come as close as 25 feet away to take Mrs. Onassis' picture. His earlier limit was 150 feet. The former first lady may now take her case to the Supreme Court.

Home Study Degrees Available Next Year

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Students will be able to earn baccalaureate degrees in humanities and liberal arts at home beginning next year, California State University officials announced yesterday.

Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke said the new curricula would debut at California State Colleges at Dominguez Hills and Sonoma.

"The first offering of statewide curricular programs is a signal achievement in behalf of vast numbers of Californians whose goals in higher education can not be served," Dumke said.

He said the carefully structured programs will be open to mature students everywhere and provide special radio broadcasts, telephone contact with professors and use of all university libraries.

Students will be able to earn degrees in three or four years and will not be required to make frequent visits to the two campuses, he said.

The programs are designed primarily for adult wage earners and housewives who have completed the first two years of college but are unable to spend large amounts of time on campus.

Reverse Burglary

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — A Montgomery woman told police that someone had entered her home and left behind an unusual trail.

The woman said she found an extra pair of panties in her bureau. A window shade that had been down was pulled up. And an extra soft drink bottle was present. Nothing, she said, was missing.

Beer Distributor Files Suit Against Teamsters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A $2.1 million damage suit was filed in federal court yesterday against the Teamsters Union and affiliates as a result of a beer distributor's strike in the San Francisco Bay area.

The action in U.S. District Court, brought by Five Star Investmept Co., which does business as Coors Distributing of Oakland, is similar to a $2.14 million suit brought last Thursday against the Teamsters by Coors Distributing of San Jose.

The plaintiff seeks $100,000 for losses in sales and property damage it says resulted from union violence and mass picketing. The firm also asks $2 million exemplary damages.

The latest suit names the International Teamsters, Joint Council No. 7 of the Teamsters, Joint Brewery and Beverage Workers Board, Beer Drivers and Salesman Local 888, and three other union organizations.

Local 888 struck Coors and other distributors June 26. The San Francisco drivers settled their strike Saturday, but the walkout continues elsewhere in the area.

Bradley Urges Nixon To Quit

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mayor Tom Bradley said yesterday that President Nixon should resign as "a service to the country" because the Watergate scandal has crippled his presidency.

Watergate is "the worst blot on the fabric of this country in my memory," Bradley, a Democrat, told a high school group.

The newly elected Los Angeles mayor will be installed as president of the National League of Cities at the group's convention in Puerto Rico next month.

REUNITED ON BROADWAY

Alice Faye and John Payne, who made movie magic together in the 1940s, are reunited at rehearsal for a Broadway show — "Good News." They last appeared together in 1943 in the film, "Hello, Frisco, Hello." The new musical, which is also scheduled for a national tour, will also feature Eddie (Rochester) Anderson. (UPI Telephoto)

Air Board Approves Smog Alert Program

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Air Resources Control Board today adopted a statewide emergency plan requiring local agencies to alert citizens and take other steps immediately to curtail smog when pollution reaches dangerous levels.

The plan, adopted on a 3-0 vote, imposed strict smog standards at which health alerts must be issued to the news media along with a call for voluntary reductions in driving.

It also provided for sweeping emergency such as closing down businesses and forcing a reduction in traffic if smog reaches certain severe levels.

In addition, the action requires local pollution control districts around California to adopt their own, detailed emergency plans by next April 1.

Alan K. Stazer, spokesman for the Los Angeles County Air Pollution Control District, complained that the policy would require his agency to issue about 100 health advisory alerts a year. Stazer said citizens would become numbed to so many warnings.

Board member R. Robert Brattain acknowledged "it may be crying wolf," but declared: "maybe than people will realize if they want clean air they're going to have to do something about it."

Stazer said Los Angeles currently issues about one such health alert annually.

Similar complaints came from spokesmen from San Francisco and San Bernardino county pollution officials, who agreed the statewide plan would force too many alerts.

Brattain explained the new smog alert levels were established by doctors and said he felt they should be adhered to.

Death, Demagoguery On Doyle Drive

Wider lanes and a median barrier on Doyle Drive in San Francisco would not have saved the life of Albert P. Komsthoeft on Monday. His death at the wheel of his automobile was attributed to a heart attack.

But a median barrier would have prevented Komsthoeft's out-of-control car from crossing into the crowded southbound lanes and crashing head-on into that of Eileen Tiedemann of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Tiedemann and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Gintjee of Mill Valley, whose car then collided with hers, were extremely fortunate to emerge unscathed. The crash had all the makings of another Doyle Drive tragedy.

DOYLE DRIVE is a bottleneck on the San Francisco side of the Golden Gate Bridge. Its access and egress ramps lack proper visibility and radius. Its lanes are too narrow. Although it is laid out as a six-lane road, this crowds traffic to the point where sideswipe collisions are common. And to make access and egress even minimally safe, it has to be further bottlenecked at both ramps.

It has a long history of fatal accidents. And its accident rate is far higher than those of most stretches of similar length carrying comparable volumes of traffic.

YET PLANS of the State Department of Transportation to do something about it — to add two lanes, put in a median barrier, and reconstruct the off-ramp and on-ramp — meet heavy opposition from San Francisco politicians and a portion of San Francisco's residents.

The opponents cry, "They want to build another freeway."

"Freeway" is a dirty word these days, especially in "environmentalist" circles. We have too many freeways, probably. Highway engineers may have gone overboard for them. But those who use "freeway" as a curse forget that freeways have greatly reduced accident rates while speeding traffic.

Besides, the plans for Doyle Drive do not involve "another freeway." They involve eliminating a bottleneck on the bridge approach. The millions spent on the bridge itself fail to give full value as long as the bottleneck exists.

And Marin's commuters must run a twice-daily gauntlet to get to and from work, their chances of injury or death higher than they should be because of the hazards of Doyle Drive.

THERE ARE VOTES, no doubt, for San Francisco politicians in pandering to the anti-freeway sentiment of residents. To equate Doyle Drive widening with "another freeway" may be useful in wooing those votes. But this kind of politicking is demagoguery.

The expedient of removable cones to separate the lanes, undertaken by the state purely as a temporary measure, will not prevent such accidents as that of Monday — or that which took 10 lives in the fall of 1970.

The cause of safety demands improvement of Doyle Drive. Those who appeal to prejudices to oppose it may be asking for votes the price of which is death.

'Take It Easy'

The familiar American farewell, "Take it easy," has taken on new depths of meaning in recent years. The serious times have tended to make us a more serious, less-inclined-to-laugh people. But taking life and one's self seriously only help shorten life and make one miserable.

Take it easy! Enjoy life as best you can. Don't let yourself get worked up over events. Pt them in perspective by asking yourself how important they will seem in 50 or 100 years.

'Single Standard Of Justice For All' Seems Not To Apply To Former Veep

WASHINGTON — By now, it may be beating a dead horse to play back Mr. Nixon's old quotes about law and order. But in the circumstances, some of them have become more appropriate than ever. In the instance at hand, it is not necessary to believe the president himself guilty of crimes to appreciate the irony of his earlier words:

"The people of this country want an end to government that acts out of a spirit of neutrality or beneficence or indulgence towards criminals. . . One paramount need is for the men of government at the national level to exert their moral authority to the limit, to martial the armies of public opinion behind what can be nothing less than a militant crusade against crime. . . "

He said that to the GOP platform committee at Miami Beach in 1968. He paraphrased it from stump after stump across the nation that fall, as part of his effort to make votes out of widespread citizen resentment. When it was over, his aides thought law and order had been his most effective campaign theme. It went on:

"We must cease as well the granting of special immunities and moral sanctions to those who deliberately violate the public laws. . . We must return to a single standard of justice for all Americans. . . "

It went over so well that he used it again in the off-year elections of 1970, and at every opportunity since — up till a few months ago. To this day, he has never publicly declared it inoperative.

"I wanna see Agnew's lawyers!"

MEANWHILE, ACROSS Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House, in a beautifully restored colonial town house facing Lafayette Square, a recently convicted felon goes free — in office space owned and operated by the taxpayers of America.

This man, one Spiro T. Agnew, is driven to work each day by a government chauffeur — one of about seven Secret Service agents still assigned to guard and escort him, these five weeks after he resigned his office and was found guilty of tax evasion.

When he is in town and not out at Palm Springs with Sinatra, Agnew rises in the bedroom of the suburban home he bought last year for $190,000 — to which another $124,587 in "security" improvements was added by the General Services Administration (that is, the taxpayers) immediately after he moved in.

Unless he has formed a car pool in the few days since Mr. Nixon officially christened the energy crisis, Agnew rides alone with the chauffeur to his offices, where a staff of about five persons paid by the taxpayers is still aiding him.

There, he goes over the papers he accumulated during nearly five years in office. Some are personal, others official, and he needs to separate them. Whether he will attempt to win a big tax deduction by donating them to an Agnew library at the University of Baltimore or some place, as Mr. Nixon did with his vice-presidential papers, is unknown to me. There is no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service will be in a receptive mood toward a proposition from him at this time — although it will be interesting to know whether he eventually has to pay up every dollar he owes in back taxes. I will wager he is able to make another deal.

THE POINT HERE, however, is not what he might do that any ordinary tax offender probably could do also. It is all the other things he is doing that anybody else convicted of a federal crime could never do. For starters, he got off with a $10,000 fine and three years' probation.

Then he not only has the office, car, driver, Secret Service escort and office staff on Jackson Place, but up at the capitol the Senate just voted a job extension for his legislative branch staff, also for four to six months. That may be more of an unemployment insurance grant for the employees than a convenience for Agnew.

Nevertheless, altogether the favors extended him since his conviction add up to many multiples of the fine he was ordered to pay to the government. At this point, he still is finishing in the black when you weigh who came out ahead, the felon or the taxpayers.

All of which makes a pretty deep impression when it comes courtesy of the president who started out saying, "We must return to a single standard of justice for all Americans."

Let him tell that to the next black kid who gets locked up downtown for common theft.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS: Irony And Tragedy

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

There was irony in the release of a state report on "Conflict and Violence in California's High Schools" during the same week when Supt. Marcus A. Foster was murdered as he left the Oakland school administration building.

The report, by a state Department of Education team headed by Kenneth B. Washington, delved into causes of school crime and violence and what can be done about them. Many of its observations and recommendations closely resembled those in Foster's book, "Making Schools Work."

The Oakland school system was in shambles when Foster arrived from Philadelphia as superintendent in 1971. Confrontations — principally racial — had become so extreme that the school board was unable to conduct its business at meetings. Truancy, vandalism and violence were rife.

Applying the same down-to-earth methods he had used as principal, and later as district trouble-shooter, in Philadelphia, Foster got Oakland's education system back on the track. But, as it turned out, he literally gave his life for it.

SUMMING UP what it found in a statewide survey, the state Department of Education team called for these things to reduce conflict that may lead to violence:

Increased availability and visibility of administrators, especially principals.

Restructing of high school counseling.

Improved physical environment, to give students more pride in their schools.

Increased community involvement.

More careful assignment of teachers.

ALL THESE recommendations might have been drawn from "Making Schools Work."

Foster maintained an "open door policy" at schools where he was principal. He made personal presentations to pupils. He went house-to-house among the people of a divided community to bring them together in support of their school: "Increased availability and visibility of administrators."

His book told of a student with a severe emotional upset who was put back on the right track — not by a counselor, but by the school dietitian, who found the way to reach him: "Restructuring of high school counseling."

Upgrading school plants by the students' own efforts helped boost attendance and accomplishment in a series of Philadelphia schools described by Foster: "Improved physical environment."

Community involvement was the key to solving most of the troubles described in "Making Schools Work."

One case it described revolved around a teacher who failed with his black students and became the central figure in a community vs. teacher union struggle: Lack of "careful assignment of teachers."

THE INTRODUCTION to "Conflict and Violence in California's High Schools" says:

"There are two compelling reasons for the need to diminish conflict and violence in the schools. First, our society has a right to expect physical safety for students, teachers and other school personnel on the campuses. Second, we cannot expect students to learn or teachers to teach effectively in an environment shadowed by fear."

It was the second reason with which Marcus Foster was concerned. One of his precepts was: "The energy that is found in interpersonal conflict should be channeled toward solution of the underlying problems."

Implicit in his thesis was the same approaches which reduce truancy, vandalism and violence at school result in more learning by students.

THERE IS SCANT likelihood that any of the three young people who gunned Foster down outside the Oakland school administration building had ever read "Making Schools Work." They killed the man who was trying to save them.

But what he taught and practiced — echoed in "Conflict and Violence in California's High Schools" —may prevent more such tragedies if pursued widely enough.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Vested Interests Too Big For State Spending Curb

By RUS WALTON

Well, Proposition 1 has come — and gone.

It is surprising that it did as well as it did.

Not just because of the campaign ineptness. Not because Governor Reagan and Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti fuzzed the issue with personal politics. Not even because of the confusion of those latter-day charges and countercharges.

No, not that. But, because the proposed limit on taxes and spending was aimed straight at the most powerful block in the state: the tax spenders. It's almost impossible to win against them.

IT COULD WELL BE that we are already past the point of no return when it comes to putting a lid on government spending by way of the ballot box. Here's why:

In California, there are about 1.5 million government employees (federal, state and local). You can bet the great majority of those folks will vote against any lid on government spending. Reduce the size and growth of Babylon? You gotta be kidding!

Take Sacramento County, as a case in point. Proposition 1 lost 55 per cent - 45 per cent, statewide. But here in Babylon it went down almost 2-to-1 (65 per cent - 35 per cent).

There are 68,000 state employees — and their families — clustered in Sacramento. Those state employees got the day off last Tuesday, so they could vote on Proposition 1. That should explain something about that 2-1 margin in this county.

THE NEXT BIG tax-and-spend group comprises folks on welfare, those who receive public assistance or who have a member of their family on the welfare rolls.

As of this past September, there were 917,500 adult welfare recipients in California. Most of them regard any attempt to hold back on government spending as a threat to their monthly income. Guess how they vote on tax-and-spend limitations.

Then, there is the education establishment. It is the best organized and most effective pressure group in the state; even without its ancillary forces (the PTA and the League of Women Voters).

There are scads of teachers and school employees: 187,552 teachers in the public school system, K-12; 32,000 teachers and employees for the state colleges and universities; 44,000 employees on the nine University of California campuses, and about 100,000 at the 99 community colleges.

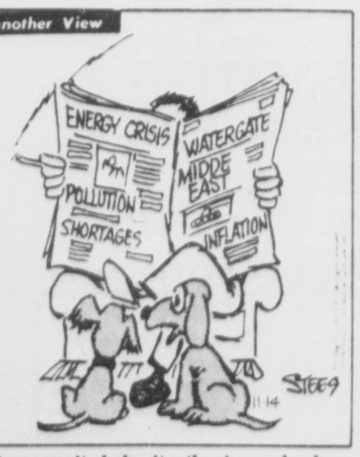

All told that comes to another 360,000, without counting their wives and/or husbands.

There's another, smaller segment. The hundreds — thousands — of suppliers and vendors and contractors whose business depends on that never-ending spending spree by government. Business is business, right?

FINALLY, THERE IS that giant bloc of "no" votes: the college students. Last week the "in" thing on many campuses was to vote "No on One."

All told, those who have a direct or carefree motivation to maintain the state's spending spree form a potential — almost unbeatable — bloc of about two million votes — not even counting about one million federal and local government employees.

Symphony Week Prelude To Season

The board of directors and staff of the Marin Symphony Association join me in expressing our thanks to the Independent Journal for giving such fine coverage of the symphony's story during our recent "Marin Symphony Week." We sincerely hope we have given a clearer understanding of the many musical activities the symphony sponsores in the county.

The opening concert of the symphony season is on Nov. 27, when famed operatic tenor, Jess Thomas, will be guest soloist.

Do We Create Machine Instead Of Life?

One last comment on the newspaper article, "Plight of the Patient." In our society and world it runs much deeper than the article reveals. We see its affects in "no children wanted" signs; retirement places and mobile home courts; cruise ships; and in the gambling cities of Reno and Lake Tahoe.

For young and the old, the aging problem and what to do with time, and the "out of sight, out of mind" phenomenon.

Let us add, also, the acceleration caused by wars. We would abort life and create a machine instead.

True Humanitarianism By Babcock Foundation

In a world often cold and unresponsive, I wish to publicly thank Miss Julia Bloomfield and board members of the William Babcock Memorial Endowment in San Rafael for providing a very real miracle after my husband suffered a heart attack June 10 and was hospitalized 10 days in Marin General Hospital. Because of soaring taxes and living expenses, we had dropped our medical and hospital insurance, and since my husband is self-employed, his income stopped the Sunday morning he was stricken and did not resume until after his four months' convalescence. With no income and no savings we could not pay his hospital bill.

The William Babcock Memorial Endowment did cover the high costs of his sudden illness and in doing so possibly saved him another heart attack from worry and stress over his debts, and saved us from having to sell our beloved home to meet his unexpected expenses.

I am beholden to such a wonderful organization established by true humanitarians for helping their fellowman when catastropic illness strikes. . .

Time To Return To Lincoln's Principle

The Watergate affair vividly exposed the decline of morality in the United States. The Committee to Re-elect the President turned supposedly honest men into mobsters in their zeal to win the election. It was the culmination of a trend to subordinate individual rights and obligations to the interests of the group that began 41 years ago.

The severity of the Great Depression of the 1930s caused a great many people to lose faith in basic American ideas. They swapped liberty for security. . . Aided and abetted by the lust for power of a few men with inherited wealth and the so-called intellectual elite, they succumbed to the siren song of big government, big business, big labor, and big welfare. They forgot self discipline, small business, individual bargaining, and neighborly charity. . .

The time has come for all Americans to awaken from this Utopian nightmare and reaffirm their faith in traditional American moral values. It is time for individual citizens to wrest control of their political, economic, and social institutions from the hands of the despotic few. We must turn Watergate into a blessing instead of a curse. We can do this by restating our belief in the basic American principles of individual liberty and responsibility, less central and more local control of government, and the free enterprise system. In addition, we must, in the words of Abraham Lincoln, "Let the government do for the people only that which the people cannot best do for themselves."

Nixon Shows Signs Of Recovery; Will Congress Give Him Chance?

WASHINGTON — President Nixon is beginning to turn the tables somewhat on those who say he can't possibly, under any circumstances, recover from Watergate.

For weeks the insistent question has been: Shouldn't Nixon resign because he can no longer do his job effectively?

Now, in view of the vigorous, wide-ranging, well-considered program which he has put before Congress and the country to deal with the energy crisis, a new and related question is: Will the Democratically controlled Congress do its part in governing or will it drag its feet for political reasons?

VITAL ENERGY-CONSERVATION and energy-development legislation urgently needs to be passed in the next few weeks, and what happens will soon tell us whether Nixon's critics in Congress prefer to harass the president or are willing to put Watergate sufficiently aside to do what is needed to enable government to govern. I think good judgment will prevail.

I am not urging that the grave issues of Watergate be adjourned, but we do need to avoid both whitewash and persecution — and get on with transacting the public business.

It is worth noting that many who have been calling for President Nixon to resign are having second thoughts — very serious second thoughts.

They are beginning to realize that resignation would resolve none of the unanswered questions which still surround Watergate.

They are beginning to sense that pressured resignation is a dangerous, disorderly way of dealing with a crisis of confidence and no proper substitute for the orderly, constitutional, process of impeachment.

And, finally, they see that President Nixon is not going to do their work for them by self-impeachment and that public opinion may well prove to be a wall of opposition to resignation.

It is significant that some who have been most critical of Nixon are now warning against resignation.

Tom Wicker, who wouldn't want to be caught dead with a pro-Nixon paragraph in his typewriter, writes in the New York Times:

"The clamor for Richard Nixon's resignation . . . risks a rush to decision rather than an exercise of judgment and it proposes a constitutional shortcut when the primary problem is that the Constitution already has been too often neglected and ignored."

The process of impeachment is the Constitution's way of dealing with the consequences of Watergate. Let's use it.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By THERON NEWELL

'Do As I Say, Not As I Do' Apparently Prevails In Novato

Everyone is familiar with the old saying, 'Do as I say, don't do as I do.'

The City of Novato might adopt that as its motto.

Any building must be approved by the planning commission. The plans must go before the plan review committee. Everything is dependent on an environmental impact report which must be approved by the city.

Suddenly the city administration wants a "word processing center." That's a new term for a secretary pool using some of the newest machinery.

Administrative assistant Rodney W. Brown got it by the council in a sort of rush job. In order to house it as the machinery is noisy, he persuaded the council to buy a used mobile home and put it in the courtyard of the city hall complex.

IN ORDER to get it there, an old tree had to be whacked to pieces. In order to set the mobile home level and high enough to get into it from the hall between the city hall and the old Trevitt Hall, it had to be placed on a pier of concrete blocks six feet high in the rear.

It looks like what it is: a big old metal box sitting on concrete piers.

The rear end of it sitting up in the air is plainly visible from the site on Machin Avenue on which Ben Ostlind has been trying unsuccessfully to build a Taco Bell.

What happened to the city having its own environmental impact report? Visually the mobile home is an eyesore from Machin Avenue. What about having to cut an old tree to pieces? Doesn't the city try to enforce its own heritage tree ordinance or at least abide by the spirit of the ordinance?

Was the structure approved by the planning commission? Were the plans and site plans for landscaping approved by the plan review committee?

It seems as though the city has placed itself in a very compromising position.

In the future if someone is denied something for lack of an environmental impact report, he might have a good case against the city in court. How about denying something because of the lack of approval by the plan review committee? The planning commission will probably hear about the city's action time and again in the future.

It's a plain case of where the city's hasty action has placed it in a weakened position for enforcing its own laws.

IN FORMULATING PLANS for use of the surplus 477 acres at Hamilton Air Force Base, many proposals have been made by agencies hungry for the land and buildings.

These range from college industrial shops for the hangars to open space for parks. After the first proposals, it would appear that all the buildings and ground could easily be used by government agencies.

However, no one has yet dared to come up with the suggestion that they be used for that for which they are best suited — an airport and related industrial uses.

Smoke Testing Revealed 545 Sewer Line Leaks

The Novato Sanitary District's infiltration testing program this past summer disclosed 545 defects in a districtwide check of 8,684 connections, according to Dist. Mgr. Charles A. Joseph.

From mid-July to mid-September, crews forced smoke into 121 miles of sewer lines, with the smoke coming out yard drains, roof leaders and storm drains on private property, indicating points at which storm waters could be infiltrating the sewer lines.

Property owners will be sent notices and advised to correct defects, Joseph told the district board Monday night.

He estimated that storm water entering the system from the defects could reach 960,000 gallons a day during a peak storm. Overall, he estimated that infiltration at peak storm periods might reach 15 million gallons a day with the majority of infiltration occurring underground.

Joseph also reported that repairs to the 48-inch line and 54-inch outfall lines are expected to be completed next week and the lines ready for retesting. The outfall line has been a problem since last year, when the line shifted in bay mud and developed leaks.

The board approved purchase of two light pickup trucks at $2,317 each, a standard pickup truck at $3,583, and a medium-sized sedan at $2,924, all through the state purchasing office.

A Gesture Of Appreciation Confuses Books

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — A Spokane resident's gesture of appreciation is confounding the city's bookkeepers.

E.B. Townsley was sent a check for $10 in return for an easement on his property. He sent it back, saying, "I am returning the check, with thanks, because of the very excellent job the city did in improving the lot mentioned and the whole street."

But city workers said return of the check has fouled up the city's bookkeeping.

"It's cost them three times what the check is for to try to figure out what to do with it," said one city employe.

Stanford Post

STANFORD (UPI) — Deputy New York City Mayor Edward K. Hamilton, 34, has been appointed a lecturer at the Stanford University graduate school of business.

Satellite Relay Station Stymied By Court Ruling

A massive satellite relay station planned for West Marin cannot be built until American Telephone and Telegraph Co. compensates a rancher for damages.

A Marin Superior Court judge has blocked the giant utility from building the $6.8 million facility east of Tomales Bay until it files a condemnation suit against Benjamin P. Bonelli.

These suits generally seek to take land for public use, but at issue in this case is not property but a deed restriction.

The 260 acres on which AT&T has a purchase option is limited by a deed covenant restricting the land to residential, agricultural or recreational uses, ruled Judge David Menary Jr.

Since Bonelli bought his property on the Soula Joule ranch with the understanding it would not be developed commercially, he is entitled to damages if the restriction is broken.

Acting in a suit brought by Bonelli asking the court to forbid construction of the station, Menary ruled the public good which the facility would serve outweighs the need to enforce the covenant.

On the site five miles east of Tomales Bay and 15 miles from Novato on the Marshall-Petaluma Road, AT&T plans a 15,000-square-foot building, a 100-foot tower and twin 96-foot diameter discs.

The station, intended to increase domestic telecommunications capacity, is one of five planned by the company in the US.

Attorney William G. Fleckles of Greenbrae, representing Bonelli, said he cannot reveal now how much his client will ask from AT&T but the amount will be "very substantial."

Formation Of New Volcano Is Feared

MEZCALA, Mexico (UPI) — Smoke and steam pouring out of fresh cracks in the earth accompanied by underground rumblings have sparked fears that a new volcano may be forming near this town on the road to Acapulco.

Cracks also appeared along a 200-foot stretch of the highway but most of the underground smoke and vapors were coming from breaks in the ground alongside the road.

Lights Go Out

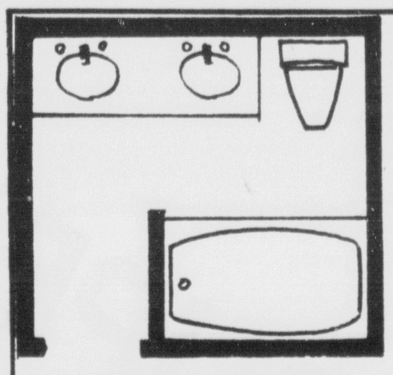

LONDON (UPI) — Lights went out throughout Britain last night as the first stage of a three-part fuel-saving program to cut power by 10 per cent.

Singapore Cuts US Fuel Supply

SINGAPORE (UPI) — Singapore, the biggest refining center in Southeast Asia, has cut off all its hefty fuel supplies to American forces in the Pacific because of Arab threats to stop supplies to the island republic, industry sources said today.

The fuel and oil cut was expected to hit vessels of the US 7th Fleet, land-based planes in Thailand and ground units throughout the area.

South Vietnam, Cambodia and Thailand also are likely to be hit by the ban. US tax dollars pay for most of the fuel used in Cambodia and Vietnam, and some used in Thailand.

Royal Wedding

Britain's Princess Anne caused a stir when she announced that the word "obey" would remain in the wedding vows she takes today. Some traditionalists thought it inappropriate that a member of the Royal Family would consent to "obey" commoner Mark Phillips, an Army Captain. Others were more upset by the news that Princess Anne's salary will be raised to $84,000. The wedding has again stirred up the old debate about the role of the monarchy. When this stamp was issued, newspapers gleefully reported the retouching instructions — "remove mole," "highlight eyes," "darken hair here" — in precise detail.

DO YOU KNOW — Anne and Mark have both been contestants in what sport?

TUESDAY'S ANSWER — Halley's Comet will be visible in 1986.

San Rafael Schools Gear To Save Fuel

The San Rafael Board of Education, acting in the wake of President Richard M. Nixon's energy crisis message, last night endorsed a wide-ranging plan to conserve energy.

District thermostats, now set at about 68 degrees, will be turned down to 66 degrees tomorrow morning, according to Supt. Donald Leisey.

In addition, the board approved a plan by the district administration to make better use of paper products, perhaps by using both sides of pieces of paper; study lighting of school facilities, and make better use of fuel by turning to compact cars.

Also endorsed was an emergency plan to save fuel in the event the county cuts the district gasoline allocation. The plan calls for elimination of field trips and athletic trips, among other things, Leisey said.

Leisey said the school system last year paid $140,000 for fuel and electricity, and consumed 6,700 gallons of fuel last March, selected as a representative month.

The superintendent said he did not know how much last night's actions will cut the district energy bill.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

FAMILY LIFE — Said a steering committee will be formed to review annually the district family life education program.

AUDITOR — Hired the firm of Sleezer and Eckhoff as district auditors for next year at a cost of $5,700.

PRIZE — Said Nation Schools magazine has awarded the district parents' newsletter third place for excellence in a nationwide competition. The newsletter was cut from the budget last summer.

CLOSED SESSION — Took no action in closed session on employee salaries.

MEETINGS — Set a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 27, and only one next month, Dec. 18.

University Gets Bachelor Estate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — George Peterson, a shy life-long bachelor, left more than $180,000 to the University of California for medical research because he never had a chance to go to school himself.

Peterson, a native of Sacramento, died Saturday at age 81.

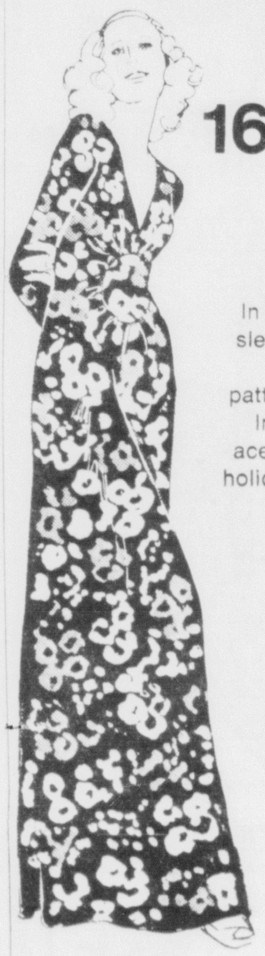

His attorney, Lloyd G. Buchler, announced yesterday that all of Peterson's estate would go to the university. Peterson had no living relatives.

"Since he was unable to go to school, he wanted others to be able to attend the university," Buchler said.

Mount Pavlof Spewing Molten Rock Into Air

COLD BAY, Alaska (UPI) — The Aleutian Islands' 8,261-foot Mount Pavlof began a lava show yesterday, spewing molten rock 200 feet into the air.

The fountaining was a part of an eruption that could rise and fall for weeks without causing any real damage to persons in the area, a specialist in Seattle said.

The mountain began blowing ash and smoke more than 20,000 feet into the air Monday night and the fountaining followed, Tom Morris of the Federal Aviation Administration said.

"Red molten stuff went to 200 feet above the top of the mountain," he said. Morris added the fountaining was visible from here but the smoke and ash elevations were based on pilots' reports.

The volcano, one of a chain called the Pavlofs, is 31 miles east-northeast of here and 15 miles from the Aleut fishing village of King Cove.

University of Washington Prof. Howard Coombs, whose speciality in geological sciences is volcanoes, said in Seattle, "Pavlof has had quite a history of recent eruptions. It is the most lively volcano on Pacific shores."

The volcano had a minor eruption in 1922, and major eruptions in 1950 and 1912. The 1912 eruption covered an Aleut village with ash and the soot was visible as far south as Seattle.

Coombs said that the volcano was unlikely to blow its top — shatter the cone with an explosion — because it was venting off steam and volcanic gases.

"There's no real cause for alarm," he said.

Coombs said that, although the volcano was fountaining, it was too soon to tell if there would be lava flows down the mountain. Most molten lava falls back into the vent during fountaining.

Coombs said, however, that ashes would pile many feet deep on and near the volcano. He said that winds could carry much of the remainder of the ash 100 miles or more.

Because the wind was not blowing towards King Cove and Cold Bay, the towns expect little ashfall and no precautions have been taken.

The Pavlofs, like most Pacific volcanoes, are called strata or composite volcanoes, because they are composed of alternate layers of ash and lava flows.

Mount Pavlof was named by a Russian sea captain in 1936.

C. PAUL BETTINI
'Impossible dream'

Preliminary Report Hit By Bettini

San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini yesterday described the preliminary draft of the city's general plan, result of more than a year of work by Berkeley consultants Duncan and Jones, "an impossible dream in its present form."

Bettini, amplifying comments made Monday during a meeting on the initial report, told the Independent-Journal it is incredible that the consultants will not include estimates of the economic impact of the plan in the final version to be submitted in January.

"You can't approve a plan that doesn't include a cost estimate and a study of economic impacts," said Bettini, adding that he could not vote to adopt the plan without such information.

The consultants Monday suggested the city hire economic consultants to study the plan's financial implications.

Bettini described proposals for mass transit and people movers downtown, and for sprinkling high-income neighborhoods with low and moderate income units as "the kinds of things that aren't going to happen."

Bettini, noting that the initial draft is largely based on the concerns of the city's citizens advisory committee, said that committee doesn't adequately represent the attitudes of the entire city.

He urged all residents to appear at a citizens advisory committee meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall, and at other meetings on the plan, to air viewpoints.

Felony Assault Charges Lowered

Felony charges of assaulting a policeman — filed against two persons arrested in a melee at Hamilton Air Force Base — were reduced to misdemeanors yesterday.

A pre-trial conference for the two, Dianne Williams, 22, of the base, and Estus T. Berry Jr., 24, of Vallejo, will be Nov. 21 in Marin Municipal Court.

Along with Ronald Alexander, 21, and Ray Emmett Madden, 20, both of the base, Mrs. Williams and Berry face additional charges of obstructing officers.

The charges stemmed from a family dispute that grew into a minor brawl on the base Oct. 18, Novato police said.

Manager Hiring Group Will Meet

A citizens committee helping select a new city manager for Mill Valley will meet in closed session tonight at 8 o'clock in the Mill Valley Library board room to review resumes of applicants.

Mayor Jean S. Barnard said the group would look over 12 applications which the city council selected Monday from 80 sent to the city.

Mayor Barnard said the council hopes to have personal interviews with five to 10 finalists on Nov. 24.

Gambling Revenue

CARSON CITY (AP) — Nevada casinoes raked in a record $248 million in July-September revenues, the Nevada Gaming Control board reported yesterday.
